The Past and the Future.

The Pittsburgh Journal, of a late date contains some interesting facts in relation to the rapid increase of the population of the United States, but more particularly in the West and North West, and the change of political power which the census of 1860 will develope, in favor of that portion of the Union. The fact is stated that though the centre of population was near Washington city it has since been gradually, and at a rapid rate, moving westward nearly on a straight line towards Council Bluffs, Iowa. The present centre is said to be near the south-western corner of Pennsylvania, and the next will probably be near Zanesville, Ohio. We suppose that after ten or twenty years more, this line will run nearly due west, on about the 40th parallel of latitude. This would carry it near Springfield, in Illinois, through Northern Missouri and Kansas. It is quite apparent that westward the march of empire takes its way. If, moreover, a Pacific Railroad should be established, an extraordinary impulse would be given to emigration towards the Pacific. New Territories would be organized, additional States would be called into existence. and villages, towns and cities would start up by hundreds, and as if through the agency of magic. This country is yet in its early youth. We are not a century old in a national sense; and judging the future by the past, what is likely to be our condition a century hence, or in 1958? The imagination must be bold and daring that would attempt to foresee or predict. But one melancholy fact connected with the subject, that the millions who now move upon the face of the republic will with a few rare exceptions, have passed to their long resting place. And yet, how many live as if there were no end to human existence. Alas! what shadows we are, and what shadows we pursue. The very growth of this republic forms a forcible illustration of the ever-changing character of men and things. . But the other day, comparatively speaking, the American Declaration of Independence was promulgated to the world, and now, all the "Signers" sleep the last long sleep of death, while the scattered and sparsely populated colonies which they organized into free and independent States, have become one of the mightiest nations on the face of the earth. Nevertheless "passing away" is written upon everthing that EIGHT CHILDREN AT A BIRTH .- About five months since, the wife of Jacob Abbott, living ten miles west of Golconda, Pope county, Ohio, presented her husband with eight pledges of affection at one birth! Four weeks since, when two of them sickened and died. The remaining two are still living and thriving finely. The whole eight were very small specimens of humanity when ushered school room to confer with the Superinteninto the world.

New and Rich Regions.

The Harrisburg Telegraph says that the Territory of Arizona, which has hitherto engaged but little public attention, is likely to prove as attractive to fortune-hunting emigrants as California itself, and that, too, at no distant day. For, according to Lieut. Mowry, who came passenger by the last overregion on the river Gila. The worthy Lieuof silver, and a company formed there obper week. The embryo Territory is immensely rich in mineral wealth, and will rapidly fill up and become a State. So we go. And when Sonora and Chihuahua, both rich in gold, shall be added to our republican family, we will be in a condition to supply mankind with the precious metals, and "offodiuntur opes" will be the industrial motto of | mining tools. our western brethren. It should here be mentioned, en passant, that iron, copper, and and silver, but these are regarded as barely worth notice, when placed along side the "root of all evil." This, however, is a vile libel of the ancients on the rich, brilliant, and shining product of the mines, for it is a charity and in encouraging the arts and manufactures of a country, when in the hands of virtuous, liberal, energetic and worthy

BY THE COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT.

To the Teachers of Huntingdon county :-You are respectfully invited to assemble in a County Institute at Huntingdon, which will open on Monday the 27 inst., and continue three days.

In issuing this, my first call for a County Institute, I am aware of the inconvenience to you,—the tax upon your time and resources; but it is sincerely hoped that you will have nothing to regret in thus assembling to deliberate upon our educational interests, and the advancement of our most interesting professions. The Professional Educator may now magnify his office, and look forward with high hopes, to that just recognition which its own intrinsic merits will ever claim for it. He is the master of mind, morals and learning-the producer of thought-the guardian of queries—the benefactor of his race. If this be true, science, art and discovery should inspire all his efforts; and the love of them should urge him on to the highest en-L. Our Institute will be in the hands of the teachers, for them to render useful and creditable. Experienced teachers and others will be present to lecture upon most interesting subjects. Reports will be read, and laid before the Institute for discussion. Our county is favored with many good educators, several of whom have signified their intention to aid us in this enterprise. I invite you one and the cause your own.

CORRESPONDENCE OF THE GLOBE. Letter from Nebraska Territorv. COLUMBUS, NEBRASKA TERRITORY,) November 5, 1858.

Mr. Lewis:-Enclosed you will find a specimen of Cherry Creek gold, which, being exhibited to your numerous patrons, may induce some of them to seek their fortunes in land mail, there is a marvellously rich gold the newly discovered gold regions of Kansas and Nebraska. The specimen was procured tenant left two hundred and fifty men there, | from Capt. Smith, (formerly of Pennsylvania) all washing or digging for gold. In a conversation that I tained one thousand ounces of the pure metal | had with him, he told me that miners were making from four to ten dollars per day, and that thus far, the labor of the miner has been more of a prospecting nature than anything else. He also told me that twenty dollars per day can be made in the Spring, which is properly the mining season, and by

It is also the road preferred by the great mass of emigrants, and is spoken of very highly by those who have traveled it. Persons wishing to go to the mines should start early, as there will be a general "stampede" for the diggings in the Spring. C. A. S.

> From Washington---Difficulty between Congressmen English and Montgomery,

> WASHINGTON CITY, Dec. 18 .- A difficulty occured this morning between Congress-men English, of Indiana, and Montgomery, of Pennsylvania on Pennsylvania, Avenue. The two members of Congress happened to meet for the first time this session, when Mr. English, extending his hand, said, "How are you, Mr. Montgomery?" Mr. Montgomery withheld his hand and uttered insulting expressions, something like "I don't speak to puppies;" whereupon Mr. English struck him a severe blow over the head, breaking cane to pieces by the blow, and knocking him into the gutter, but not entirely down. Montgomery, on rising, hurled a brick at English, striking him on the boot, but doing no injury to him. Mr. English states to his friends that he was entirely unarmed, and was not aware that Mr. Montgomery had any ill-feeling toward him up to the time of the recontre. Mr. Montgomery, as to strength and size, is superior to Mr.

> Horrible Execution.—The Chinese, among other unique punishments, sometimes sentence a man to be executed by depriving him of sleep. A recent letter from a British resident gives the following account of a Chinese merchant, who, being convicted of murdering his wife, was condemned to this torture :-

"The condemned was placed in prison under the care of three of the police guard, who all, my fellow teachers, to come and make relieved each other every alternate hour, and who prevented the prisoner from falling asleep, night or day. He thus lived for nineteen days without enjoying any sleep. At the commencement of the eighth day, his sufferings were so intense that he implored the authorities to grant him the blessed opportunity of being strangulated, guillotined, burned to death, garrotted, shot, quartered, blown up with gunpowder, or put to death in any conceivable way which their humanity or ferocity could invent. This will give a slight idea of the horrors of death from want of sleep.

Profusion of Gold and Silver .-- The aggregate amount of gold and silver taken from the mines in different parts of the world annually reaches the enormous sum of three hundred and ninety-nine millions. It will natthography; 11 Writing; Arithmetic 10; urally be asked what becomes of this vast sum. The fact is that since the discovery of the vast quantities of gold in California and Australia, the consumption of gold and silver for household purposes has increased in an equal proportion, and valuable plate in the houses of those in good circumstances is now universal in this country. The Scientific American, in giving the yield of these precious metals from the different sources, says, that the amount of gold and silver annually taken from the mines of Europe is valued at twenty-five millions of dollars. In America, the yield is computed to be one hundred and forty-six millions, and Asia produces twentyfive millions. Africa has no silver mines, but produces gold to the amount of nearly three millions of dollars. Australia is also without silver, but produces gold to the large amount of two hundred millions.

> A FIRE SPITTER.—A simple old man named James Nipple, residing near Mifflintown, Pa., was awakened on the night of the 8th inst., by a noise in his bed room, and was no little surprised and alarmed to see a hideous looking ruffian standing by his bed-side and brandishing a huge club over his head. He was so frightened that he lay speechless, until the ruffian said "If you don't give me up your money, every cent of it, I'll spit fire all over your house." The imminent danger with which his premises were threatened, restored to him the faculty of speech, and he quickly gasped out, "Oh, don't burn my house down and I'll give you all my money!" Mr. N. then got up and gave him all his money, amounting, it is said, to between $200 and $300 all in gold and sil ver. In consideration of his kindness, the ruffian then vamosed, without "spitting fire all over the house,"

A Dispensation from the Pope.

The Washington correspondent of the Boston Traveler has the following relating to a dispensation granted by the Pope through American official influence:-"While the papers are full of comments on Gen. Cass' letter of refusal to interfere in the Mortara affair, on the ground that 'it is the setted policy of the United States to abstain from all interference in the internal concerns of other countries,' it may be well to 'ventilate' a rumor now current in this city. It is said that the daughter of a highly respectable family of this city (in which, by the way ex-President Pierce was quite intimate,) took the veil at the convent in the adjacent city of Georgetown, and that after a while she found the vows distasteful, and that by the personal, if not official, interference of President Pierce, Major Lewis Cass, Jr., minister near the Court of Rome, was induced to interest himself in the matter, and by his personal intercession with the Pope, to obtain a 'dispensation,' which has released the young nun from her vows, and has althat time there will be a better supply of lowed her to again enter the world. If this be so, and it has obtained credence among many, it would appear that 'intervention' can be practiced whenever there is sufficient occasion for its exercise."

> A NICE WOMAN .- The wife of Morrissey the prize fighter, who is said to be the daughter of a wealthy man in Troy, N. Y., won $2000 on the result of the fight with Heenan, and his father-in-law won $80,000! A nice family, take them all around! That a loving wife might wish her husband to be successful in whathe undertakes in a decent way is perfectly right and natural, but for to bet on the success of her husband in brutal and blackguard fights is rather an arrangement of "society" that we don't understand. Yet we understand enough to believe that Mrs. Morrisey in a very fashionable, upheaded and brainless, "circle," is considered some, if not more. So wags the world, and the people, it would seem must wag with it, or be lost in the "under fog." A woman betting on a prize fight! Well we give in.

A BEAUTIFUL INCIDENT .- A lady visiting New York city, saw one day, on the side-walk a ragged, cold, and hungry little girl, gazing wistfully at some cake in a shop window. She stopped, and taking the little one by the hand, led her into the store, though she was aware that bread might be better for the child than cake; yet, desiring to gratify the shivering and forlorn one, she bought and gave her the cake she wanted. She then took her to another place where she procured her a shawl and other articles of comfort. The grateful little creature looked the benevolent lady full in the face, and with artless simplicity asked, "Are you God's wife."

A MAN WITH THE HEART ON THE RIGHT SIDE OF HIS BODY .- At Cincinnati, a day or two ago, a man died, who had been for some months an inmate of one of the hospitals and whose disease had exhibited such peculiar and unknown symptoms as to baffle the greatest skill of the best physicians. Under the circumstances, it was deemed advisable to make a post mortem examination, when it was found that in the diaphragm was a large hole, and that the intestines had been forced up and had pressed the heart from its natural position over to the right side of his body, where it had performed its functions for several years; the man himself having been prevented from his daily labor, only for the last few months.

Judge Ebenezer Lane recently brought suit against the Western Baptist Educational Society, to recover $80,000 for legal services in prosecutnig a claim against the Western Baptist Theological Institute, for the recovery of property worth $200,000. The case was tried at the late term of the Superior Court of Cincinnati. Able counsel were employed on both sides. The jury returned a verdict of only $7,000 in favor of the Judge. It seems that juries are not disposed to allow lawyers to extort exorbitant fees from their Preaching in the theatres in New York, is drawing crowds, simply from its novelty, for it is said that while the boxes of the opera house and theatres are filled, the churches that hold evening services, are showing a beggarly account of empty pews.

MARRIED,

On the 9th ult., by Rev. B. F. Beck, Mr. Lewis Putt and Miss Elizabeth Dean, both of Stonerstown, Bedford co., Pa. "May union, love, and dear esteem, In every action glow, Till death shall sever the tender cord

That binds you here below.'

On the morning of the 10th inst., in McConnellstown, after a brief illness, Henry, son of Dr. Martin Orlady, aged 8 years and 5 months. The subject of this brief notice was one of those singularly interesting children, whom to see, is to admire and love. Polite and manly in his manners, kind and obliging in his intercourse with his little companions, he was beloved and cherished by them.

We loved him because he was never known to indulge in the rude and violent sports too common, even with children of his age-and the tender brotherly care which he manifested towards his little sisters. His gentle, confiding disposition, combined to make him a favorite with every one who knew him. He was a regular attendant upon the German Reformed Sabbath School, in his native town, and long may it be, when shall fade from our memories, the beautiful scene presented every Sabbath morning by HENRY walking with his little sisters to his seat in the school room. Long will it be ere we shall look upon that little vacant seat without a feeling of sadness that one so young and so noble, should have been so early called away.

SATURDAY, Dec. 18.

SEEDS—The demand for Cloverseed is rather better today, and about 3000 bushels sold at $5 50@5 75 $\overline{\text{B}}$ bushel. Prime lots are rather scarce, and generally held above the views of buyers.

FLOUR—The Flour market has undergone no change, and continues in a quiet condition. There is very little shipping demand, and the transactions are confined to about 300 bbls good extra at $5 62½; 250 bbls catra family at $6; 250 bbls fancy at $7 25, and in lots for the wants of the home trade at $5 12½@5 25 $\overline{\text{B}}$ bbl for common and good brands; $5 50@5 75 for extras, and $5 87½ up to $7 25 for extra family and fancy lots. Superfine is freely offered at our lowest quotations. But little is doing in Kye Flour or Corn Meal. The former is held at $4, and the latter at $3 25 $\overline{\text{B}}$ barrel.

Grain—There is not much Wheat offering, and prices stationary; sales to the extent of 4500 bus are reported at 123@125c for fair, and 127@128c for prime reds; the latter for Delaware, including some small lots of white at 135@145c, the latter for choice. Rye is wanted and sells at 80c. Corn is better with but little offering to-day, and about 3000 bus new yellow sold at 70@72c, chiefly at the latter rate for prime dry Delaware affoat. Oats are dull; we quote them at 44@45c.
