WHAT WE WANT IN HUNTINGDON .- We sec, by a number of our exchanges, that in many places, the young men are establishing public libraries, for the benefit of all who wish to improve their minds, and prepare themselves for something useful.

We are glad to see such a spirit manifested, and would be more pleased still, if the young men of Huntingdon would go and do likewise. How much better it would be for young men, and older ones too, if there was a public Library in our town. If the young, middle aged, and old, would contribute a little, a library could easily be established here. You would not miss the amount required at all. How much better it would be for young men to devote their time and talents in pouring over some good book, instead of lounging about Lager beer shops these long evenings, and making night hideous with their blasphemy and unearthly yells. We sincerely hope that this may not pass by unnoticed, but that some energetic man may take hold of it, and try at least, what can be done. We know that our young men are too ambitious to let Huntingdon fall behind our neighboring towns, in the way of intellect. Now that the long evenings are upon us, is the time to begin. We know that the young men are all willing to go into the enterprise, and we can assure them that it will not be a fruitless one. We want to see the oldor ones take part in it also, and after it is in full operation, it will be an easy matter to keep it going. In order to bear expenses, every member should be taxed so much every month, and that would go to keeping the room in order, paying the rent, and to purchasing more books, and by that means, in a short time, we would be able to boast of as good and as large a library, as any of our neighboring towns or villages.

nor At the annual election held on the 3d instant, by the stockholders of the Huntingdon Gas Company, William Dorris, Jr., John Scott, Wm. P. Orbison, B. E. McMurtrie and J. Simpson Africa, were re-elected as Managers of said Company, for the current year. The board was organized by the selection of Mr. Dorris as President, and Mr. Africa as Secretary and Treasurer.

J. SIMPSON AFRICA, Esq.-The numerous friends of this gentleman will be gratified to learn that his services have been secured in the Senate for the present session. He is the only gentleman of the Transcribing Clerks of last session retained, which shows that Senators can appreciate abilities of the first order and gentlemanly deportment.

poor and destitute, who have not even a house to shelter them from the storm, and who wander from place to place in quest of charity, in this cold and uncharitable world .--Those who have plenty and to spare, of this world's goods, should not be niggardly in bestowing it upon those who are in poverty, and at the point of starvation. People who live in the country, and are unacquainted with city life, are ignorant of the destitute conditions in which thousand of their fellowcreatures are in; but it is nevertheless true, there are thousands at the present time, who have not tasted a morsel of bread for days, and have not the means wherewith to buy even a mouthful to satisfy their hunger.-Why, then, should not we, who are more fortunate. be thankful for what we have, though it be but little, and share with them who have none? A CONSUMMATE SCOUNDREL .- PASS IIIM AROUND.-A fellow by the name of James Groover, from Harrisburg, where he has respectable parents living, has been stopping in this place for several weeks, but left very unexpectedly between two days last week, after swindling many of our citizens to a considerable total. He came here with a wife, rented a house, patronized every body willing to run the risk of getting paid sometime, and wound up his business the evening before he left, by borrowing money from every body green enough to believe he might be an honest man. He left with his wife in the western night train, and may now be living upon the fat of the land in some town on the Road, at the expense of our greenies. He will play at the same game wherever he goes, and we would advise our brother editors in every direction to post the scoundrel, that he may find no opportunity to deceive a neople likely to listen to smooth yarns. Any information of his whereabouts will be thankfully received at this office.

for Our slumbers were agreeably disturbed on Saturday night last, by three young gentlemen of our town, who gave us a specimen of their vocal abilities in music. We would return the compliment if we could .----Hope we may soon hear of them again, and tarry with us a little longer.

The Report of Messrs. A. B. Brumbough and Milton Sangaree, on the utility of introducing the higher branches of an English education into our Common Schools, made to the Teachers' Institute, will be published next week.
