THE GLOBE.

Huntingdon, Wednesday, May 11, 1859.

LOCAL & PERSONAL.

Two of our dark and benighted " evil spirits," requests us to tender their thanks to Miss C.S., for the beautiful bouquet they received at her hands.

Ice Creams and lemon ades are now all the go. Oh! for a plunge in some vast Old Sol, these warm days.

We received last week, from Mr. Cunningham, a present of two fine shad, and no questions asked. We hope his efforts to acour citizens.

The Mercersburg Classis of the German Reformed Church, will meet in this place, on next Friday evening. The opening sermon will be preached by the Rev. M. Apple. Services will commence at 7½ o'clock. The Public are respectfully invited to attend.

We have been out on the huntof locals, but got nary line. We visited all the justices' offices, and shops, and every place else we could think of in town, but there was none to be had, and we are just now thinking of adopting the plan they used to in olden times, when they were scarce of copy, that of leaving a blank place in our paper, for the children to write on, to amuse themselves. Good idea, isn't it?

EXCELSIOR ICE CREAM SALOON, -Our friend, Wm. F. Shaw, has opened out an Ice Cream Saloon, in the building formerly occupied by the engineers, on the corner of Allegheny and Smith streets, where he is prepared every evening to serve up Ice Cream. Shaw is a clever, whole-souled fellow, and makes Cream that is not surpassed in town. If our readers doubt our word, we advise them to give Mr. Shaw a call. We give our word for it, that we got as big a saucer and as good a one, as can be had in this nee' o' woods, anywhere. His Saloon is tastefully arranged, and everything is in a style suited to the taste of the most fastidious. Give the Col. a

Mr. Editor.—Another week has rolled around, and I again find it is time I should be "up and a doing," in order to be in time for your paper. Everything has went on smoothly since my last, as far as I am informed. The sun has continued to rise and set, and the moon and stars have not failed to give us light, after the sun has gone down behind the western horizon, just as it always has. As usual, I still continue to retire to bed at night and rise early in the morningthe cars run according to schedule time-the merchants open and close their stores, morning and evening, just as they always didthe "Excelsior Band" still enliven our citimusic-the "Continentals" give us some of their pretty songs, in the "we sma' hours of the night," and last but not least, the Globe still comes to me regular every week, as it ever has. Long may it live, the Bald Hornet notwithstanding.

I have been round some of late. For curiosity's sake, I went to the trouble of counting the number of lager beer shops, confectionaries &c., in our borough, and find that they amount, in the aggregate, to about twenty-five. Now, if that isn't enough for a onehorse town, I'll cave. However, every person must live, and each one tries to live the easi-

The Pennsylvania Bailroad Company are having iron bridges put up all along the road in place of the wooden ones now in use, and on Sunday last, as I was strolling up the railroad, I came across about twenty men, all at work, completing the bridge just above town, in order to let the trains pass on Monday, as usual, without detention.

Warrior Ridge was on fire during the whole of last week, and was very destructive in its course, burning everything before it, and would have been much more destructive, had we not been favored with a shower on Monday evening, which completely checked the devouring element in its mad career.

> The President Eulogized for his Endorsement of a Congressional Slave

The Athens (Georgia,) Southern Banner, of the 28th ult., contains the proceedings of a Democratic meeting, in Clark county, Georgia, to appoint delegates to a State Convention, and accompanies its report by a sketch of a speech delivered by Judge James Jackson, the member of Congress from that district, at the meeting referred to. We have taken from it the following extract:

"He (Judge Jackson) then endorsed the President as sound on the great question of our constitutional rights, sounder than any man he knew at the North, holding the exlreme Southern doctrine, THÁT IF THE TER-RITORIAL LEGISLATURE REFUSE TO PROTECT THE SLAVEHOLDER IN THE TERRITORY OF THE UNION, CONGRESS OUGHT TO DO IT. This judgment of the President was that of an impartial mind, for he had but little intercourse with him at Washington, and the President did not seem to him to possess that cordiality of manner which was calculated to draw the personal affections of men to him. He-Judge Jacksition of the Administration on the slavery question, as understood and endorsed by the Southern Democratic members of Congress among their constituents. All the flimsy disguises and subtle mystifications thrown around the subject by the Northern organs of the Administration are boldly east aside in the South, and the President is recommended and supported there on the express ground of his endorsement of Congressional action to protect slavery in the Territories. The controversy in regard to a Congressional slave code was opened by a bold declaration on the part of Senator Brown, that the time had gone by when men should cheat or be cheatzens occasionally, with their soul-stirring | ed on this subject; and now, since the Adcally eulogized before the Southern audiences on the ground of its determined advocacy of such a code, the antecedents of Mr. Buchanan indicate very clearly what course he would pursue in any contingency where antagonisic pledges had been made in his behalf to the people of different sections of the Union. A few loud threats from Southern fire-eaters are quite sufficient to bring him trembling at their knees in abject submission; and it is perfectly evident that the endorsement of a Congressional slave code forms an inflexible feature of the policy of the present Administration, and the chief reliance upon which it rests to commend itself to the confidence and favor of the reople of the South. Judge Jackson speaks of the Presidential opinions in no doubtful terms, and we cannot doubt that he has full warrant for the statement he has authoritatively made. It is peculiarly significant from the fact that he represents he district in which Hon. Howell Cobb formerly resided; and the Banner, is, we believe, the home organ of that gentleman.

Another feature of his speech is not unworthy of attention. It will be seen that, not approving of the construction of the Pacific Railroad or the revision of the tariff, Judge Jackson frankly avows his antagonism to the Presidential recommedations in regard to these measures, just as the Democratic orators of nearly every Southern State are in the habit of doing; but there are no thunders launched against him for this act of rebellion. The post-masters and other Federal officials twenty candidates seeking the nomination of his district do not dare to form a Danite for County Treasurer, and about fifteen for organization against him, notwithstanding Sheriff-fourteen of the latter will be "disap- his avowed hostility to Executive doctrines. In the address of the Administration bolters of Illinois, to which we referred on Monday, a failure to comply with the demands of the King James, instead of tendering me the President on any important subject, is protwo thousand, to start a Democratic paper in nounced to be treason, meriting expulsion from the Democratic ranks. If this doctrine is correct, there is nobody, at this moment, preference to another more worthy function- in the party but James Buchanan and the ary. I'm ruined. After sacrificing principle | men in his official employment. If blind and everything else, to obtain it, he (Jim) obedience to every Executive edict is the test of Democracy, there are not enough Democrats to form a single Congressional district. The whole party is in a state of rebellion, either on the tariff, the Pacific Railroad, the neutrality laws, the purchase of Cuba, the Utah war, the Kansas question, or the Congressional slave-code proposition. A lunatic will condemn the whole world as demented before he will acknowledge his own insanity; by the success of our farmers. They are the and the eulogists of the Administration have a similar faith, which denounces the whole Democratic party as rebellious, rather than admit the possibility that the President is TEDICAL SCIENCE. The history of "HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS," the most remarkable medicine of the day, and the many cures that have been performed with it in cases of LIVER COMPLAINT, DYSPEPSIA, NERVOUS DEBILITY, and diseases arising from a disordered liver or stomach, place it among the most astonishing discoveries that have taken place in the medical would. The diseases that high these litters are appliedly are so universal, that stomach, place it among the most astonishing discoveries that have taken place in the medical world. The discases to which these Bitters are applicable are so universal, that there are but few of our friends who may not test their virtues in their own families or circle of acquaintances, and prove to their own satisfaction that there is at least one remedy among the many advertised medicines, deserving the public commendation. It is a fact that, in the minds of many persons, a prejudice exists against what are called Patent Medicines; but why should this prevent you resorting to an article that has such an array of testimeny to support it as Hoofland's German Bitters? Physicians prescribe it, Why should you discard it? Judges, usually considered men of tulent, have and do use it in their own families. Why should you reject it? Clergymen, and those the most eminent, take it; why should not you? Let not your prejudice usurp your reason, to the everlasting injury of your health; if you are sick, and require a medicine, try these Bitters.

These Bitters are prepared and sold by Dr. C. M, Jackson, No. 418 Arch street, Philadelphia, Pa, and by druggists and storekeepors; in overy town and village in the United States, Canadas, West Indies, and South America, at 75 cents per bottle. See that the signature of C. M. Jackson is on the wrapper of each bottle.

Gents: I am requested by Mr. T. A. C. Cochrane, of this place, to say to you that on the morning of the 4th inst., about 3 o'clock, his store took fire, and the entire stock of goods was destroyed. The heat became so suddenly intense that none of the goods could possibly be saved; but fortunately his books and papers, which were in one of your Champion Safes, were all preserved perfectly. And well they may be called Champion, for during the whole conflagration there was one incessant pouring of flame directly upon the safe which contained them. And still, upon opening it, the inside was found to be scarcely warm, while the outside was most severely scorched. Yours truly, TOTICE TO MILL OWNERS. The undersigned has purchased the right of Runtington and Blair counties, for the DIRECT ACTION TURBINE WATER WHEEL, of Timothy Rose, patented September 20, 1850. This wheel has been successfully introduced in all the Eastern States, and some of the Western, and wherever introduced, has proven to be the most efficient and economical wheel for the use of water, that has ever been invented for Saw Mills, and driving other machinery where there is a quick matter required. efficient and economical wheel for the use of water, that has ever been invented for Saw Mills, and driving other machinery where there is a quick motion required.

The important features of this wheel for saw mills, are briefly these: 1st. It is made of cast iron, and for that reason is much less liable to be troubled with ice, as the cast iron generates heat much quicker than the wooden wheel, and not liable to decay. 2d. Its cheapness of construction and the amount of effective power obtained from it. 3d. The manner in which they are constructed, being unlike all other wheels for saw mills, making it evident that they are easy of access under any circumstances for repairs, or anything else. The shafts and wheels can be taken out of their place without removing any part of the plum. 4. Its great per centage of power to the water expended, and its uniformity of per centage and power, when the gate is but partially raised.

This wheel claims a superiority over all other water wheels now in use for saw mills, inasmuch as a much larger per centage is saved in the power of propulsion, and works equally well under either high or low heads, and is a valuable power for those who find it necessary to economize in water.

All further information will be cheerfully given by the subscriber at Potter's Mill, Centre county, Pa., who is prepared to put in wheels at short notice and on reasonable terms.
