T. P. Love has just opened a new arrival of fresh Groceries.

David Grove has opened out in handsome style, down street. He has a fine assortment of goods.

A CONDUCTOR KILLED .- Mr. Lewis Dearmet, a conductor on the local freight train, was killed near Altoona, on Saturday last.

Try our neighbor Thomas' Ice Cream. The specimen presented to us for inspection, we put down as number one, and we consider ourselves a good judge of the article. Call and try a saucer.

Another of our favorites. Hennie Wallace, made us a handsome present of early vegetables last week. Such little acts of kindness, speak volumes for the future happiness and usefulness of all little ladies.

The Canal between this place and Hollidaysburg is doing rather an unprofitable business. On an average there is about one boat a week, passes this point from Hollidaysburg. The tax-payers may well be rejoiced that they are relieved of the expense of keeping the ditch in navigable order.

A MISTAKE.-We announced in our last, that a Mrs. John Richardson, of Woodcock Valley, had committed suicide by hanging herself in the garret of her residence. Since then, we have learned that our informant was in error, as to the name-it should have been Mrs. Solomon Garner, of Penn township.

MAD Dog .- We are informed that a dog, supposed to be mad, was shot in Portstown on Sunday last. To prevent any serious damage from these brutes, would it not be advisable for our town fathers, to see that the dog law is put in force, this warm weather, that occurrences of this kind may be avoided.

MILITARY .- The military of this county, will meet in this place on Friday, for the purpose of drill and inspection. Hope there will be a good turn out, as we want, very badly, to see a crowd in town once more, and especially, such a crowd as is coming on Friday-the bone and sinew of the county. Come one, come all!

SEASONABLE REMEDY .- The following is recommended for sunburn: Take two drachms of borax, one drachm of Roman alum, one drachm of camphor, half an ounce of sugar candy and a pound of ox gall. Mix and stir well for ten minutes or so, and repeat this, stirring three or four times a day, for a fort-night, till it appears clear and transparent. Strain through blotting paper and bottle for use.

This is May. Beautiful May, and we have heard of but one party, as yet, which has come off. Why is it, that our young folks do not take more delight in congregating together and having a "good time generally." It is nothing but sheer selfishness. Although we would not expect to attend such parties, yet we like our young folks to keep up with other towns and the times. Perhaps the fair creatures are afraid of getting sunburned .-If you are, look over this column and you will find a remedy which is highly spoken of by our cotemporaries, so you need'nt stop on that score. Get up some kind of a party, so that we can make a local of it. That's what we want. Nuf sed.

our usually quiet town was thrown into quite an excitement, by the announcement that a married man of this place, was about to elope with a young lady from Tyrone City, Blair county. The facts of the case are briefly these:-

On Wednesday night last, a respectable young lady, named Crowther, from Tyrone City, arrived here in the half-past then o'clock train from the west, to meet a certain fast young man, known as David S. Africa, of the perpetuation of her national existence. this place, and who had a wife here at the time, (from whom he had been separated.)-Before leaving her home, Miss Crowther packed her "kit,"-donned a pair of green spectacles and a veil, &c., in order to disguise herself, and then took the train for this place, (Africa having sent her the money, to pay her car fare, &c.,) stopped at a hotel in town, until the next morning, and the loving pair were about taking the nine o'clock cars, for the east, when the girl's father, (who had come down in the train they were about to embark in,) stepped up to his daughter and requested that she should go with him, thus in a room, and went in search of the scamp who had decoved his daughter from the path of rectitude, but he had flown, no one knew whither. At half-past two P. M. he took his daughter home again in the emigrant train, a wiser if not a better girl. Africa being frustrated in his design, and not being satis fied, for spite, he goes to his wife, makes up with her, and started for Ohio on Friday romp, but thank Heaven who has given her health to be so. It is better than a distorted spine or a hectic cheek. Little girls ought to be great romps-better than paying a doctor's bill for them. Where is the gymnasium that should be attached to every school?-That's coming, too, like other improvements.

SHAMEFUL.—On Saturday last, one of Africa's dark sons took it into his head that his wife deserved a whipping, whereupon, he procured a cowhide, and whipped her home, giving her a cut every step she took. We are not informed of the misdemeanor she was guilty of, but the husband says she is subject to crazy spells, and when in that state, leaves home and wanders about, and he was inflicting the punishment for the purpose of curing her.

FOURTH OF JULY.—As yet, we hear of no movements being made to celebrate the Fourth. We see by our exchanges, that preparations are being made almost everywhere, and why should we be behind? For our part, we would like to see an immense gathering here on that day. Are the Sabbath Schools going to celebrate it? We have heard nothing of it, if they are. Come now, hurry up the cakes somebody.

A GREAT INVENTION FOR THE WOMEN.--We had in use on Monday, the Emancipator Washing Machine, manufactured by our townsmen Ball & Peightal. It done its work to the entire satisfaction of a good judge of clean washing. It is easy to work, and does not injure the clothing as much as washing by hand. This machine will certainly find a place in every family where washing is a labor. The machines can be seen at Ball & Peightal's shop, on Washington street, near the Court House. Call and see them-try them and be convinced.

The European War---For What is it Waged.

The present impending struggle among the nations of Europe was sprung so suddenly upon the public that but a very imperfect opinion has as yet been formed in relation to its ultimate design and object. To arrive at such an opinion, it is necessary to weigh properly the characters and notions of those who caused it. While there are unquestionably several potentates we have been instrumental in bringing on the crisis, it is yet very evident that two men were the prime movers in the preliminary strife, and these two will doubtless be the leaders of the respective beligerent parties however they may he informed.

Francis Joseph, Emperor of Austria, and Louis Napoleon, Emperor of France, are the instigators and leaders of this contest. The Emperor of Austria has by no means an enviable reputation in America. During the Hungarian revolt in 1848, and the Italian insurrection of that and the year 1849, he was concededly the leader in the despotic movements which crushed out the people's hope for liberty. All intelligent readers will remember the atrocities committed in those contests by the Austrian soldiery, led by the butcher Haynau, and the cruel treatment which was bestowed upon the defeated patriwhich was bestowed upon the defeated patri-ots of Hungary and Italy. Hundreds of the Brigade Inspector's Office at Cassville, within the these were imprisoned, and many were executed-murdered, we might say-in cold blood. Hundreds more were driven into exile and sought safety in the United States .-Even women and children were not exempted from the persecution and cruelties of this Francis Joseph and his minions. After he had succeeded in destroying every spark of liberty which burned within his empire, he quartered an immense army among the vanquished people, which army was permitted to exercise the most unbridled licentiousness and rapine. Instances are recorded, where husbands, fathers, and brothers were tortured and executed for daring to attempt the rescue of a wife, a daughter, or a sister from the arms of an Austrian soldier. These traits of character of the Emperor of Austria being known, it can readily be understood that the masses of Italy received no encouragement from him when they dared, in later years, again to whisper the word "liberty." Every village throughout the Every village throughout the portions of that beautiful country over which loated the Austrian eagle was a garrison for Austrian troops, and the larger cities were, in a manner, kept under martial law by the same detestable power. All this had, of course, an ulterior object in view. It was ELOPEMENT .- On Thursday morning last, | not for the mere purpose of exercising military power that Francis Joseph thus stationed and encouraged his troops. He hoped by these means to destroy utterly and entirely the nationality of the Italians; to reduce them so low that revolt on their part would be hopeless, and thus completely Austrianize them and merge them in his empire. By this means the foundation would be laid for a vast empire, rivalling in extent that of ancient Germany. Such a course of policy was nat-urally galling to the Italian people, and hence it was that Sardinia determined to resist further encroachments, and make a stand for

Louis Napoleon, of France, was governed by very similar ambitious views. He held his position on the French throne by a very weak tenure. He felt that the French nobility despised him; that the Republicans hated him; and he knew that his only chance for retaining power was by means of his army. This, to be effective, must be used; and as it was not safe to attack England, (a project long meditated,) the only field open for him was Italy. There he already had a foothold by means of his French Guard in Rome; and the marriage of his nephew with a Princess of Sardinia gave him a natural ally in the latter power. Besides, the re-construction of principalities and provinces, would afford a fine chance for establishing one of the scions of the great Napoleon was a fine chance for establishing one of the scions of the great Napoleon was a fine chance for establishing one of the scions of the great Napoleon was a fine chance for establishing one of the scions of the great Napoleon was a fine chance for establishing one of the scions of the great Napoleon was a fine chance for each chanc frustrating the evil designs of Monsieur Africa. The girl's father then locked her up of the great Napoleon upon a throne, and by Monsieur & Co., Shorb. Stewart & Co., G. & J. H. Shoenberger, Shorb. Shorb. Stewart & Co., G. & J. H. Shoenberger, Shorb. Sh a Napoleonic dynasty in Europe. Such James Gardner, bright chances could not be overlooked, and hence the war. The interests of the two Fisher & McMurtrie, scheming, ambitious despots clashed, and berent with strife; millions of treasure must b. D. Dunn & Co., be squandered. be squandered; business must be destroyed, and blood must flow like water. A contest thus waged can produce but little good to the parties interested. The age has gone by when men, even though wearing crowns, could say to each other, "take thou the West, and I will take the East." People Joseph Reigger,

ROMPING.—Never punish a girl for being think for themselves, and it may be that the present struggle will give liberty to some who are now in bondage. No true lover of human progress can desire the furtherance of the despotic power of either France or Austria. Both alike are enemies to the development of popular freedom, and both alike are selfish and cruel. All that the true philanthropist can hope for in the present contest, is that the oppressed masses may rise against both tyrants, and secure for themselves independence and liberty.—Philadelphia Evening

TEDICAL SCIENCE. The history of "HOOPLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS," the most remarkable medicine of the day, and the many cures that have been performed with it in cases of LAVER COMPLAINT, DYSPEPSIA, NERVOUS DEBILITY, and diseases arising from a disordered liver or stomach, place it among the most astonishing discoveries that have taken place in the medical world. The diseases to which these Bitters are applicable are so universal, that there are but few of our friends who may not test their virtues in their own families or circle of acquaintances, and prove to their own satisfaction that there is at least one remedy among the many advertised medicines, descriving the public commendation. It is a fact that, in the ving the public commendation. It is a fact that, in the minds of many persons, a prejudice exists against what are called Patent Medicines; but why should this prevent you resorting to an article that has such an array of testimeny to support it as Hoofland's German Bitters? Physicians prescribe it, Why should you discard it? Judges, usually considered men of talent, have and do use it in their own families. Why should you reject it? Clergymen, and those the most eminent, take it: why should not you? Let not your prejudice usurp your reason, to the everlasting injury of your health; if you are sick, and require a medicine, try these Bitters.

LATE FIRE AT DUDUQUE, IOWA,

LATE FIRE AT DUTUQUE, 10WA,

DUBUQUE, Jan. 7, 1859.

Gents: I am requested by Mr. T. A. C. Cochrane, of this place, to say to you that on the morning of the 4th inst. about 3 o'clock, his store took fire, and the entire stock of goods was destroyed. The heat became so suddenly intense that none of the goods could possibly be saved; but fortunately his books and papers, which were in one of your Champion Safes, were all preserved perfectly. And well they may be called Champion, for during the whole conflagration there was one incessant pouring of flame directly upon the safe which contained them. And still, upon opening it, the inside was found to be scarcely warm, while the outside was most severely scorched. Yours truly,
