THE GLOBE.

Huntingdon, Wednesday, June 22, 1859

LOCAL & PERSONAL.

Broad Top Coal Trade.
Huntingdon and Broad Top Railroad. Amount of Coal shipped for week ending Wednesday June 15, '59, 27,785 tons. Am't shipped previously this year, since Jan. 1, 1859, 1,626,611 tons.
Total amount shipped this year, " 55,438 " Amount shipped to same date last year, 36,253 " Increase 19,185 "

HUNTINGDON IMPROVEMENTS.—The new steam grist-mill being erected by Harrison & Mattern, we are informed will be completed in a few weeks.

The bark and sumac mill, being erected by Horatio G. Fisher, will be completed and ready for the trade in good time.

Mr. John Read is putting up a very neat and comfortable brick dwelling on Hill street. Maj. James Steel will soon take down the building he now occupies on Railroad street, and put up upon the same ground a large brick.

Mr. E. Bartol is putting up a comfortable dwelling, on Washington street.

Mr. W. McMurtrie will soon commence to put up a stone building on the old "locust corner."

There are also other smaller improvements going on in every direction.

An additional number of gas lamp posts are going up, and we are informed that it is the intention of our borough fathers to give us light.

THE YOUNG AMERICAN LANCERS.—We are pleased to learn that some fifteen or twenty of our boys, between the ages of twelve and eighteen, are preparing to have a good time on the Fourth. They have organized a company of the above caption, and are now being drilled by Corporal Stewart, who knows how to do it, as he served a long time in Uncle Sam's army. They purpose drilling and parading on horseback, on the Fourth of July. Their dress will consist of black pants, with red stripes, white shirt, trimmed with blue, a belt around the waist, and glazed caps. In our opinion we think the dress the most suitable one they could have selected, and will look very pretty. They will carry a lance in the right hand, resting on the right foot. We like to see such spirit manifested amongst our boys, and we hope they will not let it fall through, but come out on the Fourth, arrayed in all the splendor of American soldiers. Put them through, Joe.

We notice in many of our exchanges, an item taken from the Huntingdon Journal, which, if believed, will have the effect of greatly injuring the travel on the Broad Top Railroad. The item states that a locomotive got off the track, while on the high bridge at Stonerstown. We are assured by persons who should know, that there never has been a locomotive off the track, either on the bridges or trestle work of the road, and that it is just as safe to travel over this road as any other in the State. Every part of the road is now in the very best order for safe travel, and we are gratified to learn, that the travel has greatly increased the present season.

HOPE THEY HAD A GOOD TIME.—While up the country on Thursday last, we noticed a party of some fifteen young ladies on a "bust." They were received on the morning train at Spruce Creek, and landed at Tyrone, where they put in the day—can't say how they behaved there. At a late hour in the evening, they were again received in the cars and safely returned to their starting point. A livelier party we never saw, and we hope they had a good time generally. If we were "out of the harness," we might be permitted to say, that we did not believe there could be as many pretty girls scared up in that neighborhood.

THE CEMETERY.—During our perambulations on Saturday last, we strolled up the hill to the Cemetery, and were surprised at the amount of care being taken of that sacred place, by our borough fathers. It is really a beautiful place, and we love to visit such places sometimes, although it brings back to one's mind the memory of some loved and dear one, who has been laid there to await the sounding of Gabriel's trumpet, to summon them to the bar of God. After wandering around for some time, reading the inscriptions carved on the marble slabs, we wended our way homeward, thinking to ourselves how sweet is life, and how sad a thing it is to die.

TO CORRESPONDENTS.—Almost every week, we receive communications from different parts of the county, but in nine cases out of ten, too late for publication. We would here mention the fact to those who wish to correspond for our paper, that they must mail their letters, so that we will get them on the Saturday previous to our publication day, and written on only one side of the sheet, and accompanied by the author's real name. Our correspondents will please bear this in mind.

On Saturday evening last, a fellow having no fear of the law, or of breaking the necks of pedestrians passing along the streets, drove at break-neck speed up and down Hill street, in a one-horse dash. This is another nuisance that is not tolerated in any other town but ours, and should be stopped at once.

We learn that a cow belonging to a colored man living near Mill Creek, was killed on Friday morning last, by the fast line going east.

A CURIOSITY.—We have in our possession an old "shipplaster," printed in 1772, presented to us by Mr. Jacob Goodman. It reads as follows:

TWO SHILLING AND SIX-PENCE.
According to an Act of General Assembly of Pennsylvania, passed in the Twelfth Year of the Reign of his Majesty GEORGE the Third.
Dated the 3d Day of April Anno Dom. 1772.
HALF-A-CROWN.
Sam. Howell, Junr., Thos. Fisher, J. Pemberton.

On the back of the note is printed:
To Counterfeit is DEATH.
Printed by D. Hall and W. Sellers, 1772.

BROAD TOP CITY HOTEL.—This magnificent House is now open for visitors. It is located on the top of Broad Top mountain at the terminus of the Shoup's Run Branch of the Huntingdon and Broad Top Railroad. Mr. Morrison, the gentlemanly proprietor will make all visitors feel at home. We understand there will be "a good time generally" there on the 4th. The luxuries of the season will be served up in the best style.

SAVE YOUR PLUMS.—We have been informed by Mr. Christian Long, that for several years the curculio has destroyed all his plums. This spring he placed green elder upon all parts of his tree, and the result has been the complete banishment of this destructive insect. Don't neglect to try the experiment.

THE WARM SPRINGS.—We understand that Mr. John R. Herd, proprietor of the Warm Springs, five miles from this place, is now prepared for the reception of visitors. The buildings are large, and visitors may expect to find the best accommodations.

We understand that the good people of Cassville, are making some move toward celebrating the Fourth of July. The ladies, as we are told, intend giving a festival, and it is expected that a pretty large crowd will be attracted thither.

STRAWBERRIES AND CREAM.—Friend Shaw, at the Excelsior Saloon, opposite the Exchange Hotel, continues to supply visitors with the very best Strawberries and Cream. Give him a call if you want something good.

The Pictorial Edition of Webster's Unabridged Dictionary, just published by J. B. Lippincott & Co., Phila., is for sale at Lewis' Book Store.

AMUSEMENTS FOR CHILDREN.—"The Pet Alphabet"—"Big and Little A B C," with Picture Bricks—for sale at Lewis' Book Store.

LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.

MR. EDITOR:—Tell it not in Gath, proclaim it not in the streets of Huntingdon, that I, the inimitable of all inimitables, did receive on Thursday last, from Miss M., of Petersburg, the prettiest, the loveliest, the dearest, the sweetest smelling, and altogether, the most charming Bouquet that has ever fell into the hands of a poor reporter like me.

It came down in the nine o'clock train, and was handed me by a friend, who is not the author of my letters, but is a candidate for County Treasurer. I am not acquainted with the lady myself, but my friend is. So you see, Mr. Editor, that I am in a quandary, as to how to go about expressing my thankfulness to the lady, for her kind remembrance of me poor creatures, who have to rack our brains to enlighten the people, who look to us for all they want to know. However, let me do it up in this wise:—

Dear Miss M.—For the beautiful Bouquet which you sent me, you will please accept the sincere thanks of an entire stranger, with a wish that your life may be a long and happy one, and if you are not married, I hope you may be soon. If you are, so much the better. May your husband be all to you, that you could wish him to be, and may prosperity and happiness ever attend both of you.

and in the meantime, may you always remember the printer. I know you must be pretty, or else you could not arrange a collection of flowers so tastefully, for pretty ladies generally have a taste for flowers. As I write, the sweet perfume arises from off the lovely flowers, and when I attempt to express my heartfelt thankfulness, my pen refuses to do its bidding, and my thoughts wander to your side.

It is with no little regret, Mr. Editor, that I announce to your town readers and the citizens in general, that the morals of our town are in a deplorable condition. On Sunday last, it was stated in one of our Churches, and truthfully too, that there is more sin and wickedness in our borough, than in any other town of its size in the State. Lewd men and women are more numerous than can be conceived by the innocent ones. Even the drivers and fighting men of the Circus that exhibited here two weeks ago, declared that it was the worst place they had ever visited. This is truly a deplorable state of affairs. In the name of all that's good, why is this tolerated by our authorities? Why do they not see to it at once? This is the last time I shall ever write of the morals of our town, and I implore the authorities to work a reform by some means or others, for I fear lest it will become my sad duty to chronicle a horrible murder committed in our midst. A decent man or woman cannot any longer walk our streets, without the fear of being insulted.—I call on the Burgess and Town Council to enact laws for a reformation, and then see that they are enforced, irrespective of persons.

EX-REPORTER.
P. S.—As I intend taking a trip far west as well I won't say where, but you can imagine, I will not be able to furnish your readers with a letter next week.

EX-R.

CASSVILLE, June 10, 1859.
Mr. Editor:—It has long been a matter of regret to your correspondent, that this interesting little village has been left without representation in the press of the county. County papers, if the name has any significance, are legitimate media for the circulation of county news; but so long as the different portions of the county are not represented by resident reporters, the people fail to realize the full measure of advantage to which the circulation of these papers may be turned. Influenced by these considerations, and knowing that the surest method of accomplishing anything is to set about it, I have determined to assume the responsibility of collecting whatever items of interest may transpire in this vicinity for the purpose of giving them publicity. If the design meet your approval you may set me down as Cassville Correspondent.

Reserving a contemplated sketch of the topography of Cassville and vicinity for a future communication, I shall at present, note only current events. In humble submission to the invariable practice of all ages and nations, I place first on the list, that prolific and exhaustless subject, the weather. Description, it is to be feared, is impracticable.—If we have not enjoyed, during the past week, a spell of weather, the weather has unquestionably had a number of spells. Awhile, Sol pours down his rays with a vigor and intensity portending luck to the vendors of parasols and palm-leaf fans, when lo! Aquarius unfolds his watery mantle, and, to the consternation of picnic schemers, shakes from its ample folds a deluging torrent. Anon, the rain ceases and we step forth to greet the returning sun, but meet instead, an atmospheric "cooler" chill enough to be the breathing of the veritable Boreas. Then comes the sun again, but what next, dear knows! Great is—the weather! The crops, however, are doing finely, and promise an abundant yield, despite the frost and the fly.

A distinguished characteristic of the Cassville people, is their patriotism. I remember hearing it remarked, not far from the "Globe Office," that "there was sure to be something 'going on' in Cassville, on the Fourth of July." The approaching fourth bids fair to be an unusually merry time. The ladies—their name is legion—have taken the matter into their own hands, and having formed themselves into one grand committee, are working with an energy which promises a celebration, "the like whereof hath not been seen" in Cassville. They intend holding, in a delightful grove near town, a grand festival, to which they cordially invite everybody, intending to provide entertainments, both festive and social, on such a scale as amply to supply all that may attend. There is also to be a concert, under the direction of Mr. B. M. Green, an accomplished teacher of music, well known to the people of Huntingdon, and other parts of the county. Now, Mr. Editor, if you wish to enjoy Independence Day, just make up your mind to come and see how they do things here, on that day, and you will be delighted with the excursion.

As first letters should not be lengthy, this, is, perhaps, already too long; therefore, it shall be no longer.

MODERN INVENTIONS.
We know of no invention of modern times that deserves or is destined to occupy a higher niche in the temple of fame, than the discovery or invention of the Vegetable Eucalypti Pills for curing Croup, or Falling Fits, Spasms, Cramps, and all the various modifications of Nervous Disease. Dr. S. S. Hance, of 108 Baltimore street, Baltimore, Md., the inventor, has been the recipient of the best wishes of all the benevolent portion of mankind, who experience a pleasure in the alleviation of human suffering. When Dr. Hance first prepared these Pills, he intended them solely for Fits, Cramps and Spasms; but subsequent experience satisfactorily proved to him, that in addition to the remarkable curative properties in this class of diseases, they exerted a perfect control over the entire nervous system. He was then induced to try them in cases of Neuritis, Tic-Doloureux, Nervous Headache, Irritation of the Heart, Incipient Paralysis, Hysteria, Muscular Debility, and a host of minor diseases, springing from a lack of nervous energy, in all of which his preparations were crowned with the most sanguine success. NEW METHOD FOR THE PIANO FORTE.

BY CHARLES GROBE.

Opus 1100.

Price.....$2.50 nett.

Bound in Cloth.....3 00 nett.

A good instruction book for the Piano has long been wanted, and Mr. Charles Grobe has performed the labor, in getting this one up in a most admirable and satisfactory manner. It will prove itself to be one of the most valuable guides in the instruction of the art of playing the Piano.

Considering the author's well known capacity, and long and unblemished devotion to the task of elementary teaching, we have strong reason to hope that the public are now to be furnished with a thorough, systematic, progressive, and entertaining method for the Piano.

We can confidently recommend it to teachers and pupils as better adapted to the purposes of elementary instruction than any other work which we are acquainted with.

The plan pursued in this work is substantially the same as that developed in Ottendorff's method of teaching music, and is equally adapted to the elementary and the advanced student. It is a method which is not only perfect in itself, but is rendered of positive value to the pupil. Every difficulty is met with singly, and after thorough analysis, overcome by practice.

This method will, undoubtedly, provide teachers with a well digested, progressive, and entertaining plan by which to teach their pupils the art of playing the piano may be acquired with comparatively little labor, and in so short a space of time as will almost seem incredible.

This work contains ten engraved figures, illustrating the different positions of the hands and fingers; and also a likeness of the author.

Its typographical accuracy and appearance have never been equalled in any musical work of this kind heretofore issued from the press in this or any other country.

Copies will be sent by mail, free of postage, on the receipt of the marked price.
