BY EX-REPORTER.

MR. EDITOR :- The Fourth is over, and I am not sorry, and presume many others feel likewise. As I have not the time, and presume you have not the space in your paper, I will make my report of the Fourth and the doings of mankind, as brief as possible, and as follows :---

Saturday for the Fourth. At an early hour odist Church, formed into procession, and repaired to Cottage Grove, escorted by the Excelsior Band. The Declaration of Independence was read by Mr. James Mitchell .---Speeches were delivered by Gen. Williamson and T. M. Cornpropst. Vocal Music was which the good things were served up in ample order.

morning of the Fourth, was "Hail Columbia," by the Excelsior Band. At an early hour, groups of men and boys could be seen conupon doing some wonderful deed on the 4th of July. Shooting of fire-crackers, &c., was the order of the day with the boys. The Presbyterian Sabbath School met at their Church at eight o'clock, A. M., and repaired to Cottage Grove, escorted by the Excelsior Band, when the Declaration of Indepen- of the day. dence was read by Mr. J. II. O. Corbin, and speeches delivered by Rev. Zahnizer and R. M. Speer. After which, the good things were spread before the assembly.

The "Young American Lancers" paraded through our streets on horseback, and made a grand display, acquitting themselves in a manner that would have done credit to more experienced hands. Corporael Stewart deserves credit for the trouble and pains he took in teaching the boys so thoroughly.

In the evening an exhibition was given in the Court House, by the members of the Standing-Stone Literary Association. At an early hour, crowds could be seen wending their way in the direction of the Court House, and by the time the hour had arrived for the bell to ring, the room was literally jammed. I never saw a more crowded house in my life.-A great number were unable to gain admittance at all. The exercises consisted of music, (vocal and instrumental,) reading of the Declaration of Independence, essays, orations, and reading of toasts, opening with prayer and closing with a benediction. The members of the Association did nobly, and acquitted themselves with honor and credit, both to themselves and to the community. The musical gentlemen also deserve a notice at our hands. The "Continentals" sang some of their beautiful melodies, which was very enordered to be published in the town papers, Can any of our farmers beat it. and will appear next week. The 4th didn't pass off entirely void of accidents. John King, youngest son of Wm. H. King, of this place, met with a sad accident. I am unable to learn the full particulars of the case, but the following is as near as I can come at it: He was engaged. with other boys, in setting off powder, and, by some means or other, as they were preparing about two pounds of the combustible, it caught fire, and flashed up, burning King's face and hands in a shocking manner. He was taken home; medical aid summoned, his wounds dressed, and is doing as well as can be expected under the circumstances. This is another warning to boys. Take heed. There was the usual number of drunken people on the 4th, but I forbear making any comments. The usual amount of rowdyism, and the usual number of fights. I say usual, because they are settled facts on such days. I witnessed any amount of skirmishes on the night of the Fourth, whilst wending my way home. I believe I have given you all the news of importance in as brief a space as possible, without any comments. However, had I the time, and your space would permit, I should like to give you a more extended notice of the proceedings of the different associations, and the people in general. I visited Broad Top on the 4th, and you may expect a notice of my trip in your next, fellow-citizen, Mr. J. Simpson Africa, march- to the public to attend. ed through town with a band of martial music, which he employed for the amusement of our citizens and the gratification of his taste for the National music of our country. The Court House, the school house, and all the Church bells were rung in the morning at five o'clock, in honor of our National birth- cheerfully publish next week. day.

THE FOURTH AT HOPEWELL AND BARNET .---At an early hour on the morning of the 4th, a large number of our citizens, including the Huntingdon Excelsior Brass Band, took seats in the Broad Top cars for these points. Mr.

Lawrence, the gentlemanly Superintendent of the road, had the locomotive appropriately decorated, and with the music of the Band and the life of the company, the scene was truly refreshing. At Saxton, some of the company branched off to Barnet, where the people of the coal region had a dinner, and put in the day pleasantly to all. The main body of the excursionists landed at Hopewell

The Methodist Sabbath School celebrated | at 11 A. M., where a large crowd of people had already assembled. Dinner over, the on Saturday morning, they met at the Meth- Odd Fellows in full regalia, a military company under the command of Capt. T. W. Horton, the Excelsior Band, and citizens and strangers generally, formed into line and repaired to a grove, where an oration was delivered by Dr. Wintrode, and an address upon Odd Fellowship by a gentleman from Bedpracticed, led by our friend Geissinger ; after | ford. Everybody in attendance appeared to enjoy the proceedings of the day, especially threatened consumption for thirty-five years, the dinner served up at the Bedford House,

The first thing that greeted my ears on the to which we had the good luck of being an eye witness. Towards evening, Capt. W. came up to the "scratch" and "floored" a few who had become over anxious to show the gregating on the street corners, all intent strength of their patriotism. Upon the whole, the gathering was about as orderly as such a gathering on such an occasion could have been expected. The large majority of the crowd conducted themselves in a very becoming manner, and returned to their homes, no doubt, well pleased with the proceedings

> YOUNG MEN AND LADIES .- An exchange, in noticing the fact that several of our cotemporaries are reprimanding the young men of their towns for standing on the street corners of evenings and staring at ladies as they pass says :-- "Now we can see no great evil in looking at the ladies as they pass; besides there is no evidence that the ladies dislike to be looked at. We think they rather like it of the two, else why so often on the streets but to see and be seen ? We'll venture a dish of strawberries and cream that if the young men were all out of town for a month, there would be very few young ladies' shoes want mending during that time." More than likely.

1 On Monday last, we were handed a potato stock by Mr. Walsh, of this place, containing a striped worm about an inch long, which eats its way through the length of the stock, and thus destroys it. He informed us that his entire potato crop is affected in this way, and wishes to know if any of our farmers throughout the county are troubled with the same thing. Persons wishing to see the potato stock, or the worms, can do so, by calling at our office, as Mr. Walsh has left sever-

The Swing as a Cure for Consumption. [From the Springfield (Mass.) Republican.]

I wish to say a few words to "whom it may concern" on the use of the swing-one of the gymnastic exercises-as a prevention and cure of pulmonary disease. I mean the suspending of the body by the hands, by means of a strong rope a chain fastened to a beam at one end and at the other a stick three feet long, convenient to grasp with the hands .----The rope should be fastened to the centre of the stick, which should hang six or eight inches above the head. Let a person grasp this stick, with the hands two or three feet apart, and swing very moderately at firstperhaps only bear the weight, if very weakand gradually increase as the muscles gain strength from the exercise, until it may be used from three to five times daily. The connection of the arms with the body (with the exception of the clavicle with the sternum or breast bone) being a muscular attachment to the ribs, the effect of this exercise is to elevate the ribs and enlarge the chest; and, as nature allows no vacuum, the lungs expand to fill the cavity, increasing the volume of air-the natural purifier of the blood-and preventing congestion or the deposit of tuberculous matter. I have prescribed the above for all cases of hemorrhage of the lungs and and have been able to increase the measure of the chest from two or four inches within a few months, and always with good results .----But especially as a preventive I would recommed this exercise. Let those who love life cultivate a well formed, capacious chest .---The student, the merchant, the sedentary, the young of both sexes-ave, all should have a swing upon which to stretch themselves daily; and I am morally certain that if this were to be practised by the rising generation, in a dress allowing a free and full development of the body, thousands, yes tens of thousands, would be saved from the ravages of that opprobrium medicorum, consumption. LAWSON LONG, M. D. Holvoke, June 8, 1859.

An Inquest.

[From the Reading Press, June 28.]

The Coroner, John Fox, held an inquest on the body of Charles Mathews, of Lewistown, Mifflin county, last Friday evening. The deceased was found dead on the platform steps leading to the observatory of the Mansion House. The cause of his death is attributed to excessive drinking. The clothing which the deceased wore were: brown striped cassimere pants, linen coat, a glazed cap, and gaiter hoots. His age was about 34 years; height, about 5 feet 9 inches; complexion, florid; and hair, light brown. The body must have lain from Wednesday morning till Friday evening, the time when it was first discovered, as it was not known by the inmates of the house until then. The door to the platform was found locked on the inside, with the key in the lock. The details as here given we have from the Coroner himself. and presume they are the verdict of the jury.— The deceased was buried on Saturday morning in Potter's Field. On a board on the inside of the cupola, he had written, evidently when he was in the last agonies of death-

MODERN INVENTIONS. We know of no invention of modern times that deserves or is destined to occupy a higher niche in the temple of fame, than the discovery or invention of the Vegetable Epiletic Fills for curing Epilepsy. or Falling Fits, Spasms, Cramps, and all the various modifications of Nervous Dis-ense. Dr. Seth S. Hance, of 108 Baltimore street, Balti-more, Md., the inventor, is certainly entitled to the best wishes of all the benevolent portion of mankind, who ex-perience a pleasure by the alleviation of human suffering. When Dr. Hance first prepared these Pills, he intended them solely for Fits, Crumps and Spasms; but subse-quent experience satisfactorily proved to him, that in ad-dition to their remarkable sanative properties in this class of disenses, they exerted a perfect control over the entire nervous system. He was then induced to try them in cases of Neuralgia, Tic-Doloreux, Nervous Headache, Palpitation of the Heart, Incipient Paralysis, Hysteria, Muscular Dehility, and a host of minor disease, spring-ing from a lack of nervous energy, in all of which his au-ticipation were crowned with the most sanguine success. Persons at a distance, by writing and sending a remittance to Dr. Hance, can have the medicine forwarded by mail to their post office address, he paying the postage. ..... 3 00 nett. Bound in Cloth A good instruction book for the Piano has long been wanting, and Mr. Charles Grobe has performed the labor, in getting this one up in a most admirable and satisfactory mammer. It will prove itself to be one of the most valua-ble guides in the instruction of the art of playing the Piano. Considering the author's well known capacity, and long and unrewitting devotion to the task of elementary teaching, we have strong reason to hope that the public are now to be furnished with a thorough, systematic, progressive, and entertaining method for the Piano. We can confidently recommend it to teachers and pupils as better adapted to the purposes of elementary instruction than any others with which we are acquainted. The plan pursued in this work is substantially the same as that developed in Ollendorff's method of teaching hu-Piano.

as that developed in Ollendorff's method of teaching lan-gaages. It commences with the simplest elements. The progress made will be gradual, so that every step will be perfectly intelligible, and be rendered of positive value to the pupil. Every difficulty is met with singly, and, after thorough graduets overscome by specific.

The pupil analysis, overcome by practice. This method will, undoubtedly, provide teachers with a well digested, progressize, and entertaining plan by which a sound and correct knowledge of the art of playing the sound and correct knowledge of the art of playing the piano may be acquired with comparatively little labor, and in so short a space of time as will almost seem incredible to those who have confined themselves to some of the tedious systems heretofore in uso. This work contains ten engraved figures, illustrating the different positions of the hands and fingers; and also a likeness of the author. Its typographical accuracy and appearance have never been equalled in any musical work that has heretofore been issued from the press in this or any other country. Copies will be sent by mail, free of postage, on the re-ceipt of the marked price. LEE & WALKER, Publishers, 722 Chestnut street, l'hiladelphia June 22, 1859.

The discusses stomach, place it among the most astonishing discoveries that have taken place in the medical world. The discusses to which these Bitters are applicable are so universal, that there are but few of our friends who may not test their virtues in their own families or circle of acquaintances, and prove to their own satisfaction that there is at least one remedy among the many advertised medicines, deser-ving the public commendation. It is a fact that, in the minds of many persons, a prejudice exists against what are called Patent Medicines; but why should this prevent you resorting to an article that has such an array of tes-timeny to support it as Hoofland's German Bitters? Phy-sicians prescribe it, Why should you discard it? Judges, usually considered mon of talent, have and do use it in their own families. Why should you reject it? Clergy-men, and those the most eminent, takeit; why should not you? Let not your prejudice usurp your reason, to the eventasting injury of your health; if you are sick, and require a medicine, try these Bitters. These Bitters are prepared and sold by Dr. C. M.
