THE GLOBE.

Huntingdon, Wednesday, July 20, 1859.

LOCAL & PERSONAL.

Losr.-A blank book of folio size with paper cover, containing the Minutes of the Burgesses and Town Council of the borough of Huntingdon, from 1796 to 1804, and the rules for the government of the Council. It is supposed to have been left, a few years ago, at some place where the Council assembled. Any information as to its whereabouts will be very thankfully received by any of the borough officers.

Mr. Editor:—On Friday afternoon last, a party of young folks, your reporter included, visited the village of Shaeffersville, this county, and to use a common expression, we had a "glorious time." We were kindly received by our friends, and after the usual salutations were gone through with, we were invited to partake of a sumptuous repast, which we did ample justice too. The table groaned under the gorgeous load of good things. After which, we walked a short distance into the country, to admire the beauties of nature and of nature's God. We passed two or three hours very pleasantly in the village of Shaeffersville, and for the kind attention we received, our friends there will consider our best beaver tipped in the most approved style.

It is no longer a matter of speculation, but a fact beyond all doubt, that the Bald Hornet is bound to make its appearance before long. I am informed that the first number will be issued in about two weeks. The editor has not yet been announced, but I presume he has already been chosen from amongst the -faithful. It is time that it should make its appearance, with another Brigadier General George Washington Bowman at its head, for need of help. Mr. Buchanan went to Bedford on Monday last, to recruit a little for the | ing them to the printer. coming winter, and to arrange Pennsylvania politics for a twelve month. I am informed that Dr. II. K. Neff, of this place, is a candidate for nomination for the Legislature, in the Opposition party. The Dr. is a whole-souled, clever and gentlemanly fellow, and if the Opposition party is to be the successful party this fall, I wish the Dr. success. He would make a popular Legisla-

On the night of the 13th of July, inst., as the ten o'clock train was passing along just below the stone quarry, some ruscals, inspired by the devil, took it into their heads that they ought to throw stones through the windows of the cars, which they did, but, fortunately, injuring no one. The watchman was a short distance below the party, but knew nothing | to the stable from work at noon. of it, until the train was stopped. He then got on board the train, rode a short distance, and returned by way of the turnpike, thereby meeting the scoundrels, and also recognizing them. Warrants were issued for the arrest of the party, and, on Saturday last, [For The Globe.] three of them were taken into custody, the other three making good their escape. The proper officer is in search of them, and I feel pretty confident that he will succeed in capturing them. I have the names of the depredators in my possession, but forbear publishing them at present, for the respect which I have for their parents. I say, however, that they should be severely punished.

In the last Shirleysburg Herald, I noticed a communication written over the signature cal part of Mr. Swoope's subject, was very of "Flora," which speaks very disparagingly of eloquent and decidedly the best. We thought our town. Flora asserts that it is the "meanest place 'out of Jail,'" and so on. Now, I | ing our files we find, almost verbatim, the same would like to know whether Flora ever lived any place out of Jail, as she appears to know | fore the Huntingdon County Teachers' Instiso much about matters and things "in jail." tute, December 22, '53, and published in the She also states that you may "go where you | Journal, February 1st, '54. * * like, you will see drunkenness, hear profanc language, or something bad." Well literary theft." it is strange that strangers passing through our town can see and hear all these things, when some of our oldest citizens know nothing of it at all! Strange, passing strange, indeed. The lady must have visited all the answered and undenied, there are those, hear so much. Will she explain?

Sir:-It is hoped that you will give a place in your columns to the following STATEMENT:

I observe that the Journal of last week, in referring to the lecture delivered by II. EPILEPSY, OR FALLING FITS.

We believe we cannot do our readers a more important service, than by again calling their attention to that most remarkable preparation, discovered by Dr. Seth S. Hance, of Baltimore, Md., which possesses the power of alleviating and curing that horrid visitation of man—Epilepsy, or Falling Fits. In recommending this preparation to our readers, we do so with a conviction that we are not degrading our columns to puff a common patent medicine, but are placing before them adiscovery, which, if fully known, would probably do more to alleviate human suffering, than any invention of modern times. Dr. Hance, in asking us to notice his preparation favorably in our editorial department, has sent us for perusal a number of letters from persons who have used his Fills, and have been cured thereby. All of them speak in the most grateful and eulogistic terms. One great advantage this medicine possesses is the fact, that it can be transported through the mails, therby affording every one an opportunity of deal-We believe we cannot do our readers a more important sesses is the fact, that it can be transported through the mails, therby affording every one an opportunity of dealing directly with the inventor, and also precluding all possibility of being imposed on by a counterfeit or spurious imitation. NEW METHOD FOR THE PIANO FORTE. EY CHARLES GROBE. Opus 1100.

Price $2.50 netf.
Bound in Cloth 3 00 netf. A good instruction book for the Piano has long been wanting, and Mr. Charles Grobe has performed the labor, in getting this one up in a most admirable and satisfactory manner. It will prove itself to be one of the most valuable guides in the instruction of the art of playing the Piano.

Considering the author's well known capacity, and long and unremitting devotion to the task of elementary teaching, we have strong reason to hope that the public are now to be furnished with a thorough, systematic, progressive, and entertaining method for the Piano.
We can confidently recommend it to teachers and pupils as better adapted to the purposes of elementary instruction than any others with which we are acquainted.
The plan purposed in this work is substantially the same than any others with which we are acquainted.

The plan pursued in this work is substantially the same as that developed in Ollendorff's method of teaching lauguages. It commences with the simplest elements. The progress made will be gradual, so that every step will be perfectly intelligible, and be rendered of positive r to the pupil. Every difficulty is met with singly, ar after thorough analysis, overcome by practice.

This method will, undoubtedly, provide teachers with a well digested, progressive, and entertaining plan by which a sound and correct knowledge of the art of playing the piano may be acquired with comparatively little labor, and in so short a space of time as will almost seem incredible to those who have confined themselves to some of the telious systems heretofore in use.

This work contains ten engraved figures, illustrating the different positions of the hands and fingers; and also a likeness of the author.
