THE GLOBE.

Huntingdon, Wednesday, July 27, 1859

LOCAL & PERSONAL.

A NEW DEMOCRATIC PAPER .--- We are informed that R. MILTON SPEER, a young student-ut-law in the office of Wilson & Petrikin, tablishment, and will remove it to this place the present week and commence the publication of a new Democratic paper, "The Union," the first number to appear next week. We are rather pleased that the growing strength of the Democracy in this county promises a living to more than one Democratic paper in the ancient borough, and that Mr. Speer, a talented young gentleman, whose love for the treachery of our political leaders is about as warm as our own, is to be our co-laborer in a good cause. How our Shirleysburg friends are to get along without their Herald we cannot imagine, for certain it is, Mr. Lutz published an interesting and valuable local paper. We shall see what we shall see.

The Excelsior Band wagon is fast approaching completion. On Saturday last, we were shown the magnificent box. It was de-Lebkecher, and does honor and credit to him as a designer and skillful workman, and is being decorated with beautiful paintings by Rev. Barnitz of the Methodist Church, of this place, which shows that he is an artist of no ordinary talent. After the whole is put together, it will be one of the finest vehicles ever gotten up in this place. May the Excelsior Band make good use of it.

DESTRUCTIVE HAIL STORM .--- We are informed that a hail storm passed over Ennisville, Jackson township, on Monday of last week, doing very serious injury to the crops for nearly a mile in width through the valley. Some of the hail were as large as a hen egg. Several fields of corn and oats were completely cut to pieces, and the grain in shocks was considerably thrashed out. In Ennisville, nine-tenths of the window glass were broken.

1 The Hon. Simon Cameron visited our town on Saturday last, being on his way home from Bedford Springs. Simon is now a United States Senator from this State, and the Opposition party are talking of making him our next President. Simon points up just now:

at Clearfield, he inclosed to me the original of the above letter, and accompanied it with the following note :---

CLEARFIELD, 15th July, 1859. SIMPSON AFRICA, Pres't (pro. tem.) of Standing-Stone Litera-

v Association. Dear Sir :--- While on a visit to Huntinghas purchased the Shirleysburg Herald es- don, a few days after the delivery of my lecture on the "Literature of the Bible," under the auspices of your Association, my attention was called to an editorial notice in the Huntingdon Journal charging me with "stealing" the "Historical" part of that Lecture from an address of Robert McDivitt, Esq., which had been published in that paper in 1854.-In company with my old friend, Mr. Ed. Snare, I called upon Mr. McDivitt, and requested him to compare his manuscript with my own, and point out to me in what the plagiarism, if any, consisted. He procured a copy of his address, and on examination unhesitatingly declared the charge groundless, and furnished me with the letter I enclose to

It may be proper to say that there was some resemblance in a few paragraphs arising from a recapitulation by both of the leading events of Sacred History in the order in which they occur in the Bible. I had never seen the address of Mr. McDivitt or known of its existence until he showed it to me, nor was there such a resemblance between it and any part of my Lecture, as would authorize the charge signed and made by our friend Mr. Albert of plagiarism, so broadly made by the Journal. Believing this explanation due to your Association, to the community and to myself. I place it and the letter of Mr. McDivitt at Very truly, your disposal.

Your friend, H. BUCHER SWOOPE.

On the receipt of Mr. Swoope's letter, I called upon the editors of the Journal, (Mess. Brewster and Whittaker,) and after representing the matter to them; handed over the two letters inserted above, with a request to publish them with a proper explanation, and thus set at rest this unpleasant difficulty. In looking over the last Journal, instead of finding what was expected, my eye was attracted by an article on the subject accompanied with another note from Mr. M., which, taken together, present a different phase, and seem still to insinuate the commission of plagiarism.

I publish this with the hope that the agitation of the matter may terminate and that an unprejudiced public will render "honor to whom honor is due."

LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.

MR. LEWIS :- I regret the necessity that compels me to say a few words in relation to the charge of plagiarism made against II. Bucher Swoope, Esq., in the columns of the Journal, two weeks ago-yet, a sense of duty to Mr. Swoope, demands that I should make the explanation, and state the facts which I now attempt to do.

It is well known that on the evening of the 11th of July last, a lecture was delivered in the Court House, in this place, by the above named gentleman, under the auspices of the Standing-Stone Literary Association. In the issue of the Journal, two days after, on the 13th, in the local department of that paper, in speaking of the lecture, a charge is made 'against Mr. Swoope of "gross plagiarism and literary theft."

Mr. Swoope, I believe, called upon Mr. McDivitt and after examining the published address of the latter, Mr. M. gave him the following letter :---

H. B. SWOOPE, Esq.—Dear Sir:—On a careful examination of that portion of your lecture on the "History, Philosophy and Poetry of the Bible" alledged to have been taken from a lecture on History, delivered by me some time since, I am free to say that though the portion alluded to is very similar as regards the order, style and language, yet I nothing more than what might easily take place at any time under similar circumstances.

I am truly sorry that the subject has been referred to, and hope this explanation may prove entirely satisfactory to all parties." In haste, Yours truly,

R. McDIVITT. HUNTINGDON, July 13, 1859.

EPILEPSY, OR FALLING FITS. We believe we cannot do our readers a more important service, than by again calling their attention to that most remarkable preparation, discovered by Dr. Seth S. Hance, of Baltimore, Md., which possesses the power of allevia-ting and curing that horrid visitation of man—Epilepsy, or Falling Fits. In recommending this preparation to our readers, we do so with a conviction that we are not degra-bling our columpus to nuff a common pattent medicine but or radius rules. In recommending this preparation to our readers, we do so with a conviction that we are not degra-ding our columns to puff a common patent medicine, but are placing before them adiscovery, which, if fully known, would probably do more to alleviate human suffering, than any invention of modern times. Dr. Hance, in ask-ing us to notice his preparation favorably in our editorial department, has sent us for perusal a number of letters from persons who have used his Fills, and have been cur-ed thereby. All of them speak in the most grateful and eulogistic terms. One great advantage this medicine pos-sesses is the fact, that it can be transported through the mails, therby affording every one an opportunity of deal-ing directly with the inventor, and also precluding all pos-sibility of being imposed on by a counterfeit or spurious imitation. Dr. Hance pays the postage on his Fills to any part of the country, and will forward them by return of mail, on the receipt of a remittance. His prices are as fol-lows: One box, $3; two do., $5; twelve do., $24. All or-ders for the medicine should be addressed to SETH S. HANCE, 108 Baltimore street, Baltimore, Md.

DIED, In this place, on the 23d inst., Mr. J. A. HALL, in the 44th year of his age.

The deceased was born in Adams county, in this State, and had, for the last fifteen years, been a resident of this place. He was a teacher by profession, and was, during a greater portion of this time-except while occupying for a short period, the position of editor to the Huntingdon Journal-engaged in the pursuit of this calling, ever maintaining the reputation of a successful teacher and distinguished educationist. As such his name has been favorably known, and will long be remembered. The writer of this brief and imperfect notice, whose privilege it has been for a number of years, to enjoy the pleasure and advantages of his intimate acquaintance and friendship, and whose sad duty it has been to be near him during the closing scenes of life, would desire to render this last mournful tribute to the memory of departed worth. It is due to his memory, to say that as a faithful, devoted and energetic teacher, he had but few equals, and no superiors in the ranks of his profession. In his daily intercourse with his fellow men, in his private walk and conversation, and in his social and domestic relations, his manner was ever that of an honest man, a sincere Christian, an agreeable companion, a generous and open hearted friend, a kind and affectionate husband, a tender and indulgent parent, and

"None that knew him need be told, A warmer heart, death ne'er made cold."

The insidious inroads of a painful and fatal disease, which had for years been undermining his constitution, causing a vast amount of physical suffering, had not obscured the powers of his noble intellect, nor changed his uniformly kind and amiable disposition. His departure was an exemplification of the truth and reality of that religion which he professed. There was no shrinking back from the dark waters of death's Jordan, but having had-to use his own expression-" a long warning," it was evident that he had made the proper preparation, and had "set his house in order," and his portion is now, we trust, with the redeemed and sanctified in the climes of eternal day. His death has caused a void in the community, in the literary world, in the church of the Redeemer, and in the have no hesitation in exempting you from all family circle, which will long be felt. May the God " who charges of plagiarism, the resemblance being tempereth the winds to the shorn lamb," sanctify this deep affliction, and sustain the hearts of the bereaved ones in the midst of this heavy sorrow. R. M.

EDICAL SCIENCE.

The DICAL SCIENCE. The history of "HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BIT-TERS," the most remarkable medicine of the day, and the many cures that have been performed with it in cases of LIVER COMPLAINT, DYSPEPSIA, NERVOU'S DE-BILITY, and discases arising from a disordered liver or stomach, place it among the most astonishing discoveries that have taken place in the medicar world. The discases to which these Bitters are applicable are so universal, that there are but few of our friends who may not test their virtues in their own families or circle of acquaintances, and prove to their own satisfaction that there is at least one remedy among the many advertised medicines, descr-ving the public commendation. It is a fact that, in the minds of many persons, a prejudice exists against what are called Patent Medicines; but why should this prevent you resorting to an article that has such an array of tes-timeny to support it as Hoofland's German Bitters? Phy-sicians prescribe it, Why should you reject it? Clergy-men, and those the most eminent, take it; why should not you? Let not your prejudice usarp your reason, to the eventasting injury of your health; if you are sick, and require a medicine, try these Bitters. These Bitters are prepared and sold by Dr. C. M, Jack-son, No. 418 Arch street, Philadelphia, Pa., and by drug-gists and storekcepers in every town and village in the United States, Canadas, West Indies, and South América, at 75 cents per bottle. See that the signature of C. M. Jackson is on the wrapper of each bottle. May 11, 1859-19.
