Young Mens' Temperance Celebration .-We have been invited to attend a celebration of the above caption, to be held near the Union School House, on the Ridges, on the 27th inst. The young men composing a Temperance Society, are the getters up of this celebration, and we are informed that it is the intention of those interested, to make it one of the grandest affairs ever gotten up in that region. No pains will be spared as regards catables, as they intend having a real feast. Several able gentlemen of this and other places are expected to be present on the occasion. to address the assemblage. No Providence preventing, and we can possibly escape from our arduous duties, we may be expected to be

Mr. Samuel Couch, a millwright, aged about sixty years, a citizen of Henderson township, met with a sudden death on Wednesday last. He was engaged making repairs at Neff's mill in West township, when up to 1st August, 1859, one year, $20 00 of a sudden, the machinery started, the flywheel attached to an engine striking a board upon which M. He who at the present day fails to recognize the usefulness of properly conducted newspapers, must be an incorrigible blockhead, and he who neglects to read them, is likely ever to remain in ignorance.

I have nothing of special character to announce at present, my chief object in writing being to notice the second lecture before the "Normal Class" of our Seminary, which to be accomplished by speaking, that is, never Resolved, That the Annual Exhibition for except for a good purpose, and when he does speak, he speaks to purpose. He remarked that as the teachers had been previously directed to what they ought to know, and what they ought to do, he would direct their attenought to do. With his characteristic modesty, the lecturer started out by imploring the ty, the lecturer started out by imploring the charity of the audience, and then proceeded, as every one who had ever heard him knew he would do, to deliver a most thorough and interesting lecture. Not wishing to trespass on your space, I shall not enter into a synopsis of the lecture. It related, of course, to the habits and manners of the teacher. In order to form a character upon the model of "Christian gentleman," the lecturer pointed to those divine arts of purity, gentleness and love, which a Chesterfield may counterfeit, love, which a Chesterfield may counterfeit,

A MAN BURIED ALIVE.—We learn of a BELL, GARRETTSON & CO., ad casualty which happened vesterday (Ausad casualty which happened yesterday (August 2) in the town of Walker, some three or four miles from the city, resulting in the death of a young man named Charles Fitch. It appears that he was engaged in digging a well on his father's premises. After digging down a few feet through gravel and "hard pan," a vein of sand was struck, through which the well was sunk some ten or twelve feet more without curbing, when they again came to hard earth and gravel. It was in this, nearly twenty feet below the sarface, that young Fitch was at work some time in the afternoon, yesterday, when the sand stratum suddenly caved in, crushing and burrying the unfortunate young man beneath it. The neighbors instantly rallied and vigorously set to work to rescue him, and it proved no easy task, the sand having caved and filled the well to the upper crust of hard earth. We are informed that they reached him and uncovered his head, when he was found to be still alive. The earth caved in

To the Public. MR. EDITOR-Sir: Will you be so good as to grant me MR. EDITOR—Sir: Will you be so good as to grant me a space in your paper, to show to the people of the county; what my claims were, and what position I thought I occupied when I went into the Convention on Tucsday last, asking for a nomination for the office of Sheriff. It is known to almost every person, that I went into a contract with my brother, (who is since dead,) in January 1840, for the erection of the Court House, and went on from that time to November 1841, when the Court House was of far completed that it was estimated that eight hundred or a thousand dollars would finish it. At this time, there was due us on the article of agreement, the sum of twenty-six thousand dollars would finish it. At this time, there was due us on the article of agreement, the sum of twenty-six hundred and fifty dollars, when, by the duplicity and dishonesty of two of the Commissioners, (for there was one honest man in the Board,) assisted by their counsel, who, I believe, was brought to do as he did, we were forced into an assignment of our contract, and after the house was finished, and viewers appointed to pass on it, they allowed the sum of eleven hundred and fifty-five dollars and fifty cents for extra work, which was done before we made the assignment, which, with the sum above mentioned, would amount to the sum of thirty-eight hundred and five dollars and fifty cents (3805 50.) And after the matter was all settled, and, as I supposed, paid, there still remained the sum of seven hundred and fifty-five dollars and fifty cents, which, according to the assignment, was due to me Present:—Chief Burgess—Mr. Gwin.

TEDICAL SCIENCE.

The history of "HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BIT the most remarkable medicine of the day, and the many cures that have been performed with it in cases of LIVER COMPLAINT, DYSPEPSIA, NERVOUS DEthe many cures that have been performed with it in cases of LIVER COMPLAINT, DYSPEPSIA, NERVOUS DEBILITY, and diseases arising from a disordered liver or stomach, place it among the most astonishing discoveries that have taken place in the medical world. The diseases to which these Bitters are applicable are so universal, that there are but few of our friends who may not test their virtues in their own families or circle of aequaintances, and prove to their own satisfaction that there is at least one remedy among the many advertised medicines, deserving the public commendation. It is a fact that, in the minds of many persons, a prejudice exists against what are called Patent Medicines; but why should this prevent you resorting to an article that has such an array of testimeny to support it as Hoodand's German Bitters? Physicians prescribe it, Why should you discard it? Judges, usually considered men of talent, have and do use it in their own families. Why should you reject it? Clergymen, and those the most eminent, take it: why should not you? Let not your prejudice usurp your reason, to the everlasting injury of your health; if you are sick, and require a medicine, try these Bitters.

These Bitters are prepared and sold by Dr. C. M, Jackson, No. 418 Arch street, Philadelphia, Pa., and by druggists and storekeepers in every town and village in the United States, Capadas, West Indies, and South America, at 75 cents per bottle. See that the signature of C. M. Jackson is on the wrapper of each bottle.
