"Extra Pay." "Truth is said to be slow of foot."
"I demand at the hand of every truth-loving man the whole truth to be told, and if I am injured by it I cannot complain."—Richard Benson Wigton.

In his desire for the truth to be told, we shall gratify Mr. Wigton a little. We have been favored in the Journal, with the amount received by Africa during the two sessions now we propose to examine the account of Representatives.

R. B. Wigton:—
No. of miles circular 264—mileage, $764 60

This amount of $764 60, was charged and received by Mr. Wigton. Enormous as this sum appears for 101 days services, the amount bill. He has charged for 264 miles circular, the House of Representatives, Mr. Wigton's | nize with the Americans. Post Office was Coalmont. His former residence was Orbisonia, his present residence Huntingdon. From these places, his mileage would be as follows, viz:

From Harrisburg to Coalmont by Railroad 125 miles at 30 cents, $37 50 "Orbisonia 97 m. at 30cts., 29 10 "Huntingdon 97 m. at 30cts., 29 10 either of those places, he has fraudulently represented his number of miles too great, and has abstracted from the Public Treasury, money that he was not entitled to receive. And there is no apology for the commission of this fraud. Everybody here knows the distance from Harrisburg to Huntingdon, Orbisonia or Coalmont, and a man of Mr. Wigton's knowledge could not be ignorant of the correct distance.

Mr. Burley, the member from Blair county, who resided at Tyrone, charged 117 miles, and Mr. Wigton, living in a county nearer Harrisburg, charges 132! Oh! Honesty! Oh! Consistency!

Here we have this model of honesty, in the dirty, MEAN business of robbing the Commonwealth of a few dollars mileage. Pretty conduct, truly, for such an honorable man!

If any person doubts the correctness of these statements, he can be satisfied by examing page 1160 of the Journal of the House the Prothonotary's office.

NOT AT ALL STRANGE-To see certain editors who, not three months ago denounced Douglas as a Black Republican, now trying $40,000. Thence the fire spread to the lumto sneak into his confidence. Before three ber yard of L. Mr. Buchanan has declined a re-nomination-he is out of the ring. Mr. Breckenridge declines a nomination—he is therefore also out of the ring. Judge Black is now being brought forward, but as it is rather late in the season for him to get into the ring, the course is clear to the only Democrat who can be elected, and that man is Stephen A. Douglas. We may be mistaken in the strength of the "Little Giant," but the daily rise in Douglas stock in every State in the Union, certainly indicates a great in the Union, certainly indicates a great [900, insurance $21,000; Hydraulic Mills, $10,000, no insurance; Walter Lull, lumber, $20,000, insurance $5,000; E. Great Fire at Chicago --- $500,000 Worth of Property Destroyed.

CHICAGO, Sept. 16.

The most disastrous conflagration that has occurred here since the great fire of 1857, took place last night. It broke out about nine o'clock in the stable of F. Mehring & Co., entirely destroying it with its contents, in the branches of agriculture, whilst they including four valuable horses. The flames then spread to the blacksmith shop No. 45 branches of mechanics, manufactures, and Canal street, and from thence spread in different directions, consuming the entire block bounded by Clinton, North, Canal, West, Lake and Fulton streets. From this block the fire communicated to Blatchford's Lead Works, and thence to the Hydraulic Mills. This, together with the block bounded by of Representatives. A copy can be seen at North, Jefferson, Clinton, Fulton, West and Lake streets, was entirely destroyed.

From the north-western corner of Fulton and Canal streets the fire was communicated to the lumber yard of Ryerson & Miller, consuming nearly three million feet valued at voted to receiving and arranging the goods $40,000. Thence the fire spread to the lumnext attacked a lumber yard adjoining, con-suming two million feet. The machine shop of Mason & Co., corner of North, Canal and Carroll streets, was totally destroyed.

From Ryerson's lumber yard, the fire communicated to the Vulcan works of Warrington & M'Arthur, and thence to the Vulcan Boiler works, destroying the block bounded by Fulton, Carroll, Clinton, and North Jefferson streets. Two adjoining blocks were partially destroyed. The principle losses are as follows:

J. M. Cochran, Audabon house, loss $60,000, insurance $30,000; Blatchford Lead works, loss $60,000, insurance $40,000; Cochran & Baker Cleveland house, loss $37,-000, insurance $27,000; Avery & Co., loss

The total loss is probably not less than half a million, and total insurance will not exceed two hundred and fifty thousand dollars. The greater part being in New York, Providence, Hartford and Springfield com-

Снісадо, Sept. 14, 1859. The annual fair of the United States Agricultural Society is attracting thousands of strangers to this city. A fair of any kind out in this Western country, where amusesured, if it falls, it will fall to rise again, a ments are scarce, is a popular institution and terror to corrupt party men, speculators in the | will draw, but the fair of the United States Agricultural Society, which the country folks regard as something even superior to le grand exposition at Paris, held in the great city of Chicago, presents inducements sufficient to draw visitors not only from the most remote parts of Illinois, but also from the surround-

g States, and even from the distant East. The eleven or twelve railroads which lead into the city have been doing a wonderful business, every train which arrives consisting of six or nine cars loaded down with human freight. I came down from Milwaukee yesterday, and the seven cars which composed the train were so crowded that standing room could hardly be found in the aisles of the cars. It is estimated that there are at least fifty thousand strangers in town, and the cry is still they come. The hotels are all full. The Tremont House accommodated seven hundred and eighty persons last night, and expects to lodge twelve hundred to-night; State. Our book, stationery and music store and the Richmond House, Briggs House, Massasoit House, Matteson House, Sherman House, Adams House, and other hotels all filled to their utmost capacity.

The wonder is where the crowd you see every few minutes issuing from the railroad depots will find room in the thronged city; and I am inclined to think that if the people continue to come in as thick and fast as they have been doing within the past forty eight hours that some of them will be obliged to camp out on the open prairies. Every effort has been made to afford sufficient accommodation for visitors, and an enterprise has been started called the National Fair Registry office which advertises to provide good accommodation for five thousand strangers, at from fifty cents to two dollars per day. All is life J. Simpson Africa is an Infidel. We regret and activity, and the streets are as full of busthe course those two papers have pursued the as Broadway, N. Y., or Chestnut street, Philadelphia. The shopkeepers are reaping towards Mr. Africa. Their party is strong a rich harvest disposing of their goods at prienough to defeat him without resorting ces to suit themselves, and evidently would not object to having a national fair in operation the whole year round with the same circumstances attending it. As it is, they will share among them some two or three hundred thousand dollars during the week it is

> The fair grounds are situated on a flat prairie, on Cottage Grove avenue, adjoining the property of Senator Douglas, and within a stone's throw of Lake Michigan. They are about three-and-a-half miles distant from the Tremont House, to the centre of the town, and a half mile from the lager beer gardens, which are called the outskirts. The enclosure contains about forty acres, and the arrangements and exhibitions are, in fact, a third or fourth edition of the fair of the United States Society at Powelton, in your city, some years ago, which your readers will all remember.

The display of fine stock is said to be large, and, from appearances, I should judge it to be, having strolled around the grounds and had a back view of the cattle, as they stood in their stalls; but not being skilled in such matters, I am unable to give you an account of the fine points which the eye of the farmer delights in discovering, and the examining committees in rewarding with silver medals or other marks of their distinguished appreciation. The most noticeable thing to me on the grounds or in the town is the crowd, and the interest and curiosity with which everybody examines everything on exhibition. The ladies throng the halls, as the shed erected for the display of goods which might be injured by exposure to the weather are called, and admire quilts of huge dimensions and wonderful patterns, and other fancy articles of fine art, whilst the gentlemen inspect the machinery, farming implement, Devons and Durhams, Jacks and Jennies, the fast nags, the sheep, &c., and both unite in a stroll his place has been supplied by G. W. Baker. through the promological department and admire the mammoth beets, pumpkins, potatoes, and other vegetables, and the lucious pears, apples, peaches, grapes, and other fruit there exhibited.

The fair is very creditable to the society, to the city of Chicago, and to this section of country, and the stranger from the East who visits it cannot fail to feel astonished when he is furnished with evidence sufficient on every hand to convince him that the people out here in the far West, as we are used to to call it, are ahead of their Eastern brethren are rapidly competing with them in all the branches of mechanics, manufactures, and art. There are very few entries from the East, owing, no doubt, to the trouble and expense of shipping goods, etc., this distance; besides I believe these fairs generally represent the character and productions of the section of country in which they are held, and seldom, if ever, the whole country, though they are managed by a national society, and are called national fairs.

· This is the third day of the fair, and the various committees are busy examining the cattle and horses entered. Monday was demilitary bore a prominent part. Senator Crittenden, of Kentucky, who happened in town on his way home from a trip to Minnesota, delivered the opening address, and was followed by Senator Douglas who, on the part of the Society, welcomed the visiters to the fair and to the city.

To-morrow, Friday and Saturday, are set aside for the trial of the steam plough, and other agricultural implements, and also the fast horses, a number of whom, it is said, will compete for the $1,000 prize. It was expected and reported that Flora Temple and Princess would be entered, and many have come here expecting to see them, but I have heard nothing of their arrival as yet.

A large number of prominent men are in town, among whom are several Republican Senators and members of Congress who go to Minnesota to try and persuade the people and put some clay on the wounds, for they of that State to leave off their Democratic were bleeding profusely; he then carried it habits of thought. They are ravenously hungering after the spoils of the next Congress, and hope to increase the plurality they already have in the next House by the aid of the two members from that State. If what I heard this morning from a gentleman just returned from Minnesota prove true, they will be disappointed, for the Democracy have Wooster, Ohio, to address the Democracy there on Friday, and then proceed immediately to Washington, without further delay. Since his arrival here on Sunday morning he has been visited by many thousands of people, and the hall of the Tremont House leading to his rooms is constantly filled with those who desire to see him and have a shake of his hand. No man, since the days of Jackson, has obtained so complete a control of the heart of the people, and the wild enthusiasm which his presence everywhere excites shows how thoroughly the sentiment in his favor has spread itself among the masses. I hear that he has been invited to address the Democracy of Wisconsin during the pending canvass and has consented to do so, at Milwaukee some time next month, when he again visits the West.

A Woman Murders her Husband and Son, and Commits Suicide. A fearful tragedy occurred last Sunday a week, at a lonely farm house, three miles from Versailes, Riply county, Indiana. The premises were occupied by a farmer named Windsor, his wife, and a son, the latter aged fourteen years. It seems that the man and woman lived unhappily together, and their frequent violent altercations were a subject of comment to the neighborhood. Upon the afternoon of Sunday, their daughter, who had been upon a visit to a neighboring acquaintance, with whom she remained several days, returned home, and entering the house was paralyzed by a sight of such intense horror as almost to deprive her of reason. Extended upon the floor, weltering in their blood, lay the bodies of her parents and her brother. The man was lying upon his face near the hearth with his head nearly severed from his shoulders; the body of the boy lay in another part of the room with several murderous cuts in his head, and close by the bloody weapon, a sharp axe, with which this double deed of horror had been consummated. In the kitchen adjoining, was the body of the wretched woman, her throat severed from ear to ear, and a large butcher knife, with which she had taken her life, still clasped in

It is conjectured that while the husband was in the act of kindling a fire upon the hearth, his wife seized the axe and dealt him the fatal blow, which nearly severed the head from the body, and then turning upon her son, who, from being in his night clothes, had evidently in alarm just arisen from his bed, she despatched him with the same weapon, after which she rushed in the next apartment, and concluded the tragedy by the sacrifice of her own life.

The poor girl, who is the sole survivor of the ill-fated family, has received so severe a shock from the scene which was so unexpectedly revealed to her that she has ever since been bordering upon insanity.

Death of Dr. C. J. Hirst.

We find in the Alleghenian, the following notice of the death of our esteemed friend,

"It is with feelings of unfeigned sorrow we announce the death of Dr. C. J. Hirst, who departed this life at Galesburg, Ill., on Sunday, the 1st inst. He had but lately left his home in Altoona, Pennsylvania, for a wider field of labor in the growing West; yet, alas, how true we often find it, that 'man proposes, but God disposes." His new home had been to him little else than a bed of sickness and of suffering, terminating only in death. He leaves a most inestimable widow to mourn his early end. We cannot but sympathize with her in this great loss, and range from Madison county, Va., mentions the pray that the good God who promises to be following as "a fact" which occurred there a husband to the widow, will be very near to recently. It is one of those "facts" which her in this her time of need. In his private are stronger and harder to believe than modand professional career, Dr. Hirst had won erate fiction: the esteem of all by his manly deportment and earnest efforts in behalf of morality and religion; and to those who knew him we need only add the following lines, which will find an echo in every heart :-

"He in his duty prompt at every call,
He watched and wept, he prayed and felt for all;
And as a bird each fond cudearment tries,
To tempt her new-fledged offspring to the skies,
He tried each art, reproved each dull delay,
Allured to brighter worlds, and led the way."

Successor to Mr. Crittenden.

The Kentucky Age says: Not the least gratifying result of the re-cent election of this State is the fact that John J. Crittenden will be succeeded in the United State Senate by a Democrat. Already several journals, in various portions of the Commonwealth, have presented the names and claims of distinguished gentlemen, any one of whom will fill the exalted position with honor and dignity. We, too, have our preference, and in presenting our choice, we do not pretend to detract one iota from the pretensions of other gentlemen, whose names ave been mentioned in this connection.

For the first time in a period of thirty rears, Kentucky's voice in the United States Senate will be Democratic. The Legislature that convenes at Frankfort in December next, will elect the successor of Mr. Crittenden .-To that Legislature we present the name of John C. Breckenridge. One of the most graceful, eloquent, and convicting orators, Kentucky has ever produced; beyond all question the brightest star in the political firmament; a gentlemen of strict morality; the very pink of chivalry and soul of honor, he would take the lead in the Senate, and once more Kentucky would occupy the proud position of having furnished the most accomplished gentleman, the greatest Statesman, and the most eloquent orator to the National Council of the people. It is not our purpose, at this time, to detail the claims of Mr. Breckenridge upon the Democracy of Kentucky .-That is a "labor of love" which we will reserve until another time. We simply desire to put his name before the people as one worthy to be trusted and honored by them.

DEATH BY SNAKE-BITE.—We learn that on Thursday of last week, about one o'clock, a little boy of six years-son of John Weaver. who lives about two miles above Bald Eagle Furnace-followed a cat to the lower end of the garden; when a rattlesnake bit him eleven times, just below the knee. Another little brother called to his father, who was at some distance, that his brother was bitten by a snake. The father ran, picked up the child were bleeding profusely; he then carried it to the house, but before reaching the house, the child became deathly sick, vomited copously, and was soon entirely helpless. A physician was sent for, but about nine o'clock the next morning, death put an end to the little fellow's sufferings. It is thought that the fangs of the snake had struck a leading, artery, which carried the poison throughout the child's entire system at once, so that noth-Senator Douglas leaves this city on his re- ing could be done for him when the physi-

THE GWIN AND BRODERICK DUEL.—It is reported that Senators Broderick and Gwin, of California, will, when the election in that State is over, fight a duel. In their case, says the Cincinnati Commercial, it will be impossible to patch up "an amicable and honorable adjustment." If a duel is fought, the challenge, as the case stands, must come from Broderick. He was speaking within the bounds of propriety of Gwin, when the latter, hearing that his opponent had used disgraceful personalities, retorted, as he supposed. The fact was, Broderick had not used the language that provoked Gwin to heap unpardonable insults upon him. But a quarrel between them was from the first of the canvass seen to be inevitable. Broderick declared that when he opened the campaign that he would not be drawn into a duel. He knew there were a dozeu desperadoes, each ready to put him out of the way. Among these might be counted Pen Johnston and Gov. Denver. The present presumption is, that after the election, Broderick will have satisfaction out of his Senatorial colleague. It may be regarded as certain that if the "Lime Pointer," and the "Five Pointer," as they respectively denominate each other, meet on the "field of honor," the firing must continue until one is dead or disabled.

OLIVER SMITH'S WILL-MARRIAGE PORTIONS FOR THE MILLION.-Many years ago, Oliver Smith, an old bachelor who resided in one of the towns in Hampshire county, Mass., left the bulk of his property to be managed by trustess until it should amount to $400,000, when one-half of the income was to be annually given to twenty-one boys who should faithfully perform certain conditions of the will; one-fourth to eighteen girls; one eighth to fifty-four young women for marriage portions, and the remaining eighth to the same number of indigent and deserving widows .-The required sum will be reached in October next, and accordingly, about $10,800 will hereafter annually be distributed among the boys—about $516 apiece, making quite a prize for these who are lucky enough to secure it; as this distribution is to be an annual thing, an army of boys will in time be furnished with a handsome sum to start life with. "$5,-400 will be distributed among the girls-$300 apiece; $2,700 for marriage portions, making $50 apiece, which will pay for many of the necessary "fixings;" and the same sum ($50 apiece) to the widows. The trustees of the fund are annually elected, like all other town officers, and the principal of the fund is mainly loaned upon real estate in the various towns of the county. We are unacquainted with the prescribed requirement for obtaining the SOMETHING WORTH KNOWING .- Under this nead the Cincinnati Commercial says :- A day or two since a workman, descending a well which had been excavated on Barr st., was overpowered by the noxious gas, and became insensible. A light was let down, and as immediately extinguished from the same cause, when one of his comrades proposed to descend to his assistance, but was prevented by the foreman who wisely remarked, that one man could be rescued more easily than a couple. As speedily as possible he procured a quantity of unslacked lime, which he cast into the pit, and then dashed a pale of water. The good effect was evident in a brief space of time, for a pull at the rope was felt, and the man was drawn to the surface, having fortunately escaped any ill consequence from the remedy which had been used to dispel the carbonic acid gas.

A SNAKE AMONG THE POULTRY .- A correspondent of the Fredericksburg Herald, writ-

"A lady hearing an alarm in her hen house proceeded to ascertain the cause, and found a very large black snake. She sent immediately for husband, who shot its head off. and upon examination found it contained three eggs, seven chickens, and had swallowed a hen as far as the wings. A few days after another was killed in the same place, and its body contained fifteen eggs.

Twenty-six clergymen of Philadelphia, (Episcopal, Presbyterian, Baptist, Methodist, German Reformed and Dutch Reformed,) have united in an address to "Christians of all denominations," in which they propose that the first Monday in October next be set apart as a day of special prayer "that God would grant that His believing children may be made perfect in one, and that by the operation of the Holy Ghost, all Christians may be so joined together in unity of spirit, and in the bonds of peace, that they may be an holy temple, acceptable unto Him."

AND CONQUERED.

Of all the various ills that detract from the enjoyment of human life, most of them may be traced to a disordered condition of the nervous system. The horrors of Epilepsy, or Falling Sickness, arise in most cases from this cause. Our readers may remember, on several occasions before, we have alluded to the wonderful cures, or modifications of Fits, made by the Vegetable Extract Epileptic Pills, invented and prepared by Dr. Seth S. Hance, of 108 Baltimore street, Baltimore, Md. We feel fully satisfied that these Pills have cared some of the most subborn cases of Epilepsy, as well as the milder forms of Fits, such as severe Cramps, Spasms, &c. We now record the fact, that persons will find these Pills equally efficacious in curing every form of nervous debility;—no matter whether manifested in the acute and excruciating form of Neuralgia, Tic-Doloreux, or Nervous Headache, the misery of Dyspepsia or Indigestion, the sufferings of Ikheumatism or Gout, tho melancholly hallucination of depressed spirits or hysteria, their effects will be equally happy and certain. OFFICE, Hill street, opposite Dr. Luden, offers his profes-ional services to the citizens of Huntingdon and vicinity. April 13, 1859.

FEDICAL SCIENCE.

The history of "HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS," the most remarkable medicine of the day, and the many cures that have been performed with it in cases of LIVER COMPLAINT, DYSPEPSIA, NERVOUS DEBILITY, and diseases arising from a disordered liver or stomach, place it among the most astonishing discoveries that have taken place in the predical world. The diseases stomach, place it among the most astonishing discoveries that have taken place in the medical world. The discases to which these Bitters are applicable are so universal, that there are but few of our friends who may not test their virtues in their own families or circle of acquaintances, and prove to their own satisfaction that there is at least one remedy among the many advertised medicines, deserving the public commendation. It is a fact that, in the minds of many persons, a prejudice exists against what are called Patent Medicines; but why should this prevent you resorting to an article that has such an array of tesare called Patent Medicines; but why should this prevent you resorting to an article that has such an array of testimony to support it as Hoofland's German Bitters? Physicians prescribe it. Why should you discard it? Judges, usually considered men of talent, have and do use it in their own families. Why should you reject it? Clergymen, and those the most eminent, take it; why should not you? Let not your prejudice usurp your reason, to the everlasting injury of your health; if you are sick, and require a medicine, try these Bitters.

These Bitters are prepared and sold by Dr. C. M, Jackson, No. 418 Arch street, Philadelphia, Pa., and by druggists and storekeepers in every town and village in the United States, Canadas, West Indies, and South America, at 75 cents per bottle. See that the signature of C. M. Jackson is on the wrapper of each bottle.
