LOCAL & PERSONAL.

BRIEF LOCALS .- Roesen's magnificent paintings will go off in a few days. They can be seen at Lewis' Book Store, where everybody goes for the best article of stationery, splendid new family bibles, etc., etc., etc.

Sam'l H. Shoemaker will be Deputy Sheriff and Jailor under Gen. Watson-a good appointment.

A. W. Benedict, Esq., will be Sheriff Watson's Attorney-another good selection. Under roof and finishing-Maj. Steel's new building on Railroad street. Old locust corner don't look like it used to did. W. E. McMurtrie's new building is quite an improvement. Wonder if it is building for the Post Office under the next Administration? It's not safe to count chickens before they are hatched.

Plenty-apples, potatoes and such like, and at fair prices. Everybody not too lazy to work and eat, should be able to live through the winter.

Prof. Coyle and the Continentals gave concerts in Lewistown on Monday and Tuesday evenings this week.

The barrel of flour we received from A. J McCoy, can't be beat. It took the first premium at our County Fair.

Mrs. Rev. Barnetz will accept our thanks for several large beets.

LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.

Petersburg, Oct. 20, 1859.

Mr. Lewis:-Our citizens had the pleasure of welcoming Prof. Coyle and the Conti-nentals, on last Monday evening. They gave an entertainment of choice music, set to very appropriating words, descending from the "Star of the Evening," through the "Hunters Horn," and along the path of "The Laziest Man in all our Town," winding up by holding out the septimental to the spellbound and almost doomed lover of liquid damnation—whiskey. The entertainment was varied by Prof. Coyle's unparalleled vivacity; his burlesque on the medical profession, and the universal use of "Calomel," as well as his speech in favor of the science of song, will not soon be forgotten by those he entertained. But if any one part of the evening was brighter than another, it was that spent over the very palatable Lunch, prepared by our excellent citess, Mrs. J. R. Hunter. A toast being called, one of the guests proposed "The Hunter's Horn of plenty, may it ever be as bountifully represented as it is this evening." After Lunch, a beautiful boquet was presented by a guest, for the Ladies to the chief of the Band. As they received it, they were reminded of the charm their name carried with it when every "Beautiful Star" in our Galaxy, waved a trembling, but determined defiance to the British Lion; and the roar of his artillery was answered by the still small voice of Continental Rifles, as they sang the requium alike of Tories and of Tyrants. Prof. Coyle received the bunch of choice flowers, in a well timed reply, congratulating himself and Band, on the happy termination of their visit, complimenting the Ladies on their Musical, and Culinary attainments; wishing them a lasting enjoyment of homes and firesides, secured to them by the valor of "The Continentals."

Mr. Editor:-The Franklin teachers are at work. Their Institute is again revived, the first session of which was held at Mechanicsville on Friday evening, the 14th inst. Their celebrated chieftain, Major Zentmyer, in his usually unassuming manner, occupied the chair.

Mr. E. F. Anderson, called upon by the President, entertained the audience with a highly interesting and timely oration, (subject—why do we educate?) He spoke in his usually commending and eloquent style, not failing to win the applause of a crowded house, and the esteem and approbation of his patrons; and closed with the sublime sentiment, that "the soul is the field and vineyard which every individual is to take care of, to dress and to keep."

An interesting discussion, upon the subject of Phonography, then took place, which was introduced by Mr. De Forest, and continued in a spiritual manner until a late hour, by the literati present The following day was occupied with discussions upon various subjects.

"It is the hand of the diligent that maketh rich," and we learn that the teachers of Franklin are sparing no pains to promote the educational interests of their district, and send out a literary breeze from the "upper end" which shall not return void.

"Thought, too, delivered, is the more possessed, Teaching, we learn, and giving, we receive."

We are proud to see, manifested in the citizens of this vicinity, a deep interest in the education of youth. Let such an interest be everywhere cherished. Youth is the hope of the world, and as the morals and intelligence of the future depend, in an eminent degree, upon a wise improvement of the present, let every means be employed to train up "Young America" in the way he should go-

"Though louder fame attend the martial rage, 'Tis greater glory to reform the age."

Near Newton Hamilton, on the morning of the 18th inst., Mrs. Lydia Van Zandt, in the 57th year of her age. She knew no pain, she felt no fear When she saw the messenger Death drawing near, But, smiling, she said, come, welcome thou art, For I'm ready through God's free grace to depart.

In Newton Hamilton, on the 10th inst., Mrs. Sarah Ann Cornelius, aged about 36 years.

PHILADELPHIA MARKETS.

Monday, Oct. 24, 1859.—The flour market is firmer, but there is comparatively very little demand for shipment, and standard shipping brands were offered less freely at $5 12½ with sales of 3 or 400 bbls at that rate. The trade however, are the principal buyers, at prices ranging from $5 12½ up to $5 50, 6 50 and 7 00 per bbl for extra and fancy brands, according to quality; the receipts and stocks are light for the season. Rye flour is selling in a small way at $4 25, and Pennsylvania corn meal at $4 per bbl, but there is very little of either here. Wheat—there is not much doing; the receipts and stocks continue light, and the market is firm, but the millers are not buying to any extent; sales comprise about 3,000 bushel prime Pennsylvania and Southern red at 1 25c. and some common and good white at 1 30@135c. Rye is steady, and 250 bushels of Delaware sold at 86c; Pennsylvania is worth 90c.—Corn is wanted, and about 4,000 bushels yellow, all offered, found buyers at 95c afloat. A small lot of new Pennsylvania, very dry, brought $0c. Oats are not much inquired for, but prime Southern are steady at 43c. A sale of Pennsylvania was made at 43c. MONDAY, Oct. 24, 1859.—The flour market is firmer, but

For a long time a certain class of diseases have baffled the skill and practice of the most eminent members of the For a long time a certain class of diseases have builled the skill and practice of the most eminent members of the regular medical faculty. Foremost among these we might instance epilepsy or falling fits. Happily now by the skill and inventive genius of an eminent chemist of Baltimore, Md., this disease has been brought within the means of a cure. We allude to the preparation called the Vegerable Extract Epileptic Pills, invented and prepared by Dr. Seth S. Hance, of 108 Baltimore street, Baltimore, Md. Since their discovery many persons who had given up all hope of ever being cured, have been restored to the full enjoyment of health. Prominent among these we might enumerate Mr. Harrison Lightfoot, of Huntsville, Alabama. Mr. L. has suffered as much from Epilepsy, as any other person in the world; never knowing what it was to pass a week without having an attack, and often falling in the streets of Huntsville. He is now fully restored and has not had an attack for more than a year. Dr. Hance's Pills have been the sure cause of this cure. These pills also cure all modifications of Fits, Spasms, Cramps, &c., and are very serviceable for persons of weak nerves. Br. Hance, sends them to any part of the country on the receipt of a remittance. Price, one box, $3; two, $5; twelve, $24. Address Seth S. Hance, 108 Baltimore street, Baltimore, Md.
