THE GLOBE.

Huntingdon, Wednesday, Nov. 16, 1859.

LOCAL & PERSONAL.

Prof. Coyle's Concert met with unbounded success-last night. The Hall was literally jammed with one of the most intelligent and appreciative audiences Huntingdon can boast of. The ladies (dear creatures) excelled anything we have yet heard eminate from their kind in this place. Those who did not attend last night, should not fail to be present to-night. They are assisted by the Con-

MELANCHOLY ACCIDENT .- On Friday morning last ex-Sheriff Greenland met with a sad and melancholy accident, which might have resulted in his death. He was returning home from this place in a buggy, accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. John Black, and when about four miles from here, his horse took fright, caused by the buggy wheel coming in contact with a log lying in the road, and started off at full speed. The Sheriff held on to the reins until the buggy came against a small bridge crossing the road, (known to the country people as a "corduroy bridge," from the fact of it being made of round pieces of timber,) and there being an offset, the sudden jolt threw the Sheriff out, causing his overcoat to become entangled in the wheels. He was dragged a considerable distance, causing him to be mutilated in a horrible manner, but, fortunately, no bones were broken. He was taken up insensible, by a man near by, and carried to a neighbor's house, where medical aid was summoned and his wounds dressed. He remained insensible until sometime the next day, when he became conscious of what had happened to him. Strange as it may appear, the lady remained in the buggy, holding on to the child she carried in her arms, until the horse had run about a mile at "break-neck" speed. On going up a hill he became tired, and slackened his pace to a walk, when the lady jumped out of the back part of the buggy with the child in her arms, thus escaping uninjured. She had hardly got out before the horse again started off at full speed, breaking the buggy all to pieces. She deserves credit for the presence of mind she maintained, in not jumping out when the horse was running as it might have resulted in the death of both her and the child.

The Sheriff was brought to town on Sunday, and is now lying at the residence of his son-in-law, J. Simpson Africa, and we are pleased to learn that he is recovering slowly.

DENTISTRY .- Our whole-souled, clever and obliging friend, Dr. R. Allison Miller, is always prepared and ready to extract, fill, or insert new teeth, on the most reasonable terms, and on the shortest possible notice .- | that her citizens are incompetant of employing The Dr. can't be beat extracting or filling | their pens on matters pertinent to the colteeth, as we can testify, having experienced | umns of a modern paper. But the true cause the operation of both, a short time since, at may probably be attributed to their being of his hands. If any of our friends want anything done in his line, we would advise them to favor the Dr. with a call, as he does his work right, and his charges are moderate.-His office is in the brick row opposite the Court House.

Broke Jail .- Theodore Goodrich, a prisoner awaiting his trial for the larceny of a watch, scaled the wall of the jail on Wednesday evening last. He was in the yard cutting wood, and the idea striking him he had been in "durance vile" long enough, he made a rope out of a comfort, and attaching one end of it to the bars of the upper window, he climbed up on to the roof, and from thence to the wall, making good his escape. The Sheriff offers $40 for his delivery at the jail, or $25 for any information which may lead to "SHAKSPEARE AND HIS FRIENDS."-This large and magnificent engraving is furnished to subscribers to the Cosmopolitan Art Association, for the sixth year, for the small sum of three dollars. The beautiful Art Journal is also sent to subscribers without any additional charge. Then the subscriber has a chance to receive something in addition worth hundreds of dollars. See advertisement in another column, and call on Mr. Jno. J. Lawrence, Honorary Secretary, at the Broad Top Station, for further particulars, who will take pleasure in exhibiting the fine engraving.

NEW SCHEDULES .- The Pennsylvania Central and Broad Top Railroads, changed schedules on Monday last. The Broad Top passenger train leaves this place at 7.40 A. M., and returns at 12.34. Leaves again at 4.00 P. M., and returns at 8.16. The Pennsylvania Central trains arrive as follows: West -Express, 6.56 A. M.; Fast Line, 7.30 P.M.; Mail, 5.49 P. M. East-Express, 11.00 P. M.; Fast Line, 9.21, A. M.; Mail, 1.10

Dr. R. Shelton Mackenzie, literary editor of The Press, will lecture before the Standing-Stone Literary Association, to-morrow evening, in the Court House. All who wish to enjoy a literary feast, should not fail to attend. Dr. Mackenzie is one of the most learned men of the age, and as a lecturer, has few superiors. Don't fail to attend, if you do not wish to deprive yourself of a feast rarely offered in this place.

The "Home String Band" is bound to have a crowded house the night of the con. cert. They make sweet music, and deserve to be patronized. The ladies, too, who are to assist them, can not fail to attract a crowd. They are deserving of much praise and success.

THE NEW OYSTER SALOON .-- Mr. G. Ash. Miller has fitted up in good style the large hall over his store for the accommodation of friends, the ladies in particular. Peter, the polite and accommodating Peter, is there, and keeps every thing in good trim. Give the new Saloon a call and try the Oysters-you may expect the best, with fixins to suit.

To Correspondents .- We hope our friends will mail their correspondence so that we may receive them no later than Monday, as we go to press on Tuesday afternoon. We would be pleased to receive local news from every town and township in the county regularly every week, or as often as it might be convenient for some friend in each to report to us.

THANKSGIVING .- To-morrow week is the day set apart by the Governor of this Commonwealth, as a day of praise and Thanksgiving, and we hope our citizens will regard it as such. Surely, we can afford one day in the year for a duty of this kind, and therefore, we trust it will be observed by our merchants and business men generally.

Alexandria, though not very large, still ranks next in size to Huntingdon, in the county, and in regard to its situation for natural beauty, it cannot be surpassed. But the disadvantages of not having a Railroad, is a great obstacle as regards the business of the place—the nearest station being Petersburg, a distance of three miles.

The people here, are generally sociable, sober, moral, and democratic.

There are three schools in operation here at present; the advanced school being in | CARDS, charge of Mr. McKibben, who is a gentleman of superior qualifications, and very successful as a teacher.

The ladies of this place, are well deserving of notice for the worthy zeal they evince in charitable objects, and which they are now manifesting in the missionary cause, than which they could not have a subject more worthy of their benevolence.

Locals being scarce, you will excuse brevity. But should anything occur to interrupt the even tenor of our ways, you may expect to hear again from

From Charlestown, Va.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 13 .- Considerable excitement still prevails at Charlestown. The Mayor has issued a proclamation appointing committee to look after strangers and bring them before the Justice of Peace. Mr. Hoyt and Mr. Jewell, the latter the Leslie artist, received notice from Col. Taylor that they were not safe, and accordingly left, arriving here to-day. Mr. Jewell was accused of being the correspondent of the New York Tribune, whose letters have caused considerable ill-feeling.

SHOCKING DEATH .- We learn from the Middletown Journal that a young man named George Bower, formerly of that place, died very suddenly, at Hummelstown, on Wednesday. It appears he had a very large wart on one of his hands, and was induced, by some one, to cut it out, and apply arsenic to destroy the roots. He applied the poison on Monday, after having cut out the wart. The cut being very deep, the poison communicated with the leading arteries, and he was thereby poisoned.—Harrisburg Telegraph.

Wilmington, Del., Sept. 17, 1859.—Messes. Evans & Watson, Philadelphia.

Gentlemen:—The Salamander Fire-Proof Safe of your Gentlemen:—The Salamander Fire-Proof Safe of your manufacture, purchased by us from your Agent, Ferris & Garrett, of our city, some nine months ago, was severely tried by burglars last Saturday night, and although they had a sledge hammer, cold chisels, drill and gunpowder, they did not succed in opening the Safe. The lock being one of "Hall's Patent Powder-proof," they could not get the powder into it, but drilled a hole in the lower panel and forced in a large charge, which was ignited, and although the door, inside and out, showed the explosion not to have been a small one, it was not forced open. We suppose they were the greater part of the night at work on it. We are much gratified at the result of the attempt to enter it, and if the above facts are of any service, you are at liberty to use them. Yours, truly, at liberty to use them. Yours, truly, BAYNARD & JONES.

GREAT FIRE!-ANOTHER TRIUMPH!!

Mcssrs. EVANS & WATSON, Philadelphia:

Gentlemen.—It affords me great pleasure to say to you that the Salamander Safe which I purchased of you in February, 1858, proved to be what you recommended it—a sure protection from fire. My storehouse, together with several others, was burned to the ground in March last.—The Safe fell through into the cellar, and was exposed to intense heat for six or eight hours. and when it was taken The Safe fell through into the cellar, and was exposed to intense heat for six or eight hours, and when it was taken from the ruins and opened, all its contents where found to be in a perfect state, the books and the papers not being injured any whatever. I can cheerfully recommend your Safes to the community, believing, as I do, that they are as near fire-proof as it is possible for any Safe to be made.

QUCCESS COMPLETE! JUST ISSUED. THE FOURTH EDITION OF GROBE'S NEW METHOD FOR THE PIANO. Opus 1100.

Bulletin of testimonials in favor of this unique work, which has already attained an unprecedented popularity.

From "The Musical Review," New York. From "The Musical Review," New York.

We must confess that we are naturally not very favorably idelined to new methods for the piano. We have had so many instructions during the last twenty years, that we really think mankind ought, at least, to know how to play the piano-forte. However, Mr. Grobe's book has somewhat altered our mind. It offers really something new, containing some truth we have not met with until now in any other method. It adheres for once to the principle, "Things before sons." He justly says, "The reality (playing) should come first, and the things which folong to notation should follow.' This is excellent. This is just.

The whole system is based upon to notation should follow? This is excellent. This is just. This is true and natural. The whole system is based upon this principle—always with special regard to the primary instruction in the art of playing the piano. It is for this reason that such matters as belong to a more advanced period in the player's art are excluded, and will follow in another book. The music in the book practically illustrates the principle of the author. The whole is to the point, and will be found extremely useful."

From "The Musical World," New York.

"First, we find a very sensible preface, in the course of which a list is given of the most distinguished of his predecessors in the book-making and piano-teaching profession—the date of their birth and death being not forgotten. Mr. Grobe is doubtless better posted in the matter of musical biography than any other musical man. We of musical biography than any other musical man. We find, next, some excellent advice to teachers, which we should like to transcribe to our columns, had we space.—Mr. Grobe's admirable book is, on the whole, heartily to be recommended to the musical public.

be recommended to the musical public.

From "The Daily Picayune," New Orleans.

"Mr. Grobe stands very high as a professor and teacher, and composer for the piano. The book he now gives to the public bears upon its face, to every experienced and practised eye, conviction that there is a valuable addition to the rudimentary musical lore of the country and the world. A better primary instructor in the art, and especially in the science of nanoplaying, has never hefere cially in the science of piano-playing, has never before been published."

From "The Public Ledger," Philadelphia.

"Lee & Walker have published Professor Charles Grobe's
New Method for the Piano, which is one of the best elementary works upon the subject extant. Mr. Grobe is a thorough master of his subject, and he leads the pupils pleasantly through the task, by making it clear, simple, progressive and practical."

Copies will be sent by mail, free of postage, on the re-Copies will be sold - ceipt of the marked price.
