The Concerts given by the Home

Maj. Wm. Moore, the successful candidate for Director of the Poor, has taken his position in the Board. The Board is now composed of James Murphy, David Clarkson, Esq., and Wm. Moore. If they fail to discharge their duties well, it will not be because they are not sufficiently informed of the demands of the taxpayers.

10 Yesterday we received two handsome cuts of deer, brought to town by Wm. F. Shaw and Dr. Neff, who had been in the Clearfield regions amusing themselves for several days. The gentlemen have our thanks for remembering us. Anderson has no objections to other gentlemen helping to feed us.

103 We learn that Mr. Isaac Neff, of West township, Treasurer of this county a few years ago, died very suddenly in his chair at his residence, on Wednesday last. Mr. Neff was a very stout man, and we saw him on our streets in good health but a few days before his death.

OUR MARKET .-- Plenty of everything at Pennsylvania---New York.

The late elections in the great States of Pennsylvania and New York, should be received by the leaders of the Republican party and of the Administrationists as significant lessons. The very light vote polled in each of these great States, despite the strenuous efforts made to create excitement and a general turnout of the people, shows conclusively that neither the sectional, geographical creed of the Republicans, nor the proscriptive and equally sectional discipline of the National Administration party meets with any affirmative response from the mass of the voters.

The hurried tramp of Presidential aspirants and their backers is now heard throughout the land. The dear people are invoked, by the most solemn appeals and besought in most pitiful accents, to give some indication, some sign, however slight, which may serve String Band, on Tuesday and Wednesday | to show the man of their choice. All in evenings last, in the Court House, met with desided success. The bound on both cost decided success. The house on both occa-sions, was crowded. The ladies who so kind-their backs on the most pressing appeals of the politicians. There must be some cause for this sluggishness of the people, so amazing to those who seek so earnestly for the direction of the popular eye. It is not owing to a lack of interest in State affairs .-well, and we have no doubt but that they The vast majority of the voters of the United will be able to vie with any other String States are patriotic. Despite the sneers of English travelers, and the false notions of gamblers in politics, on all fitting occasions they are justly alive to the dictates of duty. which has already attained an unprecedented popularity. From "The Musical Review," New York. We must confess that we are naturally not very favora-bly inclined to new methods for the piano. We have had so many instructions during the last twenty years, that we really think mankind ought, at least, to know how to play the piano-forte. However, Mr. Grobe's book has somewhat altered our mind. It offers really something new, containing some truth we have not met with until now in any other method. It adheres for once to the prin-ciple, "THINGS DEFORE SIGNS." He justly says, 'The reality (playing) should come first, and the things which belong to notation should follow.' This is excellent. This is just.

(pittying) should collow? This is excellent. This is just. This is true and natural. The whole system is based upon this principle—always with special regard to the primary instruction in the art of playing the piano. It is for this reason that such matters as belong to a more advanced pe-riod in the player's art are excluded, and will follow in another book. The music in the book practically illus-trates the principle of the author. The whole is to the point, and will be found extremely useful." From "The Musical World," New York. "First, we find a very sensible preface, in the course of which a list is given of the most distinguished of his pre-decessors in the book-making and piano-teaching profes-sion—the date of their birth and death being not forgot-ten. Mr. Grobe is doubtless better posted in the matter of musical biography than any other musical man. Wo find, next, some excellent advice to teachers, which we should like to transcribe to our columns, had we space.— HE "GLOBE JOB OFFICE" is BILL HEADS, ly assisted them, performed well, and deserve praise for their musical talent. The young gentlemen of the Band, executed their part Band in the State, before long, if they go on improving themselves, as they have done .---Success to them.

THANKSGIVING IN HUNTINGDON.-The stores, shops and offices were closed, with the latch string hanging out to accommodate country friends. There was preaching in the several churches, and less noise and confusion in town than on any former similar occasion .----There was a large number of turkeys put out of the way, but 'nary' one at our house, as our 'keeper' failed to provide one for us -but Prof. Coyle was more fortunate, and we were pressed into the service as carver, and, of course, we helped ourself.

M. F. Campbell, Esq., took his place in the Board of County Commissioners on the first week of Court. We have reason to believe him an honest man, and that he will give the duties of the office his strict attention. George W. Mattern and John Flenner have been tried, and so far as our own knowledge extends, have not been found wanting. We hope the taxpayers may have no reason in the future, to complain of either their official or private acts.

THE LARGEST POTATOES .--- On Wednesday last, Mr. David Ramsey, of Huston township, Blair county, left at our office a dozen and more, of the largest and finest looking potatoes we ever saw. dence. We have not the least doubt, that the people of the United States will rally, not to the call of the politicians, but in response to the call of duty, and affirm that just decision which they gave through the ballot box in '56, as to the proper course to be persued in. reference to the question of Slavery in the Territories. This is the only question which causes any uneasy feeling between the North and the South. Had President Buchanan lived up to the spirit by which he professed to be animated in 1856, and faithfully carried into practice the principle embodied in the Kansas-Nebraska Act, and in the Cincinnati platform, instead of "bending the knee to Baal" and kissing the Southern rod, this distracting question would never have arisen again to trouble the land. The people ruled it out of national politics, the President of their choice deceived them, and thrust its horrid and frightful form again on the political arena. Had his faith been true, and had he cherished the gratitude due to his countrymen for long continued honors conferred on him, he would sooner have died than have betrayed the party which made him President. When the infamous Lecompton Constitution was brought to Washington, if, even then, he had handed it over to Congress with the single remark, as General Jackson did in reference to Arkanas General Sackson did in reference to Arkan-sas, "Gentlemen of Congress this is a subject for your decision,"—his friends would have stood by and supported him, and the Democratic party instead of being divided and torn weighed three and a half pounds. Hunting- into fragments by dissensions as it now is, would continue for long years to come, the dominant party in the government. The Republican organization with its sectional, geopraghical ideas of government had placed its all on the result of the election of '56, and with its defeat had sunk into a helpless, hopeless condition, from which it had no prospect of raising, save by the errors and mistakes of its successful adversary, in reference to the Slavery question.-Lancaster Inquirer.

contents of a Salamander Safe, of Evans & Watson, after being exposed to a strong fire on the Fair Grounds for eight hours, respectfully represent— That after seven cords of oak wood and three of pine had been consumed around the Safe, it was opened in the presence of the committee, and the contents taken out, a little warmed, but not even scorched. Several Silver Medals heretofore received by the manu-facturers, and a large quantity of documents were in the Safe, and came out entirely uninjured. The experiment satisfied us of the capacity of Safes of this kind to protect contents from any fire to which they may be exposed.

may be exposed. The Committee awarded a Diploma and Silver Medal.

STILL ANOTHER.

STILL ANOTHER. WIMINGTON, Del., Sept. 17, 1859.—Messrs. EVANS & WAT-son, Philadelphia. Gentlemen:—The Salamander Fire-Proof Safe of your manufacture, purchased by us from your Agent, Ferris & Garrett, of our city, some nine months ago, was severely tried by burglars last Saturday night, and although they had a sledge hammer, cold chisels, drill and gunpowder, they did not succeed in opening the Safe. The lock being one of "Hall's Patent Powder-proof," they could not get the powder into it, but drilled a hole in the lower panol and forced in a large charge, which was ignited, and al-though the door, inside and out, showed the explosion not to have beer a small one, it was not forced open. We sup-pose they were the greater part of the night at work on it. We are much gratified at the result of the attampt to enter it, and if the above facts are of any service, you are at liberty to use them. Yours, truly, BAYNARD & JONES.

GREAT FIRE!-ANOTHER TRIUMPHI!! KNOXVILE, Tennessee, March 13th, 1859. Messrs. EVANS & WATSON, Philadelphia: Gentlemen-It affords me great pleasure to say to you that the Salamander Safe which I purchased of you in February, 1858, proved to be what you recommended it-a sure protection from fire. My storehouse, together with several others, was burned to the ground in March last.-The Safe fell through into the collar, and was exposed to intense heat for six or eight hours, and when it was taken from the ruins and opened, all its contents where found to be in a perfect state, the books and the papers not being injured any whatever. I can cheerfully recommend your Safes to the community, believing, as I do, that they are as near fire-proof as it is possible for any Safe to be made. THOMAS J. POWELL. ST A large assortment of the above SAFES always on hand, at 304 Chestnut street, (late 24 South Fourth street,) Philadelphia. Nov. 16, 1859.]

of musical biography than any other musical man. We find, next, some excellent advice to teachers, which we should like to transcribe to our columns. had we space.— Mr. Grobe's admirable book is, on the whole, heartily to be recommended to the musical public. "From "The Daily Picayune," New Orleans. "Mr. Grobe stands very high as a professor and teacher, and composer for the piano. The book he now gives to the public bears upon its face, to every experienced and prac-tised eye, conviction that there is a valuable addition to the rudimentary musical lore of the country and the world. A better primary instructor in the art, and espe-cially in the science of piano-playing, has never before been published." From "The Public Ledger," Philadelphia. "Lee & Walker have published Professor Charles Grobe's New Method for the Piano, which is one of the best ele-mentary works upon the subject extant. Mr. Grobe is a throrough master of his subject, and he leads the pupils pleasantly through the task, by making it clear, simple, progressive and practical." Copies will be sent by mail, free of postage, on the re-ceipt of the marked price. LEE & WALKER, Publishers, 722 Chestuut street, Philadelphia. Nov. 9, 1859.
