We congratulate the Governor on the selection of Mr. Long for that position. He is a gentleman of sound judgment, much business experience and unbending integrity.-That he enjoys the respect and confidence of the people of this, his native county, is abundantly testified by the return of the election of 1856, when as a candidate for the Judgeship, he received within four votes as many as his Republican competitor. We feel assured that he will discharge the duties of his new position with honor to himself and to the credit and dignity of the Court. dings and good cheer in general. Speaking of weddings calls to memory a streak of luck ing. On last Saturday we found in our box a neatly enveloped letter. This being a rare occurrence, we opened the missive, and found, traced by some gentle hand, an invitation to attend a wedding, or rather an infair party, at the house of our esteemed friend, Aaron Beyer. Well we did not throw up our hat, or attempt to lift ourself by our boot-straps, or attempt to lift ourself by our boot-straps, nor did we do anything else extravagant, but simply wrote a reply, as politely as possible, accepting the invitation, and promising to be present on the day specified. On Wednesday morning, we scraped our chin, blacked our boots, put on our best rig, hunted up the "calico" assigned to our care, and made our "calico" assigned calico" assigned to our care, and made our way to the place before mentioned. Here we accomplished bride-formerly Miss Woolverton, of Cassville Seminary—and quite a number of our Huntingdon county acquaintances; among whom were our friend Green, of the Continentals, and the County Superintendent. The latter gentleman obliged us, individually, by carving a huge turkey, which had by some means, escaped on "the Governor's Sunday." The dinner did honor to those who provided it, and the guests (speaking from experience) did ample justice to the dinner. KINGSTON, CALDWELL COUNTY, Mo., November 30, 1859. FRIEND LEWIS: -As I have been thinking for some time of writing you a letter, and now having an hour at my disposal, I will try and carry out the idea. And first to begin, I believe I will tell you how I happen to be in this out of the way place. Well, for some time, I have been meditating a visit to this State to see a brother in Chaiton county, and also to take a hunt while away from home .-So on Monday evening, the 28th, I took the cars at Monmouth, and went up to Galesburg, Knox county, and there took the train for Quincy, Illinois, where I stopped till Tuesday morning, crossed the river at that place, and took the train for Palmyra; there took the Hannibal & St. Joseph Railroad out into the interior of this State. Having a friend at Laclede, 109 miles out from Hannibal, I concluded to go on to that place and see him first before visiting my brother, who lives south of the road, and about 70 miles from the river. When I stepped off the cars at Laclede, the first man I saw, was the aforesaid friend, with his carpet sack in hand, just ready to take the train I was leaving, for a point about be given for the pupils of the various schools | 45 miles further west, and within 50 miles of St. Joseph. As his business was such as to prevent his staying, I took my seat in the cars with him and came on to Hamilton, in ling prairie, through which meander several small streams, along some of which are fine groves of timber, along others a few stunted trees, with patches of brush and hazel bushes; On Wednesday evening last, the young sumac and elder in abundance grow along all that are left of what was intended for the great city of the faithful-but alas! for human calculations, Joe had to leave in hot ted, and seek a new home on the Mississippi, at Nanvoo. But as the history of Joseph and his followers has heretofore been written, I shall not follow him-but only remark that whatever faults and failings he may have been guilty of, Joe was a good judge of land, as any one can satisfy himself of who will take the trouble to look at the land around "Far West," or in Hancock county, Illinois, souri, so far as I have seen it. And first, from the Mississippi the land is somewhat broken and rough—not so fine as much of Illinois, and from what I can learn, water is not so easily obtained as in Illinois: but out well watered with running streams-limestone crops out along the banks, the very best of building material; and sand appears plenty along the creeks. As yet, the country is but very little settled. These counties appear about in the condition the Northern counties of Illinois did ten years ago, and make the finest stock range here that could be desired. To-day I saw a great many young mules, of a good quality, running at large, on the prairie and hazel roughs, and as far as I can learn, are the main staple.-The cattle, so far as I could see, are not so good a quality as with us. After Illinois, I should say that this was going to be one of the finest States in the Union. But as the stage is due in a few minutes, I will close, hoping to be able next time to do better.

We do not think a person can evince a more benevolent trait of character than being moved at the distress and suffering of others, and furthermore, anxious to do all in their power to alleviate by every possible means human suffering. In this view of the case, we do not know how the humane and benevolent can do an action more in accordance with their philanthropic views, than by calling the attention of their afflicted friends and acquaintances to the fact, that Dr. Seth S. That after seven cords of oak wood and three of pine had been consumed around the Safe, it was opened in the presence of the committee, and the contents taken out, a little warmed, but not even scorched.

Several Silver Medals heretofore received by the manufacturers, and a large quantity of documents were in the Safe, and came out entirely uninjured.

The experiment satisfied us of the capacity of Safes of this kind to protect contents from any fire to which they may be exposed.

STILL ANOTHER.

WILMINGTON, Del., Sept. 17, 1859.—Messrs. Evans & Warson, Philadelphia.

Gentlemen:—The Salamander Fire-Proof Safe of your manufacture, purchased by us from your Agent, Ferris & Garrett, of our city, some nine months ago, was severely tried by burglars last Saturday night, and although they had a sledge hammer, cold chisels, drill and gunpowder, they did not succeed in opening the Safe. The lock being one of "Hall's Patent Powder-proof," they could not get the powder into it, but drilled a hole in the lower panel and forced in a large charge, which was ignited, and although the door, inside and out, showed the explosion not to have been a small one, it was not forced open. We suppose they were the greater part of the night at work on it. We are much gratified at the result of the attempt to enter it, and if the above facts are of any service, you are at liberty to use them.

Yours, truly,

BAYNARD & JONES.

EVANS & WATSON, Philadelphia: Gentlemen—It affords me great pleasure to say to you that the Salamander Safe which I purchased of you in February, 1858, proved to be what you recommended it—a sure protection from fire. My storehouse, together with several others, was burned to the ground in March last—The Safe fell through into the celiar, and was exposed to intense heat for six or eight hours, and when it was taken from the ruins and opened, all its contents where found to be in a perfect state, the books and the papers not being injured any whatever. I can cheerfully recommend your be in a perfect state, the books and the papers not teeing injured any whatever. I can cheerfully recommend your Sales to the community, believing, as I do, that they are as near fire-proof as it is possible for any Safe to be made.
