THE GLOBE.

Huntingdon, Wednesday, Jan. 11, 1860.

LOCAL & PERSONAL.

LEAP YEAR.—This is Leap Year, and the year in which the ladies have the preference in everything, especially in the way of inviting the gentlemen to parties, balls, &c., as well as footing the bills. But another and far greater privilege is theirs,-that of "popping the question." Go it ladies, and improve the golden opportunity, while it is yours. You will not have another chance for four years. Think of it, and we feel assured you will not let it go by without an attempt at "proposal," anyhow. Golly, if we were a lady, wouldn't we ask the beaux? Well we would. Just try it on once, and see how quick they'll cave. As we write this item, a verdant youth entered our office and asked us if there was a cake shop near about here, who, we think, would make an excellent subject for the young ladies to try their fascinating powers on, and who, we feel quite certain, could not nor would not refuse any one of them. He informed us he was in with a load of wood, and would like to have some ginger cakes and small beer. If any of the ladies will take the trouble to call on us, and will promise to propose to the gentleman, we will give his name. We can recommend him as an intelligent, good looking and an accomplished gentleman of the first water, for we have known him since our childhood. Now is your choice ladies, if you wish to secure a good husband. We are sorry we neglected asking him about the matter. But we will see him again. He told us he would be in in town soon again with some butter and eggs.

SLIPPERY .- On Saturday last our streets were one mass of ice, and it was amusing to see pedestrians sliding along on the pavements, and ever and anon coming "sock" down, full length. We witnessed several freaks, which reminded us foreibly of the words of the good Book, "The wicked shall not stand on slippery places." People should at Harrisburg; is authorized to sit thirty sprinkle ashes in front of their dwellings, to days; pay, $2 per day and ten cents mileage. enable those whose business calls them out in such weather, to get along. It would not be a big job, if every one would do so, as no one's premises is so large that they could not find time to do that much to save the life or limbs of some of their fellow men, perhaps.-We have in our possession an article called "Ice Creeper," which we purchased in Pittsburgh during a recent visit, and is the very thing to protect persons from slipping on icy pavements. It is made to fit the heel of the boot or shoe, and has six projecting prongs of about quarter of an inch in length, is fastened to the heel by means of a screw, and subject, which, in my opinion, is of more can be put on and taken off in a moment's time. We are very much pleased with the invention, and expect to see it come into universal use ere long.

SLEIGHING.—We have had excellent sleighing in this nec' o' timber for a week past .-The boys and gals made the best of it too .-The tintinnabulations of the merry sleigh bells greeted our ears almost constantly, from early dawn till the wee sma' hours o' the night. Last Sunday, however, played sad havor with the snow, and to-day the streets are in a sloppy condition. During the whole period of good sleighing, nobody said "sleigh ride" to us. We don't complain, however .-We know printers are not other people, and that their sleigh rides, are mighty few and fur between. We like to see our friends en. joy themselves in that way. It is glory enough for us to see others. But, never mind, if we cver quit printing, maybe we will get able to own a horse and sleigh, and then,—well, we'll not say what.

THE SWISS BELL RINGERS.—It is not often we have the pleasure of calling the attention ate," is, perhaps, the most cogent refutation of our readers to an entertainment so highly pleasing, as the Blaisdell Troupe of Swiss Bell Ringers. The entertainment given on Monday night was a novelty as well as inter- those that "earn their bread by daily toil" esting and amusing. Mrs. Blaisdell is an excellent performer on the Bells. She is attraction, of the foolish opinion, "that honest toil tive, graceful in her manners, plays the Harp degrades the man." This address, unlike to perfection, and sings charmingly. Miss Flora and Little Katy also perform well on the Bells, to be so young, and sing sweetly. The remainder of the Troupe are skillful mu- and cogent style, replete with important insicians and understand their business.

friend, that some of old mother's Eve's aged daughters are having a good time in the back streets. They are in the habit of meeting at can give an adequate idea of its intrinsic neighbors' houses, unexpectedly, of course, worth, I would recommend—as a matter of under the head of "surprise parties." Our informant says they generally make it suit to congregate during the absence of the male portion of the family; and then, the way they dance and talk and giggle, is a caution to all. They beat the young folks all to smash. Go it old women, we'll hold your dude, if called on.

Court.—The crowd in town is respectably large-and almost every body has something to say about the condition of affairs generally. We find but very few willing to believe that either the fanatics of the North, or the disunionists of the South, can seriously disturb the peace of the Union. When they arrive at "their rope's end," the people will step forward and take matters into their own

LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.

Mr. Lewis:-Permit me, through the colamus of your excellent paper, to advert to a practical importance to this community, than all the buncome speeches of Congress, John Brown eulogies, or other superficial matter, which, of late, have so abundantly flooded the columns of our public journals. I refer to the subject of domestic labor, and inasmuch as I have neither ability or disposition to discuss this important topic, I would refer your readers to an effort in this direction, by UICK SALES Hon. Geo. Taylor. The Judge kindly handed me a copy, of an address delivered by him before the Agricultural Society of Blair and Cambria counties, in October last, and which has been published in a neat pamphlet form by the former Society.

The fact of the address being published in pamphlet form by the Society, together with the Judge's reputation as a practical agriculturalist and excellent writer, prompted me to give the address a careful perusal. The result was, my admiration was raised far above my most sanguine expectation. The style of ts composition, to say nothing of the practical matter it contains, is, of itself, a sufficient commendation of its excellence. Its practical remarks, and sterling home thrusts, should be treasured by every one interested in the subject upon which it treats as a digest of the experience and observations of scientific agriculturalists, it has, perhaps, no superior.

The notice of the remarks made "by a distinguished member of the United States Senof the unwise assertion that has ever been given, stripped of its adjective, by the "Judge" t is made the basis of a very happy application of the important position occupied by and their relation to the growing greatness of our country, ending with a scathing refutamost productions of the same character, gradually culminates in a happy, forcible manner-each page presenting some new idea, discussed in the Judge's usual perspicuous stances of the application of his theory. Upon the whole I regard the pamphlet as a valua-Surprise Parties.—We are informed by a ble Text Book which should be found in the house of every one interested in the subject upon which it treats, and inasmuch as nothing short of a verbatum copy of its contents much importance to your readers-its publication in your columns. [The Address of Judge Taylor, will be published in the "Globe" next week.-ED.]

MR. EDITOR:-The young ladies of this place, favored us, on Monday last, with another "select performance." A very respectable and intelligent audience was in attendance, who manifested a high degree of interest and delight while listening to the readers, reciters and essayists, as they proceeded .-And as the ladies up here, select their own company, the aforesaid audience had previously received special invitations to be present upon that occasion.

At the close of the exercises, our County Superintendent, Mr. Owen, delivered an able and highly interesting lecture, which was listened to with marked attention. Subject -"The Garden of Eden." A committee has been appointed to request a copy of said lecture for publication, and we hope that Mr. Owen will favor us with the same.

It is but doing justice to the ladies of this circle, to say that they merit our highest esteem and approbation for their interest and zeal in promoting literature among them, and

Last week's Centre Democrat pays a in developing those better principles that handsome compliment to the Continentals of characterize female loveliness. Let female this place, and asks, "When shall we hear this depends, in an eminent degree, the peace the Continentals in Bellefonte." To which we are authorized, by them, to answer, reflect that the night of ages and the days of "Whenever the people of your town and vi- superstition, when such education was wholly disregarded, are gone by; and may the traces that they have left upon the sands of time, also speedily vanish. We trust that parents, in this age of light and reason, by no means consider the intellect of their daughters inferior to that of their sons. The records of the past, testify that woman, amidst the most trying circumstances and formidable scenes, has frequently revealed unwarranted and unexpected energies. She is destined to meet every emergency that life imposes, and prove herself a blessing to mankind. We admit, however, that the sanctuary of home is in a great measure, the sphere in which she is to act; but even there she performs an invaluable part in the drama of life.

As the rose perfumes the morning air with ts sweet odor, so does the intelligent female, by pious instruction and timely example, cast a fragrance around the family circle, that is not carried away by every passing breeze.-And in conclusion, we beg leave to address the ladies of our own times, in the language of an author: "You are not for the fashion of these times."

"Work for some good, be it ever so slowly; Cherish some flower, be it ever so lowly; Labor—all labor is noble and holy."

FLIGHT OF FREE NEGROES FROM ARKANSAS. We learn from the Cincinnati papers that on Wednesday evening last a party of forty colored persons arrived in that city from Little Rock, Arkansas, the Legislature having passed a law requiring all free persons of color received and provided for, by the colored people of Cincinnati. They report that hundreds had left the State, a great portion of them going into Kansas and the adjoining Territories, and some expected to make their way to Pennsylvania.

FITS: WHY PROMINENT.

For a long time there was a paragraph making its reg-ular weekly appearance in our columns, with the brief, but emphatic words "Fits! Fits!" always at the head, to some of offensive caption, but not so to the benevolent and humane, who could sympathize in the sorrows of others. Some persons are shocked at any indication of disease, and are even thrown into nervous excitement on disease, and are even thrown into nervous excitement on witnessing a hearso or a coffin. Such are to be pitied.— We should always strive to look disease and even death in the face with calmness, and especially take every opportunity for alleviating disease. Viewed in this light, the advertisements of S. S. Hance, of 108 Baltimore street, Baltimore, Md., possess a certain interest, and those who know of any one suffering from Epilepsy, Spasms, or Fits of any kind, should feel it a pleasure to cut out his advertisement or in some other way send word to the afflicted. tisement, or in some other way send word to the afflicted of the great value of his remedies. Gentlemen:—The Salamander Fire-Proof Safe of your Gentlemen:—The Salamander Fire-Proof Safe of your manufacture, purchased by us from your Agent, Ferris & Garrett, of our city, some nine months ago, was severely tried by burglars last Saturday night, and although they had a sledge hammer, cold chisels, drill and gunpowder, they did not succeed in opening the Safe. The lock being one of "Hall's Patent Powder-proof," they could not get the powder into it, but drilled a hole in the lower panel or and forced in a large charge, which was ignited and althe powder into it, but drilled a hole in the lower paner and forced in a large charge, which was ignited, and although the door, inside and out, showed the explosion not to have been a small one, it was not forced open. We suppose they were the greater part of the night at work on it. We are much gratified at the result of the attempt to enter it, and if the above facts are of any service, you are although the many service, you are the content of the service of the at liberty to use them. GREAT FIRE!-ANOTHER TRIUMPH!! KNONVILLE. Tennessee, March 13th, 1859. Messrs. EVANS & WATSON, Philadelphia: Messrs, EVANS & WATSON, Philadelphia:

Gentlemen—It affords me great pleasure to say to you that the Salamander Safe which I purchased of you in February, 1858, proved to be what you recommended it—a sure protection from fire. My storehouse, together with several others, was burned to the ground in March last.—
The Safe fell through into the cellar, and was exposed to intense heat for six or eight hours, and when it was taken from the ruins and opened, all its contents where found to be in a perfect state, the books and the papers not being injured any whatever. I can cheerfully recommend your Sales to the community, believing, as I do, that they are as near fire-proof as it is possible for any Safe to be made.
