ing, to visit the Farmers' High School, pre- think Illinois a wet country: sented a verbal report, which, after some discussion, was received, and the Committee Jan discharged.

The Annual Report of the Association for Feb the year 1859, was read by the Secretary, submitted and accepted.

The Society then proceeded to the annual election of officers for the coming year. Gen. S. Miles Green was chosen President, and on motion, the remainder of the officers continued for another year.

On motion of Jacob Cresswell, Esq., a Committee of five be appointed by the Chair, to report on the present condition of the Society, and the best means to be adopted for the promotion of its future interest.

Jacob Cresswell, D. Blair, Jon. McWilliams, Geo. W. Speer, and Wm. Moore, were appointed said Committee, who, after retiring for a short time, presented the following preamble and resolutions, which were unanimously adopted :

WHEREAS, The Huntingdon County Agricultural Society has done much for the promotion and enlargement of our social relations, as well as for the improvement of agriculture in our county, and has just claims upon the patronage of all good citizens.

AND WHEREAS, The financial condition of the Society is such, that unless a reform, suggested by past experience, can be introduced we must cease to hold Annual Agricultural Fairs, and consequently, suffer our Society to fall to the ground, thus practically acknowledging that all our efforts have been vain .-Therefore,

Resolved 1st, That a committee of five be appointed at this meeting, instructed to make the following arrangements, viz:

1st. Reduce our list of premiums one fifth in the aggregate. 2d. Reduce the expense of music, police and printing, one third.

3d. Add one third to the amount charged for all victualing tents, auctioneers, and exhibitions not belonging to the Society, (ma-king the last year's list of income and expense the criterion by which to carry out the foregoing economy.) and that the citizeus of the place where the Fair may be held, be requested to raise by subscription, a sum not less than one hundred dollars, for the benefit of the Society.

Resolved 2nd. That the committee above mentioned shall have full power to make arrangements for holding a Fair next fall, if the provisions of the foregoing resolution is fully carried out, but if not, they shall in no wise do so.

Distressing Calamity!

Fall of the Pemberton Mills Building, at Lawrence, Mass.-Nearly Seven Hundred Persons Buried in the Ruins .- Over Two Hundred Killed .--- Numbers Mortally Wounded or Mutilated. Boston, Jan. 10 .- The Pemberton mills.

at Lawrence, Mass., employing from four to five hundred operatives, fell this afternoon, burying nearly every person in the ruins. The mangled bodies are being taken out by the cart-load. It is supposed that over two hundred persons were instantly killed. SECOND DESPATCH.

LAWRENCE, Mass., Jan. 10.-9 o'clock, P. M .- The Pemberton mills fell in, suddenly, at about five o'clock this evening, while from six to seven hundred operatives were at work. The mills are a complete wreck.

It is supposed that from two to three hundred bodies are buried in the ruins.

It is impossible, at present, to give a correct account of the loss of life. LAWRENCE, Mass., Jan. 11.-At the time of the falling of the mills there were 600 operatives in the building. The factory employed 950 operatives, but a portion had gone to supper. The building was five stories high, 280 feet long, and 70 feet wide, with a wing 45 feet square. Containing 27,000 spindles. The dead and missing number 115, a large proportion of whom were young girls, many of them being the main support of their families. The fire was confined to the ruins of the Pemberton Mills. The surrounding propcrty is uninjured. The dead number 115, and the wounded 165. Some of the latter will die, but by far the larger part may survive their injuries. The loss is estimated at $600,000. Before the building caught fire, those imprisoned beneath the ruins could be seen and conversed with. Drinks and refreshments were in some instances passed to them. When the fire spread over the ruins and they found escape hopeless, they bid adieu to their friends, and in several cases gave directions as to the disposition of their bodies .---In one part of the building r hole was battered through the wall, and through it could be seen three young women, who said they were not at all injured. One of them thrust her arm through the small aperture and begged to be drawn through it; but before the hole could be made large enough, the flames

CORRESPONDENCE OF THE GLOBE. hissing all over the remains on the ground, told them too plainly that all hopes of life was gone. The fall of the building took place just as the mill was being lighted up, and outside, of course, all was dark. To obviate this difficulty, huge fires were made to the leeward of the ruins, and the #### light thus made, lighted up the horrible scene with inexpressible grandeur. THE ATTEMPT AT RESCUE.

At this time, six o'clock, fifteen hundred persons gathered about the spot, and by the light of the fires the more daring were on top, crawling under the ruins, fixing ropes, and doing all in their power to extricate those within. At the outset their efforts were quite successful. About seventy-five persons, men, women, and children, more or less wounded, were taken out, and, if recognized, carried home, and if not, taken to the City Hall, which had been converted into a temporary hospital. After the first hour, however, the work becomes much more dangerous, by reason of the fall of timbers as displacements are made, and often the rescued and rescuer are again in danger of a fresh entombment. We do not learn, however, that any serious accident has befallen any of those who rendered assistance from outside; but still, the danger of the attempt deterred many from rendering any help, except by standing at a distance and screaming themselves hoarse in giving advice or direction to the more daring spirits who were hot at work.

WOMAN'S HEROISM.

At one point when a rope had been fixed to a projecting timber, a call was made to the crowd to take hold and pull with a will, but for a few minutes, such was the danger of the attempt, for the beam in falling might engulph all near it, for a few minutes, we say, the call was unheeded. Men shuddered and drew back—they would risk much to aid those engulph all near it, for a few minutes, we say, below, but life was sweet, and the danger At this critical juncture, a woman great. rushed from among the crowd, and daring the spectators to follow, seized the rope and attempted to mount the pile of smouldering ruins to clear away with her hands. The example was enough; not a word was said, but strong hands at once drew her back, and then there was no lack of hands to the rope, the beam was drawn out, and at least two sufferers released from the opening thus made.

Besides those thus saved, a large number of operatives, mostly males, who were in the weaving room, which is in the lower story, managed to escape by crawling up from that room through a couple of low windows which were not obstructed. The weaving room was partially saved by a heavy stone floor of the story above, and many in this department were thus saved. HOW THEY WERE BROUGHT OUT-HORRIBLE SIGHTS.

The sights and scenes at this period of the disaster were frightful. One poor girl, alive and fully conscious, was dragged from the east end of the fallen mass, with her left arm torn from the socket, and her body and legs awfully mangled. She was taken by her friends, but could not have survived long. In one place the bodies of three girls were found locked in each other's arms, but quite dead.-They could not be removed without mangling the bodies, and, being abandoned for a time, the flames broke out before another attempt was made, and all three perished.

One Irishman was taken out quite unhurt,

Gendlemen: — The Salamander Fire-Proof Safe of your manufacture, purchased by us from your Agent, Ferris & Garrett, of our city, some nine months ago, was severely tried by burglars last Saturday night, and although they had a sledge hammer, cold chisels, drill and gunpowder, they did not succeed in opening the Safe. The lock being one of "Hall's Patent Powder, proof," they could not get the powder into it, but drilled a hole in the lower panel and forced in a large charge, which was ignited, and al-though the door, inside and out, showed the explosion not to have been a small one, it was not forced open. We sup-pose they were the greater part of the night at work on it. drove the men away, and the prisoners perished in the flames. A hundred and fifty long passenger cars, crowded to excess, arrived here to-day. But the railroads did not alone contribute to the number of our visitors. Every kind of vehicle in the surrounding towns was brought into use. During the forenoon, a large force were busily engaged in removing the rubbish. Quite a number of bodies were got out, and two persons were taken out alive.

A strong force of canvassers went from house to house, thereby ascertaining of every family what persons were wounded, missing or safe. This summing up shows 162 persons missing. It embraces all known as killed, and those of whom no tidings have been obtained by those who made the investigation. Fifty-two persons are yet immolated in the brick, mortar, &c., and a hundred and thirty dead bodies have been removed to the City Hall, or delivered to their friends.

From the Boston Herald, Jan. 11.]

The dreadful calamity which yesterday afternoon cast a gloom over the city of Lawrence, has already been detailed with much fullness, but the following fuller account, gathered last night by our own reporters on the spot, will be read with intense interest. The mill, which was a long brick building 300 feet long by eighty-four feet wide, was yesterday in full operation, when, at a very few minutes after five o'clock in the afternoon, it fell with a sudden crash, and without hardly a moment's warning, to the ground, burying in its ruins the vast masses of machinery used at the mill, and with the mass of solid iron, and mingled with the beams and brick of the edifice, lay in mangled and were spoken, and it would be well for our gory layers the forms of over four hundred human beings. As soon as those in the neighborhood could fact, from every fissure from whence a voice out." Who wouldn't be a printer some times? from inside could make its way, came shrieks ante-room, were stretched the corpses of thirfor help, groans of anguish, prayers and moanings; and in many, very many cases, the poor sufferers could be distinctly seen, talked to, and even reached by the hand from upon a mangled limb. Feet were crushedthe outside. Many thus imprisoned were shoulders, arms, legs, bodies, all terribly encouraged and sustained by assurances of gashed and mashed-faces so disfigured that safety, and in many cases cups of coffee, it would be difficult for the most intimate could be, and were passed down to those be- friends to recognise the bodies by the counlow, who, alas ! after all this near approach tenances. In the midst of the ghastly throng to safety, saw hour after hour pass away, un- was to be seen a minister of God carefully til, at last, the frightful cry of fire, and the scanning each countenance, and we could see and his first act was to feel in his pocket, from whence he drew forth a sooty "dudhdeen,' and seizing a brand from the fire, he lit his pipe, and went on his way.

Next from the ruins we saw the dead body of a lad, and following him was borne a girl, with one of her ankles burnt to a crisp. She had been confined by one foot between two beams, and only by the utmost exertion was she recovered. She was also taken home by her friends.

A young girl was released just before the flames burst forth, and in answer to a question stated that she was unhurt. It afterwards appeared that her right arm was badly brc- Anybody in want of ken near the wrist, but in the excitement of the moment and in the joy of deliverance from a dreadful death, she had not noticed the hurt.

One woman was found with her head jammed between two heavy beams, and pressed so that it was not thicker than the thickness of a band. It was a sickening sight.

One young girl, whose name we have but do not publish, was confined in a narrow hole surrounded by broken machinery and ragged timber and boards, succeeded in crushing out into the open air, but when she emerged from the ruins she had scarcely an article of clothing on her person.

Perhaps one of the saddest episodes of the vhole calamity was the fate of Mr. Maurice Palmer, who was an overseer in the mill.-In the fall, he was so imbedded in the ruins that he could not be extricated before the fire, and seeing the dreadful element approaching him, he, in his agony and despair, determined not be roasted to death, and so drew his pocket-knife and cut his throat. He was, however, taken out alive, and would have survived but for the self-inflicted injury. Who, however, can judge the anguish and agony which induced the fearful deed?

Our reporter is told by a gentleman who was early on the spot, that, at one point of the ruins, he distinguished a female voice crying in distress, and soon another voice answered, "Is that you, Lizzie ? are you hurt?" The reply was a smothered groan, and an appeal to God's mercy in her behalf. But these girls were afterwards rescued.

SCENES AT THE CITY HALL-THE DEAD AND WOUNDED-AGONIZING SPECTACLE. Immediately after the dreadful occurrence, the City Hall was thrown open, by order of the Mayor, as a hospital for the wounded, recover from the horrified astonishment into and a receptacle for the dead.

a sure protection from fire. My storehouse, together with several others, was burned to the ground in March last.— The Safe fell through into the cellar, and was exposed to intense heat for six or eight hours, and when it was taken from the ruins and opened, all its contents wherefound to be in a perfect state, the books and the papers not heing injured any whatever. I can cheerfully recommend your Sates to the community, believing, as I do, that they are as near fire-proof as it is possible for any Safe to be made. THOMAS J. POWELL. THOMAS J. POWELL. THOMAS J.
