

For the Farmer.

Thoughts for the Thoughtful.

FROM VARIOUS SOURCES.

Most of the diseases of sheep are the consequence of debility.

LAMBS should be separated from old sheep. Old and feeble sheep, separated from the rugged.

SHEEP, as well as other animals, should have access to fresh water, when fed on dry food, in winter.

FARMERS who find it necessary to reduce their flocks, should be very particular in selecting those that they keep, and let none but the poorest go from their farms.

SHEEP in winter should have fresh air, shelter from cold winds, a little exercise, occasional change of quarters, dry, clean lodging, and nutritious food. A close, damp, low yard is their abomination.

A cross between the South-Down and the Merino makes a very useful and profitable sheep. The wool will sell for nearly as much as the Merino, and the lambs will bring more for the butcher.

SHEEP are perhaps the most profitable stock on suitable land, and with good management; but on unsuitable soil and ill management, they are the least desirable of farm stock. "What the man is worth the land is worth." What the shepherd is worth the sheep are worth.

ALL animals should, if possible, be housed, or provided with shelter. Cattle require much less food when stabled, than when allowed to run at large, as they waste little or none, and comfort is essential to their thrift. More manure is also secured, an object of great consequence to every farmer that understands his true interests.

Sheep, if housed, must not be crowded into close stables or houses, as disease is apt to be the result; and all animals require to have their stables well ventilated, to prevent the effects of bad air. Horses are better fed from mangers than racks, and sheep should never have their food so that they draw it from above, as the grass seeds and chaff fall upon and fill their wool, injuring it materially.

It must never be forgotten by the farmer that there are works of charity and kindness, that more frequently press their claims upon him during the winter, than at any other time. While his happy family is clustered around the cheerful hearth; while his table is loaded with the bounties which a kind Providence, personal industry, and a fruitful soil have given him; while his wood-house is filled, his granaries overflowing, and every reasonable want supplied; he must not forget there are other less favored individuals or families around; children destitute of fire and wood; widows and orphans distressed and destitute, all requiring care, and not to be forsaken while the frosts of winter are upon the earth. For the poor there must be employment; for the destitute there must be a supply; and the honest and industrious, or the unfortunate poor, have claims on the more fortunate, that may not be disregarded.—Well directed charity is one of the few acts of life in which both the giver and the receiver are blessed; let no one then forget the poor.

Every drop of milk should be drained from the udder at each milking, for two reasons, that the last pint taken from the cow will make more butter than the first quart, and that the cows will afterwards fall to give just as much milk as is left in the udder.

Horses should always have plenty of litter in their stables; it answers a double purpose; first, by absorbing and retaining the salts of the urine that fall upon it in a considerable degree, and thus rendering the manure more valuable; and secondly, by preventing in part that liability to swell, to which the feet and legs of a horse are subjected when standing on a hard or plank floor.

NEGLIGENCE and inattention is as inexorable in the winter as in the summer; and frequently is productive of worse effects.—How often do we see farmers suffer such losses in their flocks and herds from sheer inattention or idleness in the winter, that a year of hard labor and privation will hardly place them in their first position. If cattle and horses were looked to as they should be, or if sheep and swine were not left to get their living by hook or by crook, we should not see so many walking skeletons harnessed or yoked to the plow in the spring, or so many carcasses around the fields and roads inviting the crows to their feast. The prudent, careful farmer will consider the winter as the trying time for his stock, and by shelter, and sufficient food, avert its rigor, and prevent its consequences as far as possible.

LAND and labor are the principal sources of public and private wealth. The more fertility we can impart to the one, and the more intelligence we can infuse into the other, the greater will be the returns they make, and the greater our means of happiness; for it is wealth, rightly employed, that enables us to multiply not only our own, but the comforts and happiness of those around us. Yet it is not a few very rich men, or very wise men, but the aggregate of wealth and talent ever so great that give prosperity and greatness to a State. It is the general diffusion, among a whole people, among the rank and file of society, of property and knowledge, and the industry, enterprise and independence which they beget, that renders a State truly respectable and great.

TRUSSES! BRACES!! SUPPORTERS!!!

C. H. NEEDLES, Practical Adjuster of Rupture Trusses and Mechanical Remedies. ESSENWEIN'S TAR AND WOOD NAPHTHA PECTORAL, IS THE BEST REMEDY IN THE WORLD, for the Croup of Infants, Whooping Cough, Asthma, Difficulty in Breathing, Palpitation of the Heart, and for the relief of patients in the advanced stages of Consumption, together with all Diseases of the Throat and Chest, and which predisposed to Consumption. It attacks the root of disease, and makes the full destroyer succumb to its influence. It also produces free expectoration, and induces healthy action in the diseased Lungs, Membranes and Tissues. It is peculiarly adapted to the radical cure of Asthma. One dose of this invaluable Syrup will induce a sound and refreshing sleep, which the peculiar nature of this disease denies him. It is very pleasant to the taste, and prompt in its effects. Dry it, and be convinced, that it is invaluable in the cure of Bronchitis, &c. Price 50 cts. per BOTTLE.

1859. FALL & WINTER CLOTHING.—The undersigned would respectfully call the attention of our friends and country generally, to our new and extensive assortment of LADY-MADE CLOTHING, consisting of every article of gentlemen's furnishing goods. We deem it unnecessary to make a newspaper advertisement, being confident, that a call and examination of our goods, will satisfy all, that our goods are just what we recommend them to be, well made, of good material, and as cheap as the same quality goods can be bought in the country of Huntingdon. It is not our desire, as it is not the policy of honest men, to deceive, but this much we will say, that we will guarantee to all who may favor us with their patronage, entire satisfaction as to quality, fit and price. Should gentlemen desire any particular kind or cut of clothing, not found in our stock, by leaving their names and addresses, we can be accommodated in any manner. Call at the corner of the diamond, Long's new house. M. GUTMAN & CO., Sept. 21, 1859.

GOOD NEWS! WASHINGTON CLOTHES BY PRESSURE!! After fifty years experience, the proper article has at last been invented for women, in their hard labors on the washing day. "IT IS EVEN SO!" Come and be convinced that we are ahead of every machine in use. Half a dozen, help the hard labor, and help the weary hands, of little boys and girls can do the work for their mothers. The undersigned have purchased the exclusive right of Huntingdon and Millin TOWNSHIP, to make and sell J. P. MURPHY'S EMANIPATOR WASHING MACHINES. We desire the public to call and examine this truly labor-saving machine. It can be seen at our shop on Washington street. BALL & PEIGITALL.

Medical Science. The history of "HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS," the most remarkable medicine of the day, and the many cures it has effected, have been the subject of LIVER COMPLAINT, DYSPEPSIA, NERVOUS DEBILITY, and diseases arising from a disordered liver or stomach, place it among the most astonishing discoveries that have taken place in the medical world. The diseases to which these Bitters are applicable are so universal, that it is unnecessary for our friends who are acquainted with their virtues in their own families or circle of acquaintances, and prove to their own satisfaction that there is at least one remedy among the many advertised medicines, deserving the public commendation. It is a fact that in the minds of many persons, a prejudice exists against what are called Patent Medicines; but why should this prevent your resorting to an article that has such an array of testimony to support it as Hoofland's German Bitters? Physicians prescribe it. Why should you discard it? Judges, usually considered men of taste, have and do use it in their own families. Why should you reject it? Clergymen, and those the most eminent, take it; why should not you? Let not your prejudice, through your reason, do the everlasting injury of your health; if you are sick, and require a medicine, try these Bitters. These Bitters are prepared and sold by Dr. C. M. JACKSON, No. 418 Arch street, Philadelphia, Pa., and by druggists and storekeepers in every town and village in the United States, Canada, West Indies, and South America, at 75 cents per bottle. See that the signature of C. M. JACKSON is on the wrapper of each bottle. May 11, 1859-ly.
