

THE GLOBE.

Huntingdon, Wednesday, March 7, 1860.

LOCAL & PERSONAL.

LOCALS IN BRIEF.—For want of space, we are compelled to omit several local items of general interest.—Master George Plumer, the boy orator, lectured on Temperance, in the Court House, on Tuesday evening of last week. Those who heard it, speak very favorably of the young orator. He is raising means to educate a brother who had both his hands almost blown off by the premature discharge of a cannon, whilst on military duty at Hollidaysburg, during the fall of '58.—A Daily Union Prayer Meeting has been introduced in this place. It was largely attended on Monday evening. We may have something more to say hereafter, when our columns are not so much crowded.—The portion of Hill street, between Bath and Montgomery, is being cleaned. A good move that, and we think it would be nothing out of the way, if some one would clear the mud away in front of our office. We venture to say it is almost knee deep.—March is favoring us with simon-pure spring weather. It was a little blustery on Saturday and Sunday, however, yesterday was warm and pleasant, and the sun shines brightly over the earth.—Mr. Whipple, teacher of the first male school gives an examination to-day, in his school room.—Mr. Mitchell, teacher of the second male school, gave an examination of his class, one day last week, and those who were present, speak of it as highly creditable, to both teacher and scholars.—Judge Lynch's communication is unavoidably crowded out this week. We will give place to it in our next.—A child of Mr. Ab. Lamp's came near being drowned by falling in the river, on Monday last. Fortunately, however, it was rescued before life was quite extinct, but has been working in convulsions ever since, and but little hopes are entertained of its recovery.—No change in the markets since our last issue.

SERVED HIM RIGHT.—A certain son of the Emerald Isle, who resides over in Smithfield, having imbibed pretty freely of "kill-en-quick" whiskey one day last week, went home in the evening and commenced abusing his wife in a disgraceful manner, and after satisfying himself with his brutal conduct, laid down on the floor to take a "snooze," when it struck his wife that she would have revenge, in some way or other. No sooner said than done. She procured a sheet, and carefully sewed her liege lord up in it, and then administered to him what he so meritoriously deserved—a sound thrashing, and made him promise to behave himself better in the future. We admire that woman's spunk, that's so. If others would go and do likewise, perhaps it would have a tendency to bring about a reformation that is so much needed in some of our traveling whiskey kegs.

MARCH.—March came in like a fairy queen. The morning dawned bright and cloudless, and the genial sun shone kindly on all the world. His gleaming shield lent warmth and pleasure to the air, and the streets were all a glow with the golden light. Galaxies of fair women came, like birds of brilliant plumage after a storm, from their hiding places, and in gay and rustling raiment, floated through the town, the cynosure of all eyes, admired and beloved. The pulse of nature throbbled with a quicker beat, while the face of the earth was glowing with a renovated life. In its departing hours, February resigned its sceptre with a genial grace; but we are not forgetting that boisterous old March is to be crowned as its successor; and, therefore, we are not disposed to write of the coming Spring in rapture, until fairly April, with laughing eyes and lilted step, shall glide in her royal garb of green o'er health and hill—when the first frail flowers—

Upgearing from their mother earth Make glad the presence of the living God."

CANAL NAVIGATION.—The Pennsylvania Canal will be opened for business about the 25th inst. The new weigh-lock at Harrisburg, and the new lock at Dauphin, are rapidly approaching completion, and will be ready at that time.

A HANDSOME PRESENT.—We received on Monday, by Express, from our friend Gregg Madson, Esq., of Iowa, two fine saddles of venison, for which he has our thanks.

ONLY A DIME.—The Dime Song Book—The Dime Speaker—The Dime Cook Book—The Dime Receipt Book—for sale at Lewis' Book Store.

Diaries for 1860, for sale at Lewis' Book Store.

LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.

UNTY, HENDERSON TR., March 5, 1860. MR. EDITOR:—As you have no correspondent in this part of the county, I have concluded to send you a few of the local items that are turning up in our neighborhood, and if you don't think them worthy of an insertion in your excellent journal, you can insert them in the stove.

Since the division of the township, politics are nearly all the talk. Indeed, our township elections are of almost as much importance to us as the Presidential election.

Perhaps some of your readers may have forgotten the "Young Men's Temperance Association" at Unity. If they have, I can inform them that it is still in a flourishing condition, and at every meeting, we receive some new members. There are over two hundred belonging to it now. A resolution has been adopted by the Society, inviting absent members and others who are friendly to the cause of temperance, to send to it written communications, which will be read before the Society by the Secretary. Communications should be sent to D. A. Thompson, who is Secretary of the Society. The Society holds its meetings every two weeks at the Union school house. Dr. J. P. Thompson, of Williamsburg, delivered an eloquent and instructive lecture before the Society on the evening of the 25th ult.

Reverends Crownover, Holmes and Kidder, are having a protracted meeting at the Unity Church.

The balmy air, and the cheerful song of the blue birds have awakened the farmers to the importance of arranging the preliminaries for spring crops.

BRADY TOWNSHIP AWAKE. MR. EDITOR:—As we have never noticed anything in print, in regard to the educational affairs of Brady township, I beg leave to state through the columns of your paper, that, on Feb. 11th, a meeting was called by the teachers of this township, and opened by electing H. J. McCarthy, chairman, and H. L. Shaffer, Secretary. After being exercised with some vocal music, the regular exercises were opened by S. Z. Sharp forming a reading class, illustrating his method of teaching that branch, followed by Mr. Criswell in Mental Arithmetic. Grammar and Written Arithmetic were next discussed. The subject of School Government was next introduced, which elicited quite a spirited discussion. A number of teachers from Mifflin co. were present, who participated in the exercises. On motion the President appointed Messrs. Sharp and Shaffer to draft a Constitution and By-Laws, for a permanent organization. Adjourned.

On Feb. 25th the Teachers met again at the same place. Pres. in the chair. An association was permanently organized by adopting a Constitution and By-Laws. The various branches were discussed as before, when another spirited discussion on school government ensued. Fourteen members signed their names to the constitution—ten of whom are teachers. The house was crowded with anxious listeners, and the most lively interest has been awakened among the citizens of the township.

—Ex-Governor Ford of Ohio, was, on Friday last, elected printer by the House of Representatives at Washington.

—Who now, after reading the proceedings of the Reading Convention, will doubt the existence of a strong Douglas Democracy in the Keystone State?

—The Kansas Legislature has passed the bill abolishing slavery over the Governor's veto.

—The Republican National Committee have changed the time of the meeting of the Chicago Convention from June to the 16th May.

—Our readers will notice by the proceedings of the State Convention, that our Senatorial and Congressional Districts were ably represented in that body of intellect and influence. We point with pride to the names of the gentlemen and their works.

—The Ohio Republican State Convention in session on the 1st instant, resolved that Hon. Salmon P. Chase is the first choice of the party of that State, for the Presidency.

In the U. S. Senate on Wednesday last, Senator Seward delivered a long speech—a bid for the Presidency. It is too strong Republican for the majority of the Opposition.

—Wm. B. Foster, Vice President of the Pennsylvania Railroad Co., died suddenly of apoplexy, on Sunday last, in Philadelphia.

First Ballot. Jacob Cresswell of Huntingdon, Jesse R. Crawford of Blair, Robt. L. Johnson and G. Nelson Smith of Cambria, voted for John Cresswell of Blair.

Wm. P. Schell of Bedford, voted for Jacob Fry. John Cessna of Bedford, voted for Wm. H. Witte. Wm. J. Baer of Somerset, voted for Wm. Hopkins.

Second Ballot. Cresswell and Cessna voted for Wm. H. Witte. Baer and Schell voted for Jacob Fry. Crawford voted for George Sanderson. Johnson and Smith voted for Henry D. Foster.

Third Ballot. Cresswell and Cessna voted for Wm. H. Witte. Schell voted for Hendrick B. Wright. Baer, Crawford, Johnson and Smith, voted for Henry D. Foster.

Fourth Ballot. Every delegate in the Convention voted for Henry D. Foster.

THE SOCIETY BY THE SECRETARY. Communications should be sent to D. A. Thompson, who is Secretary of the Society. The Society holds its meetings every two weeks at the Union school house. Dr. J. P. Thompson, of Williamsburg, delivered an eloquent and instructive lecture before the Society on the evening of the 25th ult.

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS. THEY ARE ENTIRELY VEGETABLE, and free from Alcoholic Stimulant, and all injurious ingredients; are pleasant in taste and smell, mild in their operation, will expel all morbid humors from the body, give bloom to the pallid cheek, and health and vigor to the frame.

They will cure DYSPEPSIA. They will cure NERVOUS DEBILITY. They will cure LIVER COMPLAINT. They will cure JAUNDICE. They will cure DISEASE OF THE KIDNEYS. They will cure CONSTIPATION. They will cure PILES. They will cure HEARTBURN. They will cure SWIMMING OF THE HEAD.

They will cure PLEURISY OF THE HEART. They are prepared by Dr. C. M. JACKSON, 418 Arch street, Philadelphia, Pa., and sold by druggists and storekeepers in every town and village in the United States, Canada, West Indies, and South America, at 75 cents per bottle.

REASON AND COMMON SENSE. Our readers may remember we have on several occasions spoken in very strong terms of a preparation which Dr. S. H. HANCOCK, of 308 Baltimore street, Baltimore, Md., has discovered for the cure of Epileptic Fits. Now, in doing so, we have been acting in the very best manner, viz: the alleviation of human suffering. From circumstances which have lately come to our knowledge, we are enabled to state that the medicine is not so bad as we have represented it to be. It is a safe and reliable remedy, and will cure the most obstinate cases of Epilepsy, in a common sense manner. We allude to the fact of selecting a particular case in a town where there are many cases, and trying it on one case. Now, perhaps the case selected might be the only one of the whole number that it would not cure.—This is neither doing it wrong, nor the medicine justice. If a dozen persons were stricken down with cholera in one town or neighborhood, would they all send for a physician, or would only one employ him, and wait until he cured the first patient? That plan of procedure would be most absurd. So in the case of Dr. Hancock's remedy, every one who has the disease should try for a reasonable length of time. It will not cure in a day or two, nothing worth doing can be accomplished at once. What is the end? Peace, a happy and contented mind, the growth of the Democratic faith which underlies and integrates the government of our great Confederation; and its action, springing from a spirit of concession and an earnest desire for the cultivation of entire unity, has given merited gratification, and will inspire the masses of the Democracy of the State, with renewed confidence and zeal. The results of the Convention, notwithstanding some natural feelings of disappointment, on the part of the friends of different candidates, have been hailed with the most hearty enthusiasm, and will go forth to the people with the strongest possible assurance of the most free and cordial endorsement. The Convention was very largely composed of the active, working men of the party—men of long service and tried patriotism—and their wise, temperate and conciliatory action, reflects truthfully the sentiments of the steadfast Democracy of the Old Keystone Commonwealth, whose best and most united and zealous efforts will be given to its ratification.

From the Philadelphia Pennsylvania. The Democratic State Convention at Reading, after a two days' session, completed its labors yesterday. No previous political Convention, in the whole history of the Commonwealth, united in a larger degree eminent ability, large experience, and thorough and unselfish devotion to the pure principles of the Democratic faith which underlies and integrates the government of our great Confederation; and its action, springing from a spirit of concession and an earnest desire for the cultivation of entire unity, has given merited gratification, and will inspire the masses of the Democracy of the State, with renewed confidence and zeal. The results of the Convention, notwithstanding some natural feelings of disappointment, on the part of the friends of different candidates, have been hailed with the most hearty enthusiasm, and will go forth to the people with the strongest possible assurance of the most free and cordial endorsement. The Convention was very largely composed of the active, working men of the party—men of long service and tried patriotism—and their wise, temperate and conciliatory action, reflects truthfully the sentiments of the steadfast Democracy of the Old Keystone Commonwealth, whose best and most united and zealous efforts will be given to its ratification.

From the Pittsburgh Post. The position has sought the man, and not the man the position. The Reading Convention has given us a glorious nominee for Governor. It has named, as the standard bearer of the Democratic hosts of the old Keystone State, a man who will lead them on to victory. On the fourth ballot, Hon. Henry D. Foster, of Greensburg, Westmoreland county, was nominated by acclamation, as the Democratic candidate for Governor of Pennsylvania in 1860. Every Democrat is a factious and sectional Opposition, which would destroy the peace and fraternal good feeling of the sisterhood of States, will rejoice at this nomination. The fact that it has been made, shows that hereafter the Democratic party in the State will act as a unit in the great National cause. His name is a talisman at which bickerings and strife among Democratic brethren will cease.

Mr. Foster has not sought this nomination; on the contrary, he has, although urged to enter the canvass, steadily asserted that he did not seek it, and did not wish his friends to regard him as a candidate. But the Democracy of his native State, has called upon him to take the highest position in their gift, and what is still more honorable, to take the high position of leader in a campaign which promises to be one of the most exciting, as it certainly will be one of the most important which has ever occurred in the political history of this country. He will respond to the call with true Democratic manhood. In selecting him, the party "know in whom they have to believe." He has already "done the State some service, and they know it." In political, as well as social life, he has ever borne a most honorable name. As a politician, his course has ever been consistently clear, honorable and Democratic. As a man, he is possessed of a fine education, fine personal address, and a warm-hearted friendliness which attracts and binds the affections of all with whom he comes in contact. No man in the masses, in a more eminent degree, the elements of personal popularity, and there is no one in whose hands the people would more gladly trust their most important interests.

He is a lawyer of high standing and ability, thoroughly acquainted with the political affairs of the State and of the Nation—a ready and eloquent public speaker, and a true-hearted, honest, Democratic man.

"The Depths of True Sisterly Love." A Woman Murders her Brother, and voluntarily surrenders Herself. An extraordinary affair has occurred at Hanover, says the Lockport Journal. Last week a respectable tradesman with two children, went to the police office and stated that she had murdered her brother in her own house, and that she wished to be taken into custody. The police officer, on being informed of the fact, and finding the woman, whose name was Rasal, lying in one of the rooms with his throat cut. The woman said that the man, after losing from drunkenness several situations as clerk to a doctor, had been reduced to the necessity of accepting the position of railway porter, but that she had kindly allowed him to live with her, gratis, on condition of his giving a solemn promise that he would abstain from drink for the future. This promise he had not kept, and the night before he had returned home so drunk that he had fallen asleep on the floor. Irritated at his shameful conduct, she cut his throat. The police thinking the woman insane, had her examined by medical men, but no indication of lunacy could be discovered. It turned out that she had committed the murder in the presence of her two children, aged ten and twelve, and that before giving herself into custody she had made her will.
