Attempt to Elope with a Slave.

We learn that last week a young lady of extraordinary beauty and superior attainments, the daughter of woalthy and respectable parents of Sampson county, attempted to clope with a negro fellow, the property of her cousin. To a friend we are indebted for the following particulars : Their elopement had been planned for soveral weeks, but a favorable opportunity not presenting, it was postponed from time to time; an opportunity offering favorable to her nefarious designs, she told the negro to be in readiness at the designated place and time. When the hour arrived, she crept si lently from her father's house, and soon joined the negro, who was waiting with a horse and bugzy, which he had stolen from a neighbor, carrying the buggy on his shoulder two hundred yards to the main road; the two then left and proceeded towards the railroad. Being short of funds, made it ne-cessary for the lady to call on one of her father's friends, telling him that he, her fath-er, wished him to loan her a hundred dollars, at the same time handing him a note, which upon an examination proved to be worthless, as it had no signature affixed. The gentleman informed her that he would have willingly loaned her the required sum if her father's signature had been to the note, but as that important part was neglected, he could not do it. She then wont with the negro to Fal-ton's depot, on the Wilmington and Weldon Railroad, where she expected to take the cars, and offered the horse and buggy for sale at terms so low that at once aroused suspicions that all was not as it should be. Several questions were put to her, all of which she answered with so much plausibility that a bystander volunteered to lend her money, but before doing so, desired to see the bill of sale for the negro, which she affirmed she had. She procured it, but, like the note, it was not signed, and also contained several other errors. The citizens then determined to arrest them, and acted accordingly, whereupon the young lady made a clean breast of the whole affair, publicly expressing that it was her determination to marry the black rascal when she got to the North. The ne-TT gro was immediately taken and lodged in Clinton juil, but has since been carried off and disposed of. The young lady remained at Faison's a few days, and then returned to her friends. As she is young and beautiful, of superior accomplishments, and has numer- C. ous relatives and friends, and heretofore moved in the most respectable society, it is to be regretted that she acted so improperly and unbecoming a lady. Of course, when the "irrepressible conflict" journalists hear of it, they will extol L her many virtues to the skies, and make a great-to-do generally.—Raleigh (N. C.) Democratic Press.

PRESENTIMENT IN A DREAM .--- A few mornings since, a young lady, daughter of Hemen Miller, track master of the Central Railroad, told her parents soon after she arose, that she had dreamed last night that Mr. Keist, who attends the railroad bridge at Allen's creek, was killed, and that Mrs. Keist came to the house to tell Mr. Miller. A short time after relating this dream, and while the family wore at breakfast, Mrs. Keist came in to tell that her husband was killed by the cars last night at Brighton. So impressed was the girl with the force of her dream, that she ran to another room when she saw the woman approaching the door, as she felt sur that she had a tale of sorrow to tell. Mr Kiest was a German, who had worked for number of years on a railroad, under the di rection of Mr. Miller, and his wife had often called at his house. When Miss Miller told her dream, Mr. Miller had not heard of the accident; indeed, the coroner having charge of the body did not know who the unfortu nate man was. While there are thousands of dreams that are not premonitory, now an then there is one, to say the least, coinciden tal with actual occurrences, of which the dreamer knew nothing .- Rochester Union and Advertiser.
