It is not over the great things of this life over which mortals stumble. A rock we walk round, a mountain we cross; it is the unobserved, unexpected, unlooked for little sticks, and pebbles which cause us to halt on our journey. The blind may run against a rock and not fall, but put a small matter in his way and he will stumble.

An old criminal was once asked what was the first step that led to his ruin, when he answered :

"The first step was cheating a printer out of two years' subscription. When I had done that, the devil took such a gripe on me that I could not shake him off." Delinquents reflect, ere it is too late.

HOLD on to your tongue when you are just ready to swear, lie, or speak harshly or use any improper word.

Hold on to your hand when you are about ready to strike, pinch, scratch, steal or do any improper act.

Hold on to your good name at all times, for it is more valuable to you than gold, high places, or fashionable attire.

A SCHOOLMASTER asked a fair pupil, "Can you decline a kiss ?" She replied, dropping a perplexed courtesy, "Yes, sir, I can, but I hate to plaguily."

ANYBODY who supposes that locking a girl in a room will prevent her from knowing what love means, might as well undertake to keep strawberries from blushing in June, by whispering in their ears about the snows we had last winter.

"SAMMY, you little whelp, didn't I tell you to let that cat's tail alone ?" said an angry father to his son, who was endeavoring to elongate a cat's narrative.

"Well, old hoss, what if you did? It's old Brown's cat, and I'll yank thunder out of it if I please."

The discases to which these Bitters are applicable are so universal, that there are but few of our friends who may not test their virtues in their own families or circle of acquaintances, and prove to their own satisfaction that there is at least one remedy among the many advertised medicines, deser- ving the public commendation. It is a fact that, in the minds of many persons, a prejudice exists against what are called Patent Medicines; but why should this prevent you resorting to an article that has such an array of tes- timony to support it as Hoofland's German Bitters? Genilemen — The Salamander Fire-Proof Safe of your anufacture, purchased by us from your Agent, Ferris & urrett, of our city, some nine months ago, was severely ied by burglars last Saturday night, and although they ad a sledge hammer, cold chisels, drill and gunpowder, ey did not succeed in opening the Safe. The lock being ne of "Hall's Patent Powder-proof," they could not get e powder into it, but drilled a hole in the lower panel di forced in a large charge, which was ignited, and al- ough the door, inside and out, showed the explosion not have been a small one, it was not forced open. We sup- ise they were the greater part of the night at work on . We are much gratified at the result of the attempt to ther it, and if the above facts are of any service, you are liberty to use them. Yours, truly,	usually considered men of talent, have and do use it in their own families. Why should you reject it? Clergy- men, and those the most eminent, take it; why should not you? Let not your prejudice usurp your reason, to the everlasting injury of your health; if you are sick, and require a medicine, try these Bitters. Threse Bitters are prepared and sold by Dr. C.
