WEST TOWNSHIP, July 2d, 1860. EDITOR OF THE GLOBE :- West township in this county, contains about 39 square miles, and had a population in 1850 of 1464, families 272, dwellings 268, and 112 farms, value of real estate $531,794, personal estate $33,-636. Since that time Oneida township has been made out of parts of West and Henderson, the greater part off West. Now. 1860. West township has a population of 1335, families 237, dwellings 237, and 98 farms, value of real estate $545,140, personal estate $106,-950; this was the wealthiest township in the county in 1850, and from present appearances I think will be so in 1860.

SHAVERS CREEK, June 27, 1860. Mr. EDITOR :- The day is approaching when the heavens and earth shall pass away. Then fighting shall cease. The righteous will dwell in the kingdom of the Lord there in sweet unity. I was induced to utter forth the above, a few days ago, when recording another "squabble" with the many of our village. As the poet sings :

"Dissension, like small streams, at first begun, Scarce seen, they rise and gather as they run." 'Tis bad enough when man becomes so barbarous as to battle against his fellow-men and woman against her neighboring woman, but when a man and another man's wife quarrel on the street before public, I exclaim horror of horrors. Shakespeare says-

"The man who lays his hand upon a woman, Save in the way of kindness, is a wretch, Whom 'twere gross flattery to call a coward."

But in some cases the feminines are to blame.

L. Carroll Judson on a certain occasion wrote the following :--- "Among neighbor's mere triffing differences sometimes amount to tedious and expensive lawsuits." Is it not the case? He further wrote : "The intrusion of a pig, the killing of a chicken, the picking of a little fruit"-to which I add-the whipping of a child, the cleaning of a drain, the language you use, "often engender lasting hate." But ere the finishing of this subject, I could say truly, once again our village is tranquil. So we let it rest.

Last Saturday being a day among the beautiful I concluded to take a pleasure trip to the Big Lick Woods. After making the necessary preparations, I mounted the Lady Lightfoot of our village, which is a splendid nag and can go it 2.40, and set out for the land of the living. It being a short distance of 13 miles I arrived in some minutes and a few seconds, and was highly delighted to find those fields that were covered with mullen stalks and pennyroyal at one time, producing grain in abundance and fine in appearance. In fact everything appeared promising. The acres of meadow that turned out great quantities of sheep sorrel and tons of nothing last firmly established in this country by the season, will produce greater quantities of fine grass this season. 'Tis a fine thing farmers have awoke from their slumbers and solved the great problem termed the best way subject of slavery in the Territories had well of tilling the land. In asking a farmer what caused such a great change on his farm, I ing the Wilmot Proviso for the prohibition received the following answer: "Finding the of slavery, and the Southern interventionists sluggard never became wealthy, I concluded (then few in number and without a single to be awake when I once slept. Now I arise with that, (pointing to the sun) unlock my sensibilies and go at it, (meaning the work) thinking 'Root hog, or die.'" I have no doubt but what he does. After spending the greater part of the day, I returned home. and on my way fell in with my old friend and fellow teacher Mr. Solomon Silknitter. He informed me it was his intention of announcing himself as a candidate for Register and Recorder. Sol is a good, clever fellow, an excellent citizen and faithful to his party .----He is in every respect qualified for the office,

Douglas' Letter of Acceptance. WASHINGTON, June 27, 1860.

GENTLEMEN: In accordance with the veral assurance which I gave you when you placed in my hands the authentic evidence of my nomination for the Presidency by the National Convention of the Democratic party, I now send you my formal acceptance.

Upon a careful examination of the platform of principles adopted at Charleston, and reaffirmed at Baltimore, with an additional resolution which is in perfect harmony with the others, I find it to be a faithful embodiment of the time-honored principles of the Democratic party, as the same were proclaimed, and understood by all parties in the Presiden-tial contests of 1848, '52, and '56.

Upon looking into the proceedings of the Convention also, I find that the nomination was made with great unanmity, in the presence and with the concurrence of more than two-thirds of the whole number of delegates, and in exact accordance with the long-established usages of the party. My inflexible purpose not to be a candidate nor accept the nomination in any contingency, except as the regular nominee of the National Democratic party, and in that case only upon condition that the usages as well as the principles of the party should be strictly adhered to, had been proclaimed for a long time, and became well known to the country.

These conditions having all been complied with by the free and voluntary action of the Democratic mases and their faithful representatives; without any agency, intefrerence, or procurement on my part, I feel bound in honor and duty to accept the nomination.

In taking this step I am not unmindful of the responsibilities it imposes ; but, with a firm reliance on Divine Providence, I have faith that the people will comprehend the true nature of the issues involved, and eventually maintain the right. The peace of the country and safety of the Union have been put in jeopardy by attempts to interfere with and control the domestic affairs of the people in Territories through the agency of the Federal Government.

If the power and duty of Federal interference be conceded, two hostile sectional parties must be the inevitable result-the one inflaming the passions and ambition of the North, and the other of the South-each struggling to use the Federal power and authority for the aggrandizement of its own section at the expense of the equal rights of the other, and in derogation of those fundamental principles of self-government which were American Revolution as the basis of our entire republican system. During the memorable period of our political history, when the advocates of Federal intervention upon the nigh" precipitated the country into revolution"-the Northern interventionists demandrepresentative in either House of Congress) insisting upon Congressional legislation for the protection of slavery in opposition to the wishes of the people, in either case-it will be remembered that it required all the wisdom, power, and influence of a Clay, and a Douglas. The attention of the latter having Webster, and a Cass, supported by the conservative and patriotic men of the Whig and Democratic parties of that day, to devise and carry out a line of policy which would restore peace to the country, and stability to the mutilations in the reports of his speeches.— Union. 87 each. David Ewing is said to be 88. David looks as if he had enjoyed many a drop of Massey in bis time.

The best fitted up farm and residence that I visited was river Benjamin Neff's. Ben has been married lately and he now seems to enjoy himself most by staying at home and showing other people how to live. The most perfect gentlemen are David Barrick and John Rung. There is a host of other very clever men in this township, such as Robert Johnston, Miles Lewis, John Gregory, Sam'l Stryker, Geo. Wilson, John Eberly, William McClure, James Stewart, James McGuire, Jonathan Wilson, Henry Davis, Robert Wilson, Jacob Porter and Thomas Hamer. Tom's jolly laugh is enough to do a man good at any time. If our Sheriff and County Commissioners would select such men for Jurors. and the Hon. Geo. Taylor to preside, we would have very little business for the Supreme Court.

The most laborious hard working man I have seen is Benjamin Hortman. Ben appears to work for the pleasure of working, for he has plenty of means to hire others to assist him if he thought it necessary. The best specimen of a Pennsylvania farmer I met was John Schoell-his honest face would pass him in any crowd. John is the only man in the township that keeps a regular farm book .----The man of the most wealth in the township is Major William Moore. But for real genuine hospitality give me Mr. and Mrs. Robert Moore; here you meet society as it was five and twenty years ago; no new fashioned names or costumes with them; they make you welcome in their house and will share with you at their table the best they have got. I am sorry to see that they are getting old ; when gone it will be hard to replace them .--I cannot leave this township without making a remark about the Neff family,---they are all the descendants of John and Jacob Neff who came into this county from Lancaster county, some seventy years ago, and they have spread over three or four townships, and find them where you will, it is never on a slate hill or a gravel bank. They all have a peculiar knack of acquiring lime stone land, and it must be either that or none. Should they continue to increase in the same ratio for the next half century they will be one of the most numerous families in the county.

I am now in Old Barree township, this is the township that it is said nearly every person over twenty years of age can read and the sharpest dealers in the county.

MR. LEWIS :- You stated sometime since in you paper, that you would be pleased to have the news from the different townships throughout the county. I will give you a brief sketch of the most important things. that are taking place in little Clay.

Our farmers are expecting an abundant crop of grain, fruit, &c. They think. with good crops and the "Little Giant" for our next President, times will certainly be better. The "Railers" are holding a series of revivals, in our public school houses, each evening after an affecting discourse from the "Squire," (who says, "the Democrats have firmness. impartiality, and fidelity, if we exall left him," occasionally interrupted by pect to enjoy and transmit unimpaired to Richard, with such as, "Old Buck has 1500 niggers on hand. &c." They then give an and sages of the Revolution. invitation for all anxious persons to come forward and join their Abolition Club. But there are few who join with them. The people say they can't march to the tune of Lincon and Abolitionism.

There is a portion of our school directors in guite a "fix" about the money tendered to this township by Mr. Africa, for the use of our Common Schools. One of the directors told the treasurer, to not lift the money until he received further orders. (This director, mind, belongs to these "Railers") I suppose the old gentleman thinks, if they would take the money, perhaps it would make Mr. Africa a few more votes in this township next fall, should he be a candidate for office. Come old man, lay your political prejudice aside, and go in for the good of the taxpayers of your township, what we elected you for. Remember, every little helps.

I will give you a history of Mr. Ashman's modle barn, as soon as it is completed. So far, it excels anything in this end of the coun-Ever Yours, ty.
