OUR SADIE.

BY LEROY.

The shades of night were receding, the morning began to dawn as we gathered around the bed of our Sadie; and in a subdued voice it was said "She is dying." But angels on the other side of Jordan's streams whispered, "She is beginning to live." The Death Angel flapped his wing over her pale brow—but ah! it was gilded with the sunlight of Heaven. Sadie smiled, closed her eves on earth, and awoke in the embrace of loved ones in the presence of her Saviour. A Sabbath School Scholar less on earth, but one more in Glory! Blessed dead! Happy in a glorious immortality! May thy mantle of love rest upon thy dear young companions— thy pure spirit be their guardian angel, "To allure to brighter worlds and lead the way." Sadie C. was one of those sweet disposi-tioned children which always possess the power to draw the hearts of all around them, to themselves. Her little acts of kindness endeared her to all, and showed that she sought her happiness by striving to make others happy. She was unassuming in her deportment, and respectful toward all. Of her it might be said, in the language of Jeremy Taylor, "Like a fair taper when she shined to all the room, yet round about her own station she cast a shadow, and shined to everybody but herself." She was the child of religious parents and had for several years been a scholar in the M. E. Sunday School, which she always loved. When she was no longer able to attend, she took great pleasure in reading the books of the library, which were brought home by her brothers and sis-

More than a year ago, when at the age of about thirteen, she began to fade away beneath that blighting destroyer—consumption. For several months she was able to go out to take exercise in the open air. During this time she read and thought much on the subject of religion; and at last, in answer to her mother's earnest inquiry concerning her re-ligious feelings, she said she had found peace, and was not at all afraid to die. Last fall a married sister died, with the same disease from which she was suffering. This did not alarm her at all, as she confidently expected soon to follow her to the home of those "who have gone up through great tribulation, and washed their robes and made them white in the blood of the Lamb." Never shall the writer—an itinerant preacher—forget a little incident which took place at her home a few months before Sadie's death. I was sitting in the parlor, alone, when Sadie, just able to walk, came in and gently slipping a dollar of her own money into my hand, requested me to accept it as a gift from her. I replied, "Sadie this is too much."

She turned away, saying "No, no, I do not want it."

A few hours before she died, she calledby signs, for she was not able to speak-for her little box of trinkets, and with her own hands, distributed them among her relatives and friends; putting her own finger-ring on the hand of her little niece, and giving to her brother (also an itinerant,) her portemonaie, containing four dollars.

A friend, writing to me, of her death, says, "She was the happiest little creature I ever saw; her countenance was angelic. She was not in the least alarmed at death's approach." While her friends were singing the sweet

"We are going home to die no more" she raised her hands toward heaven and clasped them in ecstacy of joy, at the prospect just opening before her. Her death was one of triumph. She departed from earth, not as the day dies, and the sun sinks behind the distant west; but as the young day arises from the arms of night, and the morning Star melts away into the rich sunlight.

Will the little readers of the Globe, and especially those who loved Sadie while she was on earth, follow her example? give God their hearts and live for heaven? so that when they come to die they may have, as she had, "light in the valley"

ANOTHER TRIUMPH!

Philadelphia, Scpt. 29, 1859. TO THE PRESIDENT OF THE PENNSYLVANIA AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY:—The subscribers, your committee to examine the contents of a Salamander Safe, of Evans & Watson, after being exposed to a strong fire on the Fair Grounds for eight hours, respectfully represent—

That after seven cords of oak wood and three of pine had been consumed around the Safe, it was opened in the presence of the committee, and the contents taken out, a little warmed, but not even scorched. Several Silver Medals heretofore received by the manufacturers, and a large quantity of documents were in the Safe, and came out entirely uninjured.

The experiment satisfied us of the capacity of Safes of this kind to protect contents from any fire to which they want be expressed.

STILL ANOTHER.

WILMINGTON, Del., Sept. 17, 1859.—Messrs. Evans & Wat Son, Philadelphia.

Genllemen:—The Salamander Fire-Proof Safe of your manufacture, purchased by us from your Agent, Ferris & Garrett, of our city, some nine months ago, was severely tried by burglars last Saturday night, and although they had a sledge hammer, cold chisels, drill and gunpowder, they did not succeed in opening the Safe. The lock being one of "Hall's Patent Powder-proof," they could not get the powder into it, but drilled a hole in the lower panel and forced in a large charge, which was ignited, and although the door, inside and out, showed the explosion not to have been a small one, it was not forced open. We suppose they were the greater part of the night at work on it. We are much gratified at the result of the attempt to enter it, and if the above facts are of any service, you are at liberty to use them.

Yours, truly,

BAYNARD & JONES.

GREAT FIRE!-ANOTHER TRIUMPH!! Knoxville, Tennessee, March 13th, 1859. Messrs. EVANS & WATSON, Philadelphia: Gentlemen-It affords me great pleasure to say to you that the Salamander Safe which I purchased of you in that the Salamander Safe which I purchased of you in February, 1858, proved to be what you recommended it—a sure protection from fire. My storehouse, together with several others, was burned to the ground in March last.—The Safe fell through into the cellar, and was exposed to intense heat for six or eight hours, and when it was taken from the ruins and opened, all its contents where found to be in a perfect state, the books and the papers not being injured any whatever. I can cheerfully recommend your Safes to the community, believing, as I do, that they are as near fire-proof as it is possible for any Safe to be made.

THOMAS J. POWEILL.
