The hurra boys of the Lincoln party have had several demonstrations in this place lately. What they lack in argument and strength they appear determined to make up in noise, and for that purpose they appear to have employed all the boys of town. With the assistance of some Democrats they raised a "Lincoln, Hamlin, Curtin and Wharton" pole at the upper end of town on Saturday last. Of course they will not count those fun of the thing.

THE PEACH BORER .- Mr. John Hays, of Hollidaysburg, informs the Register that he has tried coal tar (obtained at the gas works) for two years past, as a remedy for the Peach Boror, with entire success. He dug a little basin about the root of the tree, raising the rim a couple of inches, and poured into it say a pint of the tar-renewing the application early in the spring. He is quite sanguine it will save the tree. Try it.

CHEAP AND USEFUL.—Along the borders of ponds and streams, and in moist sand all over the country, grows a little hollow-stemmedleasless plant, ten to twenty inches high, and an eighth of an inch in diameter, which is known, generally, under the appropriate name of "scouring rush," though another name seems quite as appropriate, "vegetable file." Its outside is fluted, and the edges serrated, so that its effect when drawn across any substance is somewhat like that of a rat-tail file, and when used in a mass—that is a dozen or two doubled and tied in a bunch—it works like a wet sponge dipped in sand, and is one of the best things a housewife can use for scouring the inside of a churn, butter-bowl, and ladle, or kitchen table; or in short, any novel and unexpected event then took place. kind of wooden utensils; and, when well worn upon wood, is good for tinware. E. C. Pechnin, Esq., Secretary of the State Executive Committee, was next introduced. His speech was a master effort.

After the addresses of the above named gentlemen, the following resolutions were offered and unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the people of Huntingdon county, in Mass Meeting assembled, wearied of the foolish strife upon the question of slavery, which can result in nothing good, and which only tends to embitter the different sections of our common country against each other, while the more important and practical question of a PROTECTIVE TARIFF is entirely lost sight of in the unnatural strife, feeling the necessity of the inauguration of a new party which will ignore all such distracting matters,

Resolved, therefore, That we will support the Constitutional Union candidates, John Bell and Edward Everett.

Resolved, That the officers of the meeting act as the officers of the Constitutional Club of Huntingdon, and that the President of this meeting be authorized to appoint a County Executive Committee of five. On motion the meeting adjourned.

Another Arithmetical Prodigy.

A few days since we witnessed some astonishing displays of arithmetical genius by a young man named Meredith Holland, from Monroe county, Ky., who called into our office. If asked to multiply any two numbers Democrats "in" for anything more than the stantly give the result, as by intuition, and without any process of figuring. This he did in several instances, the numbers sometimes COUNTY FAIR.—The County Fair will take rising to millions and even billions. But the most singular manifestation of his powers was in calculating from the birth days of ground, commencing Sept., (Wednesday) 26th, those present, and who propounded the test to continue three days. The proceedings of questions to him. For example, when the writer of this paragraph told him that he was born the 30th day of March 1814, he immediately answered, "Yes, your last birth day occurred on Friday; from that day to this (July 16), there have been 100 days; the whole number of days that you have lived from that time to this is 16,901; hours, 450, The Standing-Stone Guards will be out in full uniform for the first time on Saturday culation in the ordinary way, we found these next at 10 o'clock when the company will be statements correct in every particular, omitting, of course, the hours and minutes of the Certain trigonometric problems were answers to these, though given with equal promptness, were not generally correct, owing as it appeared, to an inability to comprehend certain essential elements in the problems. His speciality related mostly to the arithmetical department, and in this he presents a prodigy sufficiently wonderful.

He is evidently uneducated, and is unable to explain the process by which he so quickarithmetical questions, but says the moment question is asked he knows the answer, as it were by intuition, and without the slightest mental effort.—Life Illustrated.

FIVE GENERATIONS REPRESENTED IN ONE FAMILY .-- A gathering of an interesting character took place in High Ridge, Connecticut, on Thursday last. Five generations belonging to the family of Polly Stevens-formally known as Polly Curtess-comprising one hundred and eleven members, ninety-six of whom are still living, together with a few specially invited ones, met upon the premises of the old homestead for the purpose of commemmorating so rare and auspicious an event. At table over one hundred seated themselves to partake of the refreshments provided, eighty being members of the above family.-Some of the remaining sixteen were living in Ohio, which accounted for their absence upon the occasion, the distance being too great .-Each generation, however, had its representative, from the great-great-grandmother seated at the head of the table, down to the great-great-grandchild held in its mother's arms—a fine specimen of a fat baby five months old. Such a gathering as this we have never witnessed before, and may never behold the like again. All were enjoying good health, and most of them are, to say the least, in comfortable circumstances.

After partaking of the plentiful variety furnished for the occasion, a suitable prayer was offered, and a brief address delivered by the Rev. S. W. Clark, of North Stamford. A It was announced that there was a child to be baptized, which proved to be the great-greatgrandchild, a fine, healthy looking girl, the baptism was accordingly administered by the Rev. T. D. Littlewood, and the name of Josephe Adelia given to the child. After a

A few days since a case unparalled in the history of surgical operation on one's self named Patrick Dugan, who for some time had been under medical treatment at the City hospital, left that institution and went to a neighboring house, where he procured an axe, and went to the rear of the building, of this place, a head of cabbage weighing fif- where, placing his leg upon a stump, with a teen pounds. NOVEL REMEDY FOR WHOOPING COUGH.—A paper published in Preston, England, some friends of Bell and Everett, assembled in time since, gave the following information to

"Great numbers of children laboring un-The meeting was organized by electing in Preston, for the purpose of breathing the exhalations from the gas lime. It is said that all the little sufferers feel considerably relieved, and many are absolutely cured by this simple remedy."

A gentleman in Philadelphia recently took one of his children to the gas works there, while it was suffering severely from the whooping cough, and a perfect cure was effected.-It might be well for some of our physicians this dreadful scourge.

Armstrong County.—A horrible accident occurred at Freeport, Armstrong county, on the 28th ult., by which a man named Frank M'Callum lost his life in the following shocking manner: He was boiling salt at Mr. James' works, when by some mischance he was precipitated into the cistern of boiling salt water. He succeeded in crawling out, but there being no one near to assist him, he unforiunately fell back again in the scalding brine. Notwithstanding the second mishap, he got out without assistance and walked to his home. He was actually flayed alive, and after suffering unknown tortures, at last found ease in death, twenty-four hours after the accident.

A COLORED CENTENARIAN.—There is living on the banks of the Ohio an old man, black enough to vindicate the honesty of his parentage, named Micajah Philips, and rejoicing in the age of one hundred and fifteen years. He says he had been going to see "the gals a long time when the resolutionary war broke out." He invariably calls that famous war the resolutionary war. He was originally a slave in Richmond, Va., and near the close of the last century was bought by the celebrated Blennerhassett, and taken to

On monday morning, 6th, about 3 o'clock, a most singular accident occurred at the Clarenden Hotel, in Buffalo. The Republican says : "A colored waiter in the house by the name of Leroy Munday, with the rest of the servants, sleeps in the fourth story of the building over the dinning hall, his bed close up to the window. The night being very hot the window was open, and in his restlessness he rolled out. He fell a distance of some forty feet, in his descent striking the window-sills of one of the lower stories, causing the sash to fall, whereby a great noise was created, and finally landing on the top of a small out-building in the rear of the awelling of John G. Deshler, Esq. The noise of the breaking glass in his fall, and his groans afterwards, attracted the attention of Mr. D. and others occupying that portion of the house, who went to the assistance of the injured man. He was, after some time, taken back to his room, and a physician obtained, who, in his examination, could find no bones broken or appearance of internal injury."

HEATED WIND STORM .- A heated wind storm passed over a portion of Kansas recently, which proved nearly as destructive to animal life as the recent tornadoes that visited with such terrible effect portions of Iowa. faction of the day on which the calculation | The wind arose about half-past ten o'clock in the morning, and contined until three o'clock in the afternoon. At one o'clock the mercury rose to 119½°, and contined so for about an hour, and then began to gradually decrease. The effect can scarcely be imagined. The wind blew a brisk gale, carrying with it a sultry, sulphurious smell. Two men in attempting to cross the country from Iola to Humboldt, (distance eight miles,) were overtaken and perished. There were three others at Humboldt, who were caught out with teams, which perished, the men alone surviving, and are now in a fair way to recover. There was scarcely a chicken left in the country. Hogs and cattle fell in their tracks and were sufficated. Various conjectures and reasons as to its course are given, but all unsatisfactory.

Not Inquisitive.—The Paris (Ky.) Citizen has found a woman who is not inquisitive.— She had not seen the market house for thirtyfive years, although she lives within two squares of it, and who has never seen the railroad, and has no curiosity to see it. She says she did get a glimpse of the cars once, from the street in front of her house, as they passed over the bridge, but she "paid no attention to them." She has not been to church for forty years, and the reason she gives is, that people now-a-days go to church to look at each others's fine clothes, and to show their own, whereas, when she was young, they went there to pray and hear FATAL ACCIDENT .- On Sunday afternoon a week, a teamster employed in hauling luggage from the river to the camp-ground, near Tarentum, lost his life in a singular manner. While driving a load up to the camp-ground, quite rapidly, he was thrown out, and falling a distance of about nine feet he struck a stump with jagged points, one of which entered below his neck and ripped open his chest as far as the abdomen. Dr. Perchment, who was on the camp-ground, was sent for, but before he arrived the man died, having survived his injuries scarcely fifteen minutes. -Pittsburg Post.

Dr. F. Newburry Clark, on Saturday last, extracted a tooth from Robison & Co.'s celebrated performing lion, at Buckhannon, Va. A meteoric stone, weighing from 400 to 500 pounds, fell, or was supposed to fall in McAlisterville, Juniata county, Pa., on 5th inst. A rumbling noise was heard by many persons at 5 P. M., and one lady saw something falling rapidly into a field. Near stone; that it is circular in form, 3 feet 4 inches in diameter, 18 inches thick.

Man by the name of Wm. Meadville, residing in Fostoria, Blair county, was stabbed in that place on Wednesday evening last, the 16th inst., by a man by the name of Hugh Osmund, injuring him so severely that he died in two or three hours. The circumstances of the case are as follows: It appears that Osmund went into Meadville's shoemaker shop, Meadville was engaged in making some sort of a plaster, Osmund made some remark in a joking way in relation to the plaster, which was answered by Meadville in an angry manner. Angry words followed, when Meadville jumped up from his seat and caught Osmund by the throat; Osmund had a barlow knife in his hand, and to get Meadville's hand from his hand, he struck at his arm with the knife, but the blow missed his arm and penetrated his heart. Osmund was arrested and committed to jail. He is married and has three children. Meadville was an unmarried man.

At Russell's Foundry, in Chicago, on Thursday last, a number of men were engaged in casting, when one of them accidentally spilled his ladle of molten iron into the boots of another. The agony of the burn caused the second man to drop his ladle, the scalding contents of which fell upon the man who had charge of the crane. He let that fall, and in an instant the fluid spread throughout the shop, severely burning about twenty. Some of them were horribly burned in the breasts and legs, but not fatally.

The Owen county (Ind.) Journal says: The census taker of Montgomery township has encountered an old lady who was one hundred and six years old last Fourth of July. She came from North Carolina, but has been here many years. She is still in the enjoyment of reasonable health and eyesight, and a sound mind. Her hearing is somewhat impaired, but the family converse with her in an ordinary tone of voice. With the assistance of a staff she can walk a quarter of a mile without resting. Her weight is supposed to be between forty and fifty

In Portland, on a recent Sunday, a parishioner who usually wore a wig, appeared in his own natural shining bald head. His most intimate friends didn't know him; and the officiating pastor, under whose preaching he had sat for twenty-five years, said at the evening meeting, "that he had observed a venerable gentleman who had worshipped with them throughout the day, and he was happy to find he was then present; he would therefore call upon his aged friend to favor the assembly with a few remarks."

Longevity .- Mrs. Elizabeth Litzenberger died at the Stark county, Ohio, Infirmary on the 1st inst., aged 102 years, 10 months and 20 days. It is stated that when a girl she was a great favorite of General Washington, for whom she cooked during his visits to Little York, Pa., which so pleased him that he offered her a permanent situation in his family, which she declined.

We were shown yesterday the hat vorn by General Jackson on the occasion of his inauguration as President of the United States for a second term. The hat is in an excellent state of preservation, and though in its style forcibly reminding us of its distinguished wearer, it would hardly pass for fashionable. It is white, very broad brimmed, and has a wide crape on it. The tip bears the imprint of the maker, "Orlando Fisk, Broadway 137, New York-manufactured especially for his Excellency, General Andrew Jackson."-Nashville Banner, August

THE EARTHQUAKE IN KENTUCKY .- It has already been mentioned that at several places in Kentucky and Indiana the shock of an earthquake was felt on the morning of the 7th inst. At Evansville, Indiana, it was accompanied by a sound similar to that made by a heavy laden train of cars running slowly through a depot. Doors and windows rattled, and buildings jarred as if agitated by the moving of heavy goods on the same floor. In one hardware store on Main street, the shock was so severe as to throw over a large circular saw standing against the wall at an angle of 25 degrees. A letter says:—
At Hendersen, Ky., the shock was even more severe, though not of so long duration. The people left their houses and ran into the streets, though no damage was done. I am under the impression that the shock was heavier further South. The waves seemed to come from the southwest. Up to the time of the shock the heat was very oppressive-not a breath of air stirring. Since that time the wind has gradually increased, and the thermometer is sinking fast. Now (9.30 P. M.) the thermometer stands at 63. At 9 o'cock this morning it stood at 91 in the shade .-The sky is not clear, neither is it cloudy.— There appears to be a sort of mist that makes the stars appear dim. The breeze is still increasing. I understand the aurora borealis was visible at two o'clock this morning.

SINGULAR PHENOMENON—Descent of a Thunderbolt:-Yesterday afternoon, about half past three o'clock, one of the most startling phenomenons occurred immediately in the rear of Mr. J. B. Price's lumber yard office, rarely ever witnessed. The descent of a thunderbolt, filling the air for a number of rods around with a dense smoke or fog, loaded with strong sulphurous odor. Mr. Price's office and the new building in the course of erection adjoining it, suddenly becoming illuminated with an intensely red lurid light, simultaneous with a loud report, the shock of which was felt for several squares off. Some of the workmen in Mr. Price's new building felt the heat of the electricity quite sensibly, and say their tools at a moment presented the curious that no one was hurt, or even shocked. the immediate vicinity of the bolt.—Hanni-

A VOLCANO IN WISCONSIN .- One of the strongest phenomena in nature has recently developed itself near the Horse Lake, Polk county, Wis. Flames of fire came up through the earth in several localities, and one man's barn has been burnt down by it. Strange to say, the fire can only be seen in the daytime, the place indicated by her, this stone was the earth in the evening bearing a close refound; having been examined by a geologist, semblance to phosphorus. The air smells as he made this report: That it resembled lime- if impregnated with sulphur. The most remarkable feature in this case is the fact that woolen articles in the houses located near by take fire, although there is nothing visible to ignite them. This is a fact, says the Chicago Journal.
