For the Farmer.

Are Potatoes Wholesome Food? A subscriber sends for this journal (the Agriculturist,) a long essay, in which he attempts to prove that potatoes are an unwholesome article of food. Many of the reasons given, would apply to most other kinds of food, and we do not see how the writer, if he believes all he writes, can avoid following the advice of the colored man at Charleston during the prevalence of the cholera. After condemning various articles of food as dangerous, to the direct question, "what shall I eat, then?" he replied :- "Why, de best way is to cat noffin' at all, and den you no 'spose yerself." In regard to potatoes, there is no doubt that good, mealy potatoes, cooked through, are as healthful as any article of food consumed. They abound in starch, and do not, alone, furnish muscle-making material enough. They may be eaten more freely in cold weather when carbonaceous, or heatproducing food is most required; with a due quantity of lean meat, bread cabbage, and other nitrogenous kinds of food, they are always good. But to be easily digested, they should always be baked or boiled dry, and mashed. The mashing is not essential for adults who have good molar teeth or grinders, and who will take time in eating, to masticate them well. Children, and careless or rapid eaters, are likely to swallow unmashed potatoes in small lumps. These lumps are dissolved slowly, and irritate the stomach, producing a dull, heavy feeling, if not adsolute pain. The fact that bits of potatoes are vomited whole, or passed off in the excrements, when there is any irritation of the stemach or bowels, is proof that such lumps should never go into the stomach.

Potatoes should not be mixed with butter or gravies in mashing, as such a compound is not easily dissolved by the gastric juice. A better plan is to mash them dry, or with a little milk, and let whatever salt and butter, or gravy, is used, be put upon the outside of each mouthful. (This remark applies to all kinds of food.) The butter, gravies, spices, etc., applied to food, are designed to come in contact with the salivary glands, and promote a flow of saliva, and this end is better secured by putting these substancee upon the outside

A dry, mealy potato, baked or boiled through, and mashed finely so that it would dissolve in water stirred up with it, is just as good food, for a sick person even, as boiled rice. We repeat that sick or well persons, young or old, should never swallow a piece of a potato larger than a small pea; and to insure this, we advise, as a general rule, to mash potatoes before bringing them to the table. We agree with our correspondent, that every potato having a black spot or lump in it, is diseased, and the whole potato should be unceremoniously rejected. There is no saving in consuming any part of such a pota to. Mere cracks or openings in large potatoes, if unsurrounded with dark-colored, hard matter, are not indicative of disease.

Vegetable Oyster, or Salsify.

This excellent plant grows like a parsnip, and is in flavor very much like fresh oysters. Scrape them, and cut them round in thin slips; boil them tender in milk and water, season them well 'with pepper, butter and salt make a nice toast, moistened with the gravy laid in the bottom of the dish, and pour the whole over it. You can scarcely detect the difference. There should be a sufficient quantity of the gravy; too much lessens the flavor. It is sometimes cut up and parboiled. chopped fine and fried in batter. The roots may be first cooked tender, then fried whole in batter. [This is the very best mode in which to cook this fine vegetable.] We have raised it constantly for a dozen years, but never use it until about the end of October. They preserve best left in the ground, like the carrot, to be used whenever the frost will admit of their exhumation.—Ger. Tel.

To PREVENT SKIPPERS IN HAMS .- In a communication to the "Cotton Planter," Mr. W. McWillie says :- "There is, according to my experience, nothing easier than to avoid the skipper and all worms and bugs that usually infest and often destroy so much bacon. It is simply to keep your smoke-house dark, and the moth that deposits the eggs will never enter it. For the past twenty-five years I have attended to this, and never have had any bacon troubled with any insect. I have now hanging in my smoke-house hams, one, two, and three years old, and the oldest are as free from insects as when first hung up.-I am not aware of other causes for the exemption of my bacon from insects, but simply the fact that my smoke-house is always kept dark. I smoke with green hickory—this is important, as the flavor of bacon is often utterly destroyed by smoking it with improper wood.

Working Butter. After the butter is removed from the churn, put water in the working bowl, to rinse off the buttermilk. In another dish have cold water and a linen cloth free from lint. Rinse the cloth out dry, spread the butter out with a ladle and press the cloth gently on the butter and remove all the drops of moisture .-Continue this process until the butter is ready for salting-keep the water clean for rinsing the cloth often. Any one trying this will be surprised to find how much it facilitates the preparation of butter to salt.

BUCKWHEAT STRAW. — J. A. Hubbard, writing to the N. E. Farmer, says that buckwheat straw "is injurious to young pigs, and if they lay in it, it will set them crazy and they will finally die. It is hurtful to hogs and young stock to run through it when green, making their head and ears sore and itch very much." Is this so?

SAY AND SEAL,

By the author of "Wide, Wide World," and the author of "Dollars and Cents."—2 vols., 12 mo.; publishers price $2,00.

In evidence of the great popularity of this work, we need only say that 30,000 COPIES of the English edition have already been sold, and, up to the present time, we have been unable to furnish the books as rapidly as ordered We invite attention to the following notices:

"The authors have turned their intellectual wealth to the best purposes. Such books are better than hundreds of mere controversial sermons."—R. Shelton Mackenzic. "'Say and Seal' is indeed a true, beautiful home book, "Say and Seal' is indeed a true, beautiful home book, that will be read with delight and profit by tens of thousands of our people."—Evening Bulletin.

"Decidedly the best book emanating from the authoress of 'Wide, Wide World.'"—Inquiror.

"A delightful book it is."—The Press.

"It is superior to 'Wide, Wide World.'"—North American.

THE BIBLICAL REASON WHY, A handsome book for Biblical Students and Sunday School Teachers, and a Guide to Family Scripture Reading, beautifully illustrated.—Large 12 mo., cloth, gilt side and back. Publishers' price $1.

This book makes the Bible a pleasant as well as profound subject of study. It leaves no difficult or obscure point unexplained. It renders every passage clear. It is exactly the volume that every family, which reads at all imperatively needs to place beside the Bible, as its best companion.

THIS VOLUME ANSWERS 1,493 QUESTIONS IN A CLEAR MANNER. TESTIMONIALS OF THE CLERGY.

"I have given some attention to the 'Biblical Reason Why,' and feel bound to say that it seems to me to contain a vast amount of information on Biblical subjects, conveyed in a clear manner, illustrated by many valuable cuts, and printed on good paper. It constitutes a valuable addition to the apparatus of the Teacher, Parent, and private Christian." Right Rev. ALONZO POTTER, D. D., LL. D.

Bishop of Pennsylvania.

"I have examined the 'Biblical Reason Why,' and find it to be a repartory of facts on Biblical subjects, set forth in a plain and intelligible way. Indeed, I am surprised at the amount of matter that is compressed into this volume. For use in families and schools, I consider it the best book of the kind I have seen."

Rev. JOHN McCLINTOCK, D. D., LL. D.,

President of the Troy University, and Pastor of St. Paul's Church (Methodist Episcopal,) New York.

"The attention I have given your book satisfies methat "The attention I have given your book satisfies methat it cannot fail to give important aid to all students of the Bible, and especially that large class who have neither time nor means to bestow on larger or more critical works. The plan of your work is excellent, and the matter well chosen. It should have a large circulation. It will certainly be of great use in the study of the Holy Scriptures."

being exposed to a strong fire on the Fair Grounds for eight hours, respectfully represent—

That after seven cords of oak wood and three of pine had been consumed around the Safe, it was opened in the presence of the committee, and the contents taken out, a little warmed, but not even scorched.

Several Silver Medals heretofore received by the manufacturers, and a large quantity of documents were in the Safe, and came out entirely uninjured.

The experiment satisfied us of the capacity of Safes of this leight to practe contents from any first to which they Wilmington, Del., Sept. 17, 1859.—Messis. Evans & Warson, Philadelphia.

Gentlemen:—The Salamander Fire-Proof Safe of your manufacture, purchased by us from your Agent, Ferris & Garrett, of our city, some nine months ago, was severely tried by burglars last Saturday night, and although they had a sledge hammer, cold chisels, drill and gunpowder, they did not succeed in opening the Safe. The lock being one of "Hall's Patent Powder-proof," they could not get the powder into it, but drilled a hole in the lower panel and forced in a large charge, which was ignited, and although the door, inside and out, showed the explosion not to have been a small one, it was not forced open. We suppose they were the greater part of the night at work on it. We are much gratified at the result of the attempt to enter it, and if the above facts are of any service, you are at liberty to use them.

Yours, truly,

KNONVILLE, Tennessee, March 13th, 1859.

Messrs. EVANS & WATSON, Philadelphia:

Gentlemen—It affords me great pleasure to say to you that the Salamander Safe which I purchased of you in February, 1858, proved to be what you recommended it—a sure protection from fire. My storehouse, together with several others, was burned to the ground in March last.—The Safe fell through into the cellar, and was exposed to intense heat for six or eight hours, and when it was taken from the ruins and opened, all its contents where found to be in a perfect state, the books and the papers not being injured any whatever. I can cheerfully recommend your Safes to the community, believing, as I do, that they are as near fire-proof as it is possible for any Safe to be made.
