LOCAL & PERSONAL.

An Earnest Request .- We have published the Globe regularly for fifteen years, during which time thousands of dollars of arrearages for subscription and advertising, have accumulated upon our books. We have never pressed those of our friends in arrears, for a settlement. But now, as we have in contemplation some extensive improvements in the size and appearance of the Globe at an early day, we intend, before making those improvements, to have the wheat sifted from the chaff, and our books squared up. Therefore, all who are indebted to us are requested to call before the 1st of December and square their accounts. We hope there will be no delay on the part of all our patrons in arrears. We are politically defeated, but neither frightened nor dismayed.

PHYSICAL BENEFITS OF SINGING.—The following will be found among the good effects accruing from the practice of singing:-A frequent correction of defects in speech, including stammering, hissing, and nasal enunciation. Singing also improves the hearing; for by listening to singing, they learn to distinguish the relative positions of the notes uttered by one voice. The ear thus becomes practiced, and fully able to convey the close distinction of tone to the seat of perception. Singing, besides, is a great improvement to the health of children; notwithstanding, an opinion to the contrary has been long current, and that singing by young children in particular has a baneful tendency, occasioning spitting of blood and pulmonary diseases .-However, recent scientific examinations in Germany and elsewhere have demonstrated the utter fallacy of this idea. Nothing is calculated more than singing to produce the power of free perspiration, and so systemize the breathing (if we may use the expression) as to prevent or remedy the weakness of the chest so often and so unjustly complained of. There are other benefits to our physical nature, connected with the practice of singing, of which we may speak more in detail hereafter. Meanwhile, we must not forget the moral and intellectual effects of singing .-They are numerous, and even more obvious than the physical.

EXPANDING THE CHEST .- Those in easy circumstances, or who pursue sedentary indoor employment, use their lungs but little, breathe but little air into the chest, and thus independently of positions, contract a wretchedly small chest, and lay the foundation of the loss of health and beauty. All this can be perfectly obviated by a little attention to the manner of breathing. Recollect the lungs are like a bladder in the structure, and can be stretched open to double the size with perfect safety, giving a noble chest and perfect immunity from consumption.

The agent and only agent required is the common air we breathe, supposing, however, that no obstacle exists, external to the chest, such as tying it around with stays, or having the shoulders lie upon it. On rising from bed in the morning, place yourself in an erect posture, with your chest thrown back, and the shoulders thrown entirely off the chest; in their way, to be expected only in evil doers now inhale all the air you can, so that no of maturer years. Whose fault is it that more can be got in; now hold your breath and | there so many such in the town. Certainly throw your arms behind, hold your breath it is somebody's fault, and sombody should as long as possible. Repeat those breaths as long as you please. Done in a cold room it is much better, because the air is so much denser and will act more powerfully in expanding the chest. Exercising the chest in this manner, inflexible and expansive, and will enlarge the capability and size of the WOODEN SCHOOL SLATES .- Since the manufacture of wooden nutmegs, in the State of Connecticut, has ceased, the people have turned their attention to the manufacture of all sorts of Yankee notions, from patent sewing birds, in the manufacture of which a fortune has been made, and wooden clocks, in which fortunes have been made and lost, down to campaign medals, of which one manufacturer turns out ten thousand per diem. About the last invention contrived by these ingenious people is the manufacture of school slates out of wood. Not long ago, Messrs. Dean & Munger, of New Haven, Conn., took out a patent, through the office of the Scientific versal use. They are made of three thicknesses of veneering glued together and covjust the proper degree of roughness to receive engraved, and the paper is poor and of a the impression from the pencil, and are then Stationery Store.

The enlarged son—which occurred in September last. He | Globe, will be sent to those only who shall bad apparently recovered from his affliction, until a few days prior to his disappearance, when his mind seemed partially to give way name, but we must be receiving our subscripunder the power of his deep distress. On the night of his departure, immediate search was made for him by his family and citizens of Martinsburg, and the search has been continued up to the present time, but without obtaining the shadow of a clue as to his fate or whereabouts. Mr. Bolger is about 50 years of age, rather sharp features, and about 5 feet 10 inches or 6 feet in height.-He was dressed in a black frock coat and black parts, morocco shoes, and a brown straw hat. Any tidings of the missing man. communicated to Rev. J. Hassler, J. C. Everhart, or A. S. Morrow, Martinsburg, Pa., will be gratefully received by his family.

BOILED WHEAT FOR DESSERT .- Pick over and wash a pint of white wheat, boil four hours, put in salt the same as for rice; refill with boiling water, if more is needed; stir often the last half hour, being careful not to let it ity of the clergy, or the receipt of a cake, to burn; cook it dry. Sometimes it looks starchy justify us in making them public we shall but that soon disappears. Serve hot or cold try to keep the names of the parties interestwith sweet cream. This we think an excelded a secret. leut dessert, and very fine for invalids. Another very rich dish for dessert can be made of wheat, cooked like the above: then boil a quart of sweet milk, one cup of sugar, one cup of raisins, currants, or any fruit, (raisins are preferable,) two beaten eggs; cook slowly, and stir until it boils: serve cold or hot, without sauce. Or, after the wheat is washed, soak it in warm water over night, keep it wet till time for use, then simmer the water all out of it, then add the milk and other ingredients, and use as above.

Nor Guilty .- Roeloff the conductor, and Armstrong the engineer, of the train which killed two men in this place during the encampment, were up for trial in our Court last week. The charge of manslaughter could not be sustained against either of them by the evidence, and consequently both were acquitted. The evidence we heard satisfied us that the engineer and brakesmen done all in their power to check the speed of the train before it passed the Station, but the condition of the track, which was very slippery, caused by rain and being walked upon by the crowd above and below the Station, made | was cast and is being put up by Mr. John it impossible to check its speed, the wheels M. Cunningham, of this place. slipping on the rails after they had been locked. The only sure way to avoid accidents of the kind is to keep off the track at all times.

BAD Boys.—There are a large number of bad boys in Huntingdon-and very bad boys, too, are many of them-ranging from eight to fifteen years of age, who are suffered to run the streets day and night without restraintboys with parents and without parentswell-dressed boys and ragged boys-boys whose parents cannot control them, and boys whose parents will not control them-all banded together and working in concert, exhibiting a degree of cunningness and intelligence, see to it. A timely move in the proper direction may save some of them from the penitentiary or the gallows.

IMPURE WATER.—Set a pitcher of water in a room, and in a few hours it will have absorbed nearly all the respired and perspired gasses in the room, the air of which will have become purer, but the water utterly filthy .--The colder the water is, the greater its capacity to contain these gasses. At ordinary temperatures a pint of water will contain a pint of carbonic acid gas, and several pints of amonia. This capacity is nearly doubled by reducing the water to the temperature of that of ice. Hence water, kept in the room awhile, is always unfit for use. For the same reason the water in a pump stock should all be pumped out in the morning before any is used. Impure water is more injurious to the health than impure air.

Counterfeit.— Counterfeit Fives on the Western Bank, of Philadelphia, exceedingly American, for the manufacture of this article, close imitations of the genuine, have made and from their manifest superiority over the their appearance. The most perceptible difold stone slate, they are going into almost uni- ference is in the shading of the words 'Western Bank' and 'Five Dollars.' In the spurious it is heavier than in the genuine. The ered on both sides with a black coating of signature of the Cashier on the spurious is smoky hue. But this, in all probability, is framed in the usual manner. Their most stri- one of the tricks of counterfeiters, in order king peculiarities are their extreme lightness to get it described as such, and then to flood and durability; they may be thrown down the country with notes on paper equal to the and even stamped upon without being bro- genuine. The only security the public at ken. They are for sale at Lewis' Book and large have, is to refuse, for the present, all fives on this Bank.

matter they will contain.

THE DAILY GLOBE will contain a report of the Debates in both branches of Congress as taken down by reporters, equal, at least, to any corps of short-hand writers in this, or in any other country. A majority of them will each, be able to report, verbaim, ten thousand words an hour, while the average number of words spoken by fluent speakers rarely exceeds seven thousand five hundred words an hour. When the debates of a day do not make more than forty-five columns, they will appear in The Daily Globe of the next morning which will contain, also, the news of the day, together with such editorial articles as may be suggested by passing events.

THN CONGRESSIONAL GLOBE AND APPENDIX will contain a report of all the Debates in Congress, revised by the speakers, the Messages of the President of the United States, the Annual Reports of the Head of the Executive Departments, the Laws passed during the session, and copious indexes to all. They will be printed on a double royal sheet, in book form, royal quarto size, each number containing sixteen pages. The whole will make, it is believed, at least 2,000 pages. This is acknowledged to be the cheapest work ever sold in any country, whether a reprint or printed from manuscript copy, taking for data the average number of words it contains.

The coming session will, without doubt, be an unusually interesting one, because the debates will, in a great measure, be upon the policy of the Prestdent elect, and The Globe will be, as it has been for many years past, the only source from which full debates of Congress can be obtained.
