THE U. S. SENATE.

The political complexion of the United States Senate is rapidly changing. It is thus referred to by the Washington Constitution, the President's organ. The next Senate will be composed thus:

Democrats and Conservatives.

Fifteen Southern States, 30
Mr. Bright, of Indiana, 1
Mr. Rice, of Minnesota, 1
Mr. Thompson, of New Jersey, 1
Mr. Latham, of California, 1

Total, 34

Opposition—Black Republicans.

Maine, 2
New Hampshire, 2
Vermont, 1
Massachusetts, 2
Connecticut, 2
New York, 2
New Jersey, 1
Pennsylvania, 2
Ohio, 2

Total, 30

Pennsylvania and Indiana will send Black Republicans in the place of Messrs. Bigler and Fitch, and hence we put them down, though their successors have not yet been elected. Mr. Douglas' position is such that he may or may not act with the South, and hence we class him with neither. If Mr. Uwin is re-elected, the Democrats and conservatives will have 35 instead of 34, and if he is defeated, it will stand thus:

Democrats and conservatives, 34
Republicans, 31
Total, 65

Mr. Douglas,

TALKING RIGHT OUT.

That old Clay Whig organ, the Commonwealth, Frankfort Ky., after avowing its editor's individual belief that any State that has a right to secede from the Union, goes on to say

"If the people of South Carolina, Alabama, or Georgia, desire to secede from the Union, in the name of the Constitution let them do so. Let them form a Republic, an Empire, or anything else they may fancy. Let them inclose themselves within a Chinese wall if they want to, and here is one who will contribute his mite toward furnishing the requisite rocks. Let them do what they please. Let them do it as they please, and when they please, with one solitary condition, viz: that their separation shall be final. Their absence would be an incalculable and invaluable relief to the balance of the people of these United States. We should escape large quantities of quadrennial gas, and noise, and confusion, and stuff."

"At every Presidential election, these political filibusters remind us of the poor Frenchman who locked himself in a room with a rich ditto, and threatened to blow his own brains out and charge the rich one with the murder, unless the latter gave him then and there five hundred dollars. Every four years, these Southern Quixotes swell up with bad whiskey and worse logic, and tell the balance of the people if they don't do so and so, that they—the Quixotes—will secede. Let them secede and be—blessed. We are tired of their gasconade, their terrific threats, and their bloody prophecies. They were never calculated for any higher destiny than that of frightening old women and children. They have been revived and repeated until—to use an expressive vulgarism—they are played out. Their bombast is absolutely sickening."
