GET THE BEST DETECTOR. -The Philadelnhia Ledger speaks as follows of Petersons' Counterfeit Detector: Petersons' Counterfeit Detector and Bank Note List for December has been received by us, and is corrected by Drexel & Co., the well-known Bankers and Brokers, and it is the best and most reliable Detector of Counterfeits and Altered Notes published in this country. The number issued this day fully describes Fifty new Counterfeits, and contains full descriptions of all bogus bank notes that are being altered to suit various banks all over the country, and which are being daily put into extensive circulation. It also contains several other pages of very valuable information of everything sion of payments generally did not trouble us pertaining to bank notes. It has been considerably enlarged, having now forty-eight on the "magnificent" shell fish. Gentlemen pages in, and contains fac-similes of three and ladies wishing a plate of good Ovsters bogus bank plates and the coat of arms of all the United States. We have no hesitation in pronouncing it the most complete, reliable and best publication of the kind in the United States, as it is not used to subserve the interest of any banking-house, as most of the socalled Detectors are. It should be in the hands of every storekeeper in the whole country: and we would advise all persons who handle paper money to send One Dollar in a letter, for a years subscription, to the publishers, and thus subscribe for the monthly issue of it at once; or Two Dollars for the semi-monthly issue. It is published by T. B. Peterson & Brothers, No. 306 Chestnut street, Philada., to whom all letters should

PAYING DEBTS .- Few people seem to realize the dishonesty of not paying their debts. It has become a habit with many to defer liquidating their liabilities to the longest possible moment. The most trivial excuses, and in many instances downright falsehoods, are resorted to, to put off a creditor. Men with money in their pockets will declare, with faces as long as the moral law, that they are entirely unable to meet the demand made upon them, in fact, according to their story, they have not a cent in the world; but they are extremely sorry, and, at some other time, they hope to be able to pay what they owe. Others will spend their money lavishly in gratifying their appetites and fancies, and let their creditors whistle for their dues. Now, we submit to any candid man whether such conduct is any less dishonest than it would be to put your hand into another's pocket and steal his purse. On the contrary it seems to us to be meaner. Men obtain credit through the confidence the creditor may have in them. When they refuse to pay, they abuse this confidence, and persist in holding on to what does not belong to them. The common thief takes and keeps. The man who makes a business of getting trust and never paying, gets and keeps. The only difference between them is, one takes and the other acts, and that, we think, is distinction without much of a difference.

The nork season is upon us! The shrill screams of the dying porkers have taken the place of the "morning call" of chanticleer, and sausages, per consequence, constitute the "bill of fare" of almost every household. Hog killing is a general and an important business at this season of the year. and is beyond all comparison the most disagreeable duty that devolves on the housewife. But use conquers disgust, and that fact with proper preparation for, and systematic arrangement of the work while in progress. makes hog killing an endurable business .-Indeed, in large families, we think hog killing desirable and certainly economical, as many portions of the animal which are considered the prequisites of the slaughter-house, come in an excellent place at home. It is a pleasure, beside your own well cured bacon. to have a supply of sausages and lard that you can use without any disagreeable doubts of their cleanliness.

A Novel Wedding .- On Wednesday last, says the Tyrone Star, Wm. Burley, Esq., of that city, riveted a couple in the holy bonds a solemn and impressive sermon on the ocof matrimony, under singular circumstances. He received word that they would be on the accommodation train, going west, with the request that he would meet them at the station. Upon the arrival of the train, the worthy Justice entered the car in which the happy couple were, and to the the utter astonishment of the passengers, immediately proceeded with the marriage ceremony. The The "wildest excitement" prevailed throughgood-natured and accommodating conductor, out the Sessions. Capt. Cremer, kindly waited until the last word was spoken, and then with an "all right-go ahead," and a snort from the fiery horse, started the newly married pair on their journey through life.

PRESERVES.—The paper which is usually pasted over jars of preserves, is porous and admits air. To render it perfect impervious, and as tight as a drum, apply the white of an egg with a brush to the paper before covering the jar, overlapping the edges an inch or two.

DIPTHERIA.—This dreaded and fatal disease has made its appearance in some sections of Blair county. It also prevails to a considerable extent in Clearfield county, where a number of deaths have occured.

Physicians declare the latter to be the best, and say that as the vessel through which the blood passes from the heart to the head are always lessened in their cavities when the head is resting in bed higher than the body, the head ought to be nearly on a level with the trunk, and people should accustom themselves to sleep thus, in order to avoid the danger resulting from the opposite habit. The relative position of the head and trunk, when the former is bolstered up in bed, is the same as that produced by stooping the head forward when the body

What Oysters!—On Saturday evening we received another dozen of Mammoth Oysters from the Mt. Vernon Saloon. The suspension of payments generally did not trouble us the death of Margaret Owens, and punctually to her during life—the whole to be secured by bonds and mortgage of the purchaser.

THANKSGIVING DAY .- The day was appropriately observed in the 'ancient borough' by the people generally. A number of turkeys and "sich like" disappeared from the tables of the fortunate, while others were thankful for smaller favors in shape of Oysters and 'fixins,' roast beef and pork, boiled cabbage and potatoes etc., etc.

We notice that Mr. Charles Miller is about making considerable improvements at his tannery in this place. He is putting up a steam engine for the purpose of griuding bark, and saving hand labor in the tanning and finishing of hides and skins.

COMMENDATIONS: From Hon. Lewis D. Campbell, M. C., Ohio. My family and friends all concur in the opinion that the (Newell) picture is more life-like than any thing they ever saw. My likeness has been repeatedly taken by different Artists in various ways, but I have never yet had one which presents so true to nature, all the features and expressions of saw teneros. expressions of countenance as this.

From Hon. E. Joy Morris, late Minister to Italy, The exquisite finish, beauty and softness of your portraits, conjoined with their durability of color and faithfulness as likenesses, cannot fail to commend them to the attention and patronage of all who appreciate true art.

From Col. James Page. Having occasion for a portrait, I procured one from Mr. Robert Newell, of the city of Philadelphia, a miniature in Oil Colors, under the new process discovered by hun, and take great pleasure in expressing the satisfaction given me, not only by the accuracy of the likeness, but its artistic finish in all respects, and recommends him to the nat ronage of those disposed to encourage the beautiful art.
