THE GLOBE.

Huntingdon, Monday, Dec. 24, 1860.

LOCAL & PERSONAL.

THE MORAL LAW OF CREDIT.—As a general rule for just business transactions, a perhides on credit, for his labor does not conthem; and the shoemaker may buy leather on credit, for the labor too adds to its value. But when the shoemaker has worked up the leather, if he sells them on credit to customers, then neither the shoemaker, nor tanner, nor seller of hides has any direct valuable security for the debt, which has progressed through the different parties. The final product is destroyed by its purchaser. So a farmer may buy land on credit, because his labor on it adds to its value; he may purchase growing stock on credit, because his grass crop is improving it. But when he goes to a store to buy merchandise on credit, which he consumes; relying upon uncertain crops and unstable prices to pay the merchant, then he endangers his own security, and that of the various classes of merchants who are depending on each other, .Capital, to be useful, must be employed; and as the labor of most men is their chief capital, their wants demand its employment. If the creation of a debt gives them that upon which they may profitably expend their labor, the debt is a blessing, and for such a result only is credit a useful institution.

RUNAWAY Boys.—We find in the papers, another warning to boys who become impatient of the restraints of home and consider their parents their worst enemies. It is a truthful saying that "a runaway boy never comes to a good end." They start out in the world before they have discretion enough to take care of themselves, and with the disgrace of being a runaway preying upon their minds, they are easily led into temptation, or driven to desperation, and generally wind up their career by committing some act that consigns them to the House of Refuge or the Penitentiary. The son of a clergyman, in Michigan, recently left home, without the knowledge or consent of his parents, and wandered off to Chicago where he obtained the situation of train boy, or water-carrier, on one of the Railroads running into that place. A few days ago he was detected in the act of plundering the mails on the train and was arrested and is now in prison for the crime. Thus ends the career of the Runaway Boy, but it is the beginning of a life of misery to his parents that will " bring down their gray hairs in sorrow to the grave."

WHAT CAUSES HAIR TO TURN GRAY .-- An English writer has recently asserted that an undue proportion of lime in the system is canse of premature gray hair, and advises to avoid hard water, either for drinking pure or when converted into tea or coffee, or soup, because hard water is always strongly impregnated with lime. Hard water may be softened by boiling it; let it become cold, and then use it as a beverage. It is also stated that a liquid that will color the human hair black, and not stain the skin, may be made by taking one part of bay rum, three parts of olive oil, and one part of good brandy, by measure. The hair must be washed with the mixture every morning, and in a short time the use of it will make the hair a beautiful black, without injuring it in the least. The articles must be of the best quality, mixed in a bottle, and always shaken well before being applied.

CAPTURE OF A FOX BY A LOCONOTIVE.-One day last week, in the neighborhood of Mill Creek, Huntingdon county, the engineer of the No. 73, hauling one of the stock trains, discovered a fox coming down the embankment upon the track. The engineer, being as cunning as Reynard is said to be, "shut off," and watched his opportunity until the fox should attempt to cross the track in front of the engine, when he would put on steam and capture him. In this design he was so far successful as to cripple the animal. The fireman jumped off with a view of getting the game alive, but Mr. Reynard showed fight, and had to be killed before he would allow himself to be captured. The skin of the animal, we understand, is to be stuffed, and to adorn-No. 73.

Worthy of Conmendation .- Mr. Geo. L. Walker is now selling his immense stock of splendid Pianos and Melodeons below cost, in order to keep his workmen employed during this winter. We recommend any of our readers who are in want of a first class Piano or Melodeon, to call on Mr. Walker at once. as they may never again have a chance of seson should never buy on credit that which he curing such bargains. Mr. Walker's wareconsumes. A tanner may properly buy rooms are at the S. E. Corner of Seventh and Arch Street, Philadelphia, where he also sume them, but gives an additional value to keeps an extensive assortment of Piano Stools, Sheet Music, &c. Orders by mail promptly attended to. See adv. in another column.

THE ENLARGED GLOBE.—We expect to issue the next Globe enlarged and improved. To make the improvements we have been compelled to "run our face," but hope our efforts to please our readers will induce them to come to our assistance. The terms of subscription will remain the same, $1,50 a year in advance, 75 cents for six months, 50 cents for three months. As we intend to make room for new subscribers by transferring to our "black book" the names of all subscribers who fail to secure a continuance of our patience, we ask our friends to interest themselves in securing for us such names as will be a support to the Globe.

We are pleased to notice that Bro. Jolly, of the Tyrone Star, feels disposed to compel patent medicine advertisers to pay regular advertising rates. We pledge ourself to adhere strictly to our published rates. If other publishers will pledge themselves to adhere to their published rates, and stand fast, there will be no necessity for a meeting.

More of the Same Sort .- Mrs. Geo. Nash has our thanks for pudding and sausage.-Printers' wives know what it is to be poor. We will have a great many debts to pay when we kill our porkers. Echo answers,

OUR HOTELS.-Maj. John S. Miller, now occupying the Jackson Hotel, has purchased the Exchange, and will take possession in the spring. Ex-Sheriff Graffus Miller, has leased the Jackson House and will take possession in the spring.

THE HOLIDAYS .- We this week put the Globe to press on Monday that our hands may enjoy the Christmas Holiday. Our next issue will be in the new year—we therefore take this opportunity of wishing friends and foes a happy New Year.

We have received during the past two weeks a number of friendly letters containing -very fair promises. We hope our friends will be able to live up to them.

The proceedings of Union Meeting at Alexandria, was received too late for publication this week. All partes participated.

COMMENDATIONS: From Hon. Lewis D. Campbell, M. C., Ohio. By family and friends all concur in the opinion that the (Newell) picture is more life-like than any thing they ever saw. My likeness has been repeatedly taken by dif-ferent Artists in various ways, but I have never yet had one which presents so true to nature, all the features and expressions of countenance as this.

From Hon. E. Joy Morris, late Minister to Italy, The exquisite finish, beauty and softness of your por-traits, conjoined with their durability of color and faith-fulness as likenesses, cunnot full to commend them to the attention and patronage of all who appreciate true art. From Col. James Page.

Having occasion for a portrait, I procured one from Mr. Robert Newell, of the city of Philadelphia, a miniature in oil Colors, under the new process discovered by him, and take great pleasure in expressing the satisfaction given me, not only by the accuracy of the likeness, but its artistic finish in all respects, and recommends him to the patronage of those disposed to encourage the beautiful art.
