Where the fees hanglity host in dread stience reposes, What is that which the breeze, e're the towering steep, As it fittially blows, half conceals, half discloses? Now it catches the gleam of the morning's first beam; In full glory reflected, now shines on the stream—'Tis the star-spangled banner! Oli, long may it wave, O'er the land of the free, and the home of the brave!

And where is that band who so vauntingly swore
That the havee of war, and the battle's confusion,
A home and a country should leave us no more!
Their blood has wash'd out their foul footstep's pollution
No refinge could save the hireling and slave,
From the terror of flight or the gloom the grave!
And the star-spangled banner in triumph doth wave,
