The Star-Spangled Banner.

What you see, by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hail'd as the flag of our birth,
Whose stripes and bright stars through the gloom
Of the night were seen, were so gallantly streaming.

WAR NEWS.

Another Skirmish in Virginia.

BALTIMORE, June 18.—The Washington papers of this morning state that a train of cars was despatched from Alexandria yesterday afternoon to Vienna, taking Col. McCook's First Ohio Regiment, accompanied by Gen. Schenck.

WASHINGTON, June 18.—From E. Jacobs, Esq., of Ohio who was on the train with the Ohio regiment when the attack was made upon the train yesterday, I gather the following important and reliable facts, in reference to the surprise and attack from the rebel forces, near Vienna, Virginia.

At one o'clock yesterday a train was despatched out on the Loudon and Hampshire road from Alexandria, containing the First Ohio Regiment, Col. McCook and Brigadier General Schenck. The object of the expedition was to repair the road and bridges.

LAGERSHOW, June 18.—8 a. m. DEAR GLOBE.—Yesterday (Monday) morning at 5 o'clock, we started on foot for a second visit to Williamsport, a distance of 6 1/2 miles from this place.

WASHINGTON, June 18.—The Democrat has just received the following dispatch from Jefferson city: "Mr. Gordon, of St. Louis, and others just from above, give the following account of the battle at Booneville: General Lyon landed four miles below town and ordered a heavy cannon against the rebels, who retreated, and dispersed into an adjacent wood, from whence, hidden by brush and trees, they opened a brisk fire on our troops."

ST. LOUIS, June 18.—The Democrat has just received the following dispatch from Jefferson city: "Mr. Gordon, of St. Louis, and others just from above, give the following account of the battle at Booneville: General Lyon landed four miles below town and ordered a heavy cannon against the rebels, who retreated, and dispersed into an adjacent wood, from whence, hidden by brush and trees, they opened a brisk fire on our troops."

CHICAGO, June 18.—The Evening Journal says that a gentleman well known to the editor, passed through the city this morning, direct from Mobile and Memphis. He had opportunities of judging of the strength and condition of the rebels, and he estimated the number engaged between Vicksburg and Cairo at thirty thousand, all well armed.

WASHINGTON, June 18.—Accounts of an entirely reliable character, received from Louisville this morning, state that Col. Stone is still there, and not at Leesburg, as heretofore frequently reported. Yesterday afternoon the enemy attempted to make crossing at Groesbeck, having arrived opposite Edward's Ferry, in force estimated by officers in command of the guard there, at from eight to nine hundred.

THE BATTERY AT CAMP McDOWELL.—We have before us a draft of the battery at Camp McDowell, near Alexandria, Va., occupied in part by the Pennsylvania 5th regiment, to which the "Standing Stone Guards" are attached.

CAMP CHAMBERS, June 12.

EDITOR GLOBE.—Truly, night before last was one of our most successful in Co. C. We have our streets numbered according to letter of company. The boys brought into Camp and planted trees on each side of the streets, and at one end of our street is a large arch in which floats the Stars and Stripes.

WASHINGTON, June 17.—In the Convention, to-day, Mr. Pierpont, of Marion, made a strong speech in favor of the Declaration of Independence, reported by the committee on the 13th.

Lines written on the death of John Gibbs, a native of England and member of the Standing Stone Guards, company D, Fifth Pennsylvania Regiment, who, after a few weeks sojourn in America joined the company above named, and died, while in service at Alexandria, Va., June 7th 1861.

When desolation's chimneys dim
The smoke that rises from the grate,
When reared their standard high
And look the marks of treason there,

When desolation's chimneys dim
The smoke that rises from the grate,
When reared their standard high
And look the marks of treason there,

When desolation's chimneys dim
The smoke that rises from the grate,
When reared their standard high
And look the marks of treason there,

When desolation's chimneys dim
The smoke that rises from the grate,
When reared their standard high
And look the marks of treason there,

When desolation's chimneys dim
The smoke that rises from the grate,
When reared their standard high
And look the marks of treason there,

When desolation's chimneys dim
The smoke that rises from the grate,
When reared their standard high
And look the marks of treason there,

When desolation's chimneys dim

OUR CORRESPONDENCE.

WALKER TOWNSHIP, June 17, '61.

MR. EDITOR.—I have been eagerly perusing every issue of the Globe for some time, thinking to see a correspondent from Walker, but it appears our literary men, if really possessing the ability, are wanting the brass to report an item from our worthy township, and I am determined, rather than seeing it wholly eclipsed, to pitch in myself.
