

THE GLOBE.

Tuesday Afternoon, June 25, 1861.

LOCAL & PERSONAL.

Mr. Editor.—The Ladies of Huntington present their compliments to "Observer," and beg leave to state that their patriotism has not yet altogether subsided. They are ready, "in season and out of season" to make Havelocks, or anything else the soldiers may need. They have now on hand some seventy pairs of drawers, shirts, &c., which were made for the Standing Stone Guards, but having been informed that they were not needed, they offered them to the Huntington Infantry and are subject to their order. A number of Havelocks have been made and forwarded, but they have no material on hand, nor money collected to procure them. If "Observer" or any other person, will collect materials and leave them at the "Globe" office, they will speedily convert them into Havelocks; gray linen or brown Holland will be acceptable.

The ladies think the reflection on their want of patriotism comes with a bad grace from any one who has witnessed their untiring efforts to relieve the wants of the soldiers. On Friday night it was announced that two regiments would be here early in the morning on their way to Bedford. Many of the ladies were up at three o'clock, and from that time until late in the afternoon were doing all in their power to provide for nearly 2,000 hungry soldiers. A number gave them all their bread and had to supply the wants of their own families during the Sabbath the best way they could. While they have no disposition to make a parade of their patriotism in the public print, they are ready, at any time, to compare notes with Mr. "Observer" to see who has done the most in this our common cause.

THE LADIES. The office-seeking politicians, it appears to me, act under the influence of the idea that they are a peculiar people. They immediately before the August convention they may be found where loafers most do congregate, and by sunny promises and divers diversions, endeavor, at they say, to secure their township, the rest being "all right." If they have secured the nomination, they may be seen out here again—Holding receptives, and on Saturday, and shaking hands with the faithful at Camp Meeting on Sunday. Now, sir, this may all be deemed necessary by the contesting candidates, and we may be censured for not appreciating the motives which actuate them. Still, we confess, that we see neither the harmony of their conduct, nor the propriety of the result.

McAlevy's Fort presented a very gay and patriotic appearance on Saturday last. The Stars and Stripes are floating from every house; the citizen soldiers of Jackson and Barre townships having met here for a grand parade. There goes the Jackson Artillery, commanded by the indomitable Burr and Snay; with what ease and rapidity they execute the different movements. But look! Yonder comes marching on the splendid cavalry company from old Barre, led by our worthy fellow-citizen Captain Bell. What stalwart men, and splendid horses. We think there are over sixty mounted men; they reflect great honor on the county; especially when you remember the political proclivities of the township. They were opposed, almost unanimously, to the present Chief Magistrate, during the late political campaign; but, when our flag was insulted and degraded; when Liberty cried, "To the rescue," they called on one man, unfurling the glorious banner of the Republic; they are ready to defend it from enemies without, and traitors within. I see many gentlemen in the company whose names I should be pleased to mention, but to particularize further would be invidious.

Who are those noble looking fellows with the handsome rifles? They are the Ellsworth Guards, representing the wealth and talent of Jackson township. They are about completing their organization, having chosen W. A. Oakes, Captain, Dr. M. Miller and Geo. McAlevy Lieutenants, and C. W. Hardy Sergeant. The Valley reposes great confidence in them, and they are known to possess the requisite means to fully equip themselves. We wish them success.

Last though not least, comes the Home Guard of Jackson and Barre townships. These are the noblest Romans of them all; how many there are whose heads are silvered by the sands of Time, whose furrowed cheeks and tottering steps plainly admonish us, that e'er a few more months or days, and they shall behold our beautiful Valley for the last time. And yet they are here, with the buoyancy of youth, to inspire our young men with that spirit that commands honor at home and respect abroad.

The sun is now descending to the embrace of towering Tully; casting a golden radiance o'er the eastern hills, making our limpid creek that flows meandering by, to sparkle with ten thousand brilliants. Music is discoursing a beautiful parting tune; each one seems glad, for the day is well spent; meanwhile, "pale Cynthia" appears smiling complacently on the scene and leaving her solo queen of the night.

OLD FARMER. PENN TOWNSHIP, June 24, '61. Mr. Lewis:—After a silence of two weeks, I will again attempt a contribution to the "Globe" to express my numerous readers that Penn is still in the field, with a will for any fight she may be called on to meet, in testimony of which we might point you to the success rendered to the soldiers who passed through here on Saturday. Notwithstanding we had but two hours notice for preparation, our stationery, paper, letter and note envelopes, steel pens, etc., at wholesale prices, for 25 cents. Prepared and for sale at Lewis' Book Stationery and Music Store.

Still, we confess, that we see neither the harmony of their conduct, nor the propriety of the result.

The Glorious Fourth!—A Union Celebration of Independence Day, by the citizens of Barre, Jackson and West townships, will take place at Salsburg. Reverends Conner and Clark, and John Scott and W. Benedict, Deas, will be present to address the assemblage. The public generally, are invited to be there.

By order of the Committee. ICE CREAM.—We had a polite invitation on Friday evening last to try the ice cream prepared for visitors by our neighbor Polaris Thomas. We consider ourself a good judge of the article, and we unhesitatingly pronounce that made by Mr. Thomas equal to the best. Call and be convinced.

PALE RAINING ON BROAD TOP.—A pole and flag raising will take place at the City Hotel in Broad Top City on the 4th of July next. A grand time may be expected. Gen. Williamson and others will be on hand to be heard.

FORN.—On Saturday last in this borough, a BREAST PIN. The owner can obtain it by calling on Mrs. J. Simpson, Africa, Washington street, and describing the lost article.

OUR CORRESPONDENCE.

JACKSON TOWNSHIP, June 18. Mr. Lewis, Esq.—We of this valley are regarded by some as being a backward people. Indeed it has been said, that all we care for is to farm away for six days till Sunday comes, then go to church, listen to a two hour sermon, and sing psalms through our nasal organs. Well, sir, if to be backward implies in it, that we do not sufficiently patronize traveling preachers, horse doctors, negro performers, &c., as much as some other sections, we plead guilty to the charge. We have it in time, to labor under many disadvantages, owing to our isolated position; but, for honest industry, hospitality and patriotism, we are not far from the more highly favored of the country.

The good book. There were more people present at Marklesburg station, than I ever beheld there on any occasion; not merely consisting of the gay and young, but old men, and women, all an austrum, came out with their baskets well filled—too heavy to be borne at any time when patriotism was not swollen to almost bursting bounds—to give relief and encouragement to our brave boys on their way to Dixie's, and not a little were the soldiers surprised at this kind demonstration, wondering that such kind people, with such good things existed in such big hills.

The Marklesburg Guards repaired to the station at an early hour, to receive the trains containing the soldiers, which was attended with the wildest enthusiasm, calling forth a succession of deafening cheers, which almost rent the air; and the ladies, may good luck ever attend them, contributed not a little to further the patriotic demonstration.

The Connellstons, who spoke of in my last, come off in a highly satisfactory manner, attracting a great crowd of citizens, who were almost devoted to drilling, closing with an appropriate address by Dr. Wintrod. After the order of the day had agreeably passed, rowdyism came in for its share in the evening, with old "Langford" for Captain, and succeeded in getting up a list-ent, which resulted in one of the boys leaving the print of his back in the sand. Boys I would rather see you stay your blows till you get down to Dixie.

Yours in haste, COSMOPOLITE.

Our Army Correspondence.

CAMP NEBLEY, Hagerstown, June 19, 1861.

FRIEND LEWIS.—Having a moment's leisure, I drop you a line informing you of our whereabouts. On Sunday morning we left Chambersburg, and arrived at this place in the afternoon; we encamped in a beautiful spot with plenty of good water adjacent, on yesterday morning at 1 o'clock. The alarm roll was sounded, and we marched double quick to the Virginia arms through the day, and in the evening traveled back again to our camp at Hagerstown; it proved to be a false alarm, but it found our boys ready, and willing to put things through generally. Our whole brigade was along, commanded by Brig. Gen. Negley; it consists of the 11th, 14th and 15th P. V., the Wisconsin Regiment, a Regiment from Connecticut. We will give a good account of ourselves I predict, if we get a lick at traitorism. The weather is very hot, and the men stand it well. We are now under marching orders for Washington City, but whether we will get there is another thing entirely uncertain. Wherever we locate I will post you again, about the doings of the "fighting 15th." Good bye and Union forever. S. I. W.

CAMP CAMERON, Md., June 20, 1861.

DEAR "GLOBE"—We have at last got into the Southern States. We are mounted men; they reflect great honor on the county; especially when you remember the political proclivities of the township. They were opposed, almost unanimously, to the present Chief Magistrate, during the late political campaign; but, when our flag was insulted and degraded; when Liberty cried, "To the rescue," they called on one man, unfurling the glorious banner of the Republic; they are ready to defend it from enemies without, and traitors within. Testimony of Respect. Harlow Lodge, No. 281 E. of O. E. of P., has been deprived by a mysterious Providence, of our esteemed and worthy brother George M. Horst. We can scarcely believe in the hands of a being who has done all things well, who is glorious in business, faithful in promises, whose words, therefore, to that can be believed.

Rejoiced, that, though in view of his excellent character, we were wretched by the coming to his end, his life is a noble example to us, and his death a warning to us. We are deeply grieved that he has been cut off in the prime of his manhood, and his property and family left unprotected.

Rejoiced, that, in the death of George M. Horst, Esq., the Lodge has lost a worthy and honorable member and a loyal brother; one whose life was a constant illustration of the virtues of a Christian and a Patriot. Society has lost an active and useful citizen; the profession has lost one whose talents and energy were ever ready to be put in his higher rank, and his family and friends have lost one whose life was a noble example to us, and his death a warning to us.

Rejoiced, that a copy of these resolutions, signed by the committee, has been sent to the country press, and is now in the hands of the public. It is a noble example to us, and his death a warning to us. We are deeply grieved that he has been cut off in the prime of his manhood, and his property and family left unprotected.
