THE BRILLIANT VICTORY IN TENNESSEE.

THE OFFICIAL DISPATCHES.

The Traitor General Lloyd Tighman and Staff Taken Prisoners.

THE SURRENDER OF THE FORT UNCONDITIONAL.

The Victory Gained by the Fleet Alone.

The Fort and Prisoners Handed over to the Army.

THE REBEL GUNBOATS CHASED.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—Secretary Welles has received the following dispatch:

U. S. FLAG-SHIP CINCINNATI, OFF FORT HENRY, TENNESSEE, FEBRUARY 6, 1862.

The gunboats under my command, the Essex, Commodore Porter, the Carondelet, Commodore Walker, the Cincinnati, Commodore Stembel; the St. Louis, Lieut. commanding Paulding; the Conestoga, Lieut. commanding Phelps; the Lexington, Lieut. commanding Taylor; the Erie, Lieut. commanding Shirke; after a severe and rapid fire of one hour and a quarter, have captured Fort Henry, and have taken General Tighman and his staff, with sixty men as prisoners.

The surrender to the gunboats was unconditional, as we kept an open fire upon them until their flag was struck. In half an hour after the surrender I handed the fort and prisoners over to Gen. Grant, commanding the army, on his arrival at the fort in force. The gunboat Essex had a shot in her boiler, and after fighting most effectively for two-thirds of the action, was obliged to drop down the river, and she and several of her men were sealed to death, including the two pilots. She with the other gunboats' officers and men fought with the greatest gallantry. The Cincinnati received thirty-one shots and had one man killed and eight wounded, including two seriously.—The fort with twenty guns and seven mortars was defended by General Tighman with the most determined gallantry.

I will write as soon as possible. I have seen Commodore Walker, Commodore Phelps and three gunboats after the rebel gunboats. [Signed.] A. H. Foote, Flag Officer.

A Graphic Sketch of the Battle.—Four or five thousand Rebel Troops Cut and Run before the Sailors of the Gunboats.—They Leave Everything Behind.—Thirty-One Shots in the Gun Boat Cincinnati.—Gallant Working of the Essex.

The Gazette and Commercial's Cairo correspondents give the following account of the bombardment and capture of Fort Henry yesterday at 12.30 M., the gunboats Cincinnati, St. Louis, Carondelet and Essex, the Taylor, Conestoga and Lexington bringing up the rear, advanced in the afternoon to about ten miles, going to the right of Fainters Creek Island, immediately above the castles on the east shore of the river islands fortifications, and keeping out of range till at the head of the island and within one mile of the enemy. Passing the island in full view of the rebel guns we steadily advanced, every man at quarters, and every one straining to catch the flag officer's signal gun for the commencement of action.

Our line of battle was on the left of the St. Louis, next the Cincinnati, next Cincinnati, for the time being, the flag ship having on board flag officer A. H. Foote, and next the Essex. We advanced in line, the Cincinnati a boat's length ahead, when at 12.30 the Cincinnati opened the ball, and immediately three accompanying boats followed suit. The enemy, not backward, gave admirable response, and the fighting raged furiously for half an hour. We steadily advanced, receiving and returning shots of shot and shell, when getting within three hundred yards of the enemy's works we came to a stand and poured into them right, and left. In the meantime the Essex became disabled and drifted away from the scene of action, leaving the Cincinnati, Carondelet and St. Louis alone engaged. At precisely forty minutes past one the enemy struck his colors—and we advanced in line, the Cincinnati a boat's length ahead, when at 12.30 the Cincinnati opened the ball, and immediately three accompanying boats followed suit.

The rebel general remarked "I am glad to surrender to gallant officers." Flag officer Foote replied—"You do perfectly right, sir, in surrendering; but you should have blown my boats out of the water before I would have surrendered to you." In the engagement, the Cincinnati was in the lead, and the flying flag officer's pennant was the chief mark.

Flag officer Foote and Captain Stembel crowded her defiantly into the teeth of the enemy's guns. She got thirty-one shots, some of them being completely through her.

THE WAR IN MISSOURI.

ROLLA, Mo., Feb. 8.—The news from the West indicates that the preparations for a decided blow against the enemy are nearly completed. The forces for this movement are nearly all concentrated at the point where it is intended to move against the rebels. In a few days the whole command will probably be on the march westward. Generals Sigel and Asboth's divisions have reached Lebanon, and Major Wright's battalion of heavy artillery moved 18 miles west of that point.

Gen. Davis' brigade was reported to be crossing the Osage river on Wednesday, and a powerful force was expected to arrive at Lebanon on Thursday. Two of Major Wright's reports report that Price had made a speech to his troops, telling them that they were surrounded, and that they must fight or surrender, and that they all decided to fight. Price is said to have been heavily reinforced from Arkansas, and to have collected large supplies in provisions on the road between Springfield and Fayetteville. Capt. Wood was at Waynesville with twenty-seven rebel prisoners, including five captains, and between Lebanon and Springfield.

Evacuation of Romney, Va., by the Rebels.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 7.—The Wheeling Intelligence, of yesterday, says: "We learn from soldiers who arrived last night from Patterson's brigade that the rebels evacuated Romney on Monday night last. They either feared an attack from our forces, or contemplated making one in another direction."

A Dragon Scout near Fairfax Court House.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—The following particulars have been received: It appears that at 4 o'clock this morning Col. Friedmann's Cavalry, the Cameron Dragoons, numbering 800 men, went out in the direction of Fairfax Court House, for the purpose of capturing the Secession pickets. They swept the country from Fairfax Court House to Hunter's Mills, a distance of perhaps five miles, within half an hour, and captured 100 men, including 60 of Germantown's, which is several miles beyond the Court House, and seven miles this side of Centerville.

They drove in all the Secession pickets, excepting thirteen, who belonged to the First North Carolina and Stewart's Virginia Cavalry. These they captured, and this evening they were brought to Washington. They were found in a log house, and on being surprised fired upon our scouts. One rebel was killed in this fight. Capt. Wilson, of the Cameron Dragoons, was wounded in the neck, and a sergeant also was wounded.

The command was under Maj. Mass, of the Cameron Dragoons. A transport belonging to the rebels, was captured, together with the six horses and eight Colts rifles.

FROM SALT LAKE CITY.

SALT LAKE CITY, 6.—Two Frenchmen, Silver and Seven, started some time since from the Rocky Ridge to go to the Wind River mountain. They were overtaken by storm and lost their way. After wandering about twenty-two days they found telegraph poles, and remained there until picked up by the troops. They were in an exhausted condition, having eaten their dog and a portion of one of their horses and a beaver bait to sustain life.
