

WM. LEWIS, Editor and Proprietor. A. TYHURST, Associate Editor.

Published twice a week at $1.50 a year—50 cents for six months—20 cents for three months—advance.

HUNTINGDON, PA.

Thursday afternoon, Feb. 27, 1862.

Our Flag Forever.

NOTICE.

We have not the time nor the inclination, to dan personally, a large number of persons who have unsettled accounts upon our books of several years standing.

WAR BULLETIN.

Official Order in Relation to Military Intelligence.

WAR DEPARTMENT, Washington, Feb. 25, 1862. Ordered—First. On and after the 26th day of February instant, the President, by virtue of the act of Congress, takes military possession of all telegraph lines in the United States.

Second. All telegraphic communications in regard to military operations, not expressly authorized by the War Department, the general commanding, or the general commanding in chief, in the field in the several departments, are absolutely forbidden.

Third. All newspapers publishing military news, however obtained, and by whatever medium received, not authorized by the official authority mentioned in the preceding paragraph, will be excluded therefrom from receiving information by telegraph, or from transmitting their papers by railroad.

Fourth. Edwards S. Sanford is made military supervisor of telegraphic messages throughout the United States. Anson Sizer is made military superintendent of all telegraph lines and offices in the United States.

Fifth. This possession and control of the telegraph lines is not intended to interfere in any respect with the ordinary affairs of the companies, or with private messages.

By order of the President. EDWIN M. STANTON, Secretary of War.

ORDER, NO. 14. OFFICE SURVYOR GENERAL'S SERVICE, PA. HARRISBURG, Feb. 25, 1862. I—Officers on Recruiting Service under my charge from Pennsylvania Regiments now in the field, are prohibited from calling men for any organization, complete or not, which has not yet left the State.

II—It is made the duty of Recruiting Officers to expunge all deserters from Regiments now in the field, and send them, with the evidence of their desertion, to this Depot for safe keeping and transmission to their Regiments.

A record of all expenses attending the apprehension of each deserter will be forwarded with him to this Depot. Advertising of rewards for apprehension of deserters is prohibited.

III—All men belonging to Regiments now in the field who have been left sick, who have been on furlough when their Regiments left for the seat of war, or who have straggled or been otherwise left behind, who may now be desirous of joining their Regiments, are directed to report to the nearest Recruiting Officer, who will send them with their recruits to this Depot.

All who do not immediately avail themselves of this privilege will be looked upon and treated as deserters. RICHARD L. DODGE, Capt. 8th Infantry, Sup't R. S. Pa. An Embargo on War News.

Now that the head of the rebellion has been partially crushed, we begin to look about for some means of punishing the leaders and instigators of this unholy insurrection.

But there is a considerable class of slaveholders, especially in the Border States, who do not entertain this antipathy to labor. It is composed of men of moderate means, owning but few slaves.

These men are not so much opposed to the abolition of slavery as they are to the seizure of the property of their neighbors by the Government.

The heavy roll of cannon started our sleepy townsmen at the dawn of day. The batteries around the city thundered forth a rapid salute in honor of the anniversary.

The morning was damp and heavy, and the atmosphere was thick with the smoke of the cannon. The city was in a state of great excitement.

As we approached the rain ceased, and the highways became more passable, although the mist still hung over the city. Thousands flocked to the Capitol.

It was a sad day as you would choose for his funeral—very sad, and dull, and gloomy. As the morning broke, the sun shined brightly.

It was a sad day as you would choose for his funeral—very sad, and dull, and gloomy. As the morning broke, the sun shined brightly.

As we approached the rain ceased, and the highways became more passable, although the mist still hung over the city. Thousands flocked to the Capitol.

Approaching the Final. It reported from England, that in reply to agents from "the so-called Southern Confederacy."

But there is a considerable class of slaveholders, especially in the Border States, who do not entertain this antipathy to labor. It is composed of men of moderate means, owning but few slaves.

These men are not so much opposed to the abolition of slavery as they are to the seizure of the property of their neighbors by the Government.

The heavy roll of cannon started our sleepy townsmen at the dawn of day. The batteries around the city thundered forth a rapid salute in honor of the anniversary.

The morning was damp and heavy, and the atmosphere was thick with the smoke of the cannon. The city was in a state of great excitement.

As we approached the rain ceased, and the highways became more passable, although the mist still hung over the city. Thousands flocked to the Capitol.

It was a sad day as you would choose for his funeral—very sad, and dull, and gloomy. As the morning broke, the sun shined brightly.

It was a sad day as you would choose for his funeral—very sad, and dull, and gloomy. As the morning broke, the sun shined brightly.

As we approached the rain ceased, and the highways became more passable, although the mist still hung over the city. Thousands flocked to the Capitol.

Constitution, dictated by an apprehension that it would not be safe at present to go far outside the feelings of the civilized world.

But there is a considerable class of slaveholders, especially in the Border States, who do not entertain this antipathy to labor. It is composed of men of moderate means, owning but few slaves.

These men are not so much opposed to the abolition of slavery as they are to the seizure of the property of their neighbors by the Government.

The heavy roll of cannon started our sleepy townsmen at the dawn of day. The batteries around the city thundered forth a rapid salute in honor of the anniversary.

The morning was damp and heavy, and the atmosphere was thick with the smoke of the cannon. The city was in a state of great excitement.

As we approached the rain ceased, and the highways became more passable, although the mist still hung over the city. Thousands flocked to the Capitol.

It was a sad day as you would choose for his funeral—very sad, and dull, and gloomy. As the morning broke, the sun shined brightly.

It was a sad day as you would choose for his funeral—very sad, and dull, and gloomy. As the morning broke, the sun shined brightly.

As we approached the rain ceased, and the highways became more passable, although the mist still hung over the city. Thousands flocked to the Capitol.

O Lord, our Lord! how excellent is Thy name in all the earth, who hastest Thy glory above the heavens.

But there is a considerable class of slaveholders, especially in the Border States, who do not entertain this antipathy to labor. It is composed of men of moderate means, owning but few slaves.

These men are not so much opposed to the abolition of slavery as they are to the seizure of the property of their neighbors by the Government.

The heavy roll of cannon started our sleepy townsmen at the dawn of day. The batteries around the city thundered forth a rapid salute in honor of the anniversary.

The morning was damp and heavy, and the atmosphere was thick with the smoke of the cannon. The city was in a state of great excitement.

As we approached the rain ceased, and the highways became more passable, although the mist still hung over the city. Thousands flocked to the Capitol.

It was a sad day as you would choose for his funeral—very sad, and dull, and gloomy. As the morning broke, the sun shined brightly.

It was a sad day as you would choose for his funeral—very sad, and dull, and gloomy. As the morning broke, the sun shined brightly.

As we approached the rain ceased, and the highways became more passable, although the mist still hung over the city. Thousands flocked to the Capitol.

palmer than when I last saw him, and with a few grey hairs straggling among his raven locks.

But there is a considerable class of slaveholders, especially in the Border States, who do not entertain this antipathy to labor. It is composed of men of moderate means, owning but few slaves.

These men are not so much opposed to the abolition of slavery as they are to the seizure of the property of their neighbors by the Government.

The heavy roll of cannon started our sleepy townsmen at the dawn of day. The batteries around the city thundered forth a rapid salute in honor of the anniversary.

The morning was damp and heavy, and the atmosphere was thick with the smoke of the cannon. The city was in a state of great excitement.

As we approached the rain ceased, and the highways became more passable, although the mist still hung over the city. Thousands flocked to the Capitol.

It was a sad day as you would choose for his funeral—very sad, and dull, and gloomy. As the morning broke, the sun shined brightly.

It was a sad day as you would choose for his funeral—very sad, and dull, and gloomy. As the morning broke, the sun shined brightly.

As we approached the rain ceased, and the highways became more passable, although the mist still hung over the city. Thousands flocked to the Capitol.

fire of the artillery moved them down, mashing their forms into an almost undistinguishable mass.

But there is a considerable class of slaveholders, especially in the Border States, who do not entertain this antipathy to labor. It is composed of men of moderate means, owning but few slaves.

These men are not so much opposed to the abolition of slavery as they are to the seizure of the property of their neighbors by the Government.

The heavy roll of cannon started our sleepy townsmen at the dawn of day. The batteries around the city thundered forth a rapid salute in honor of the anniversary.

The morning was damp and heavy, and the atmosphere was thick with the smoke of the cannon. The city was in a state of great excitement.

As we approached the rain ceased, and the highways became more passable, although the mist still hung over the city. Thousands flocked to the Capitol.

It was a sad day as you would choose for his funeral—very sad, and dull, and gloomy. As the morning broke, the sun shined brightly.

It was a sad day as you would choose for his funeral—very sad, and dull, and gloomy. As the morning broke, the sun shined brightly.

As we approached the rain ceased, and the highways became more passable, although the mist still hung over the city. Thousands flocked to the Capitol.

WAR NEWS.

THE CAPTURE OF NASHVILLE.

THE NEWS FULLY CONFIRMED.

Further Flight of the Fleet-Footed Floyd.

The White Flag Flying at Memphis.

St. Louis, Feb. 25.—The Republic's Cairo dispatch says the occupation of Nashville has been confirmed.

Our troops took possession of the city without opposition.

The report that Gov. Harris had ordered all the Tennessee troops to lay down their arms and go home, is also confirmed.

The Tennessee Legislature is called to meet on Monday next.

No opposition to the Union movements is made anywhere on the Cumberland river.

It is also reported that white flags are flying at Memphis.

LOUISVILLE, Feb. 25.—A deserter from the rebel army, who arrived at Manfordsville to-day, reports that the national flag is flying over Nashville, and that the rebels pretend to be concentrating 200,000 men at Murfreesboro, intending to give battle there.

St. Louis, Feb. 25.—Two old citizens of St. Louis, who left Memphis on Tuesday last, arrived here to-day.

They report that on the day they left Memphis the Tennessee Legislature arrived there from Nashville, and went to meet on the following day to discuss the present state of affairs in that State.

The people were rapidly arriving at New Madrid, and Colonel Gunter, who arrived there from Nashville, is congregating in large numbers.

All the gold and silver that could be got hold of had been moved to Memphis.

A panic of colossal dimensions had seized the rebels. State and Confederate scrip was of no value whatever.

There were only 3,000 rebel troops at New Madrid, and Colonel Gunter's Earthworks had been erected a short distance below New Madrid. Jeff. Thompson held no command there.

THE WAR IN ARKANSAS.

Price Driven from his Stronghold at Cross Hollow.

His Sick & Wounded Left Behind.

General Curtis' Army Living on the Enemy's Provisions.

Dispatch from General Halleck to General McClellan.

St. Louis, Feb. 25.—Gen'l Halleck this morning telegraphed to Gen. McClellan as follows:

"Price's army has been driven from his strong post at Cross Hollow.

"The enemy left his sick and wounded, and such stores as he could not destroy.

"He burned the extensive barracks at that place to prevent our troops from occupying them.

"Gen. Curtis says that most of our provisions, for the last ten days, have been taken from the enemy."

A FULL STOCK.—A full stock of 1862 styles of Wall Paper has just been opened for inspection at Lewis' Book Store. Those who intend to paper in the spring would do well to make a selection now, as prices are so low, and a splendid article of window papers of numerous styles.

HUNTINGDON MARKETS.

CORRECTED WEEKLY.

Table with 2 columns: Item and Price. Includes Wheat, Corn, Flour, and other market goods.

AUDITOR'S NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given to all persons interested in the undersigned Auditor, appointed by the Court of Huntingdon County, to appear at the Court on the 27th day of March, A. D. 1862, to show cause why the same should not be granted.

AUDITOR'S NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given to all persons interested in the undersigned Auditor, appointed by the Court of Huntingdon County, to appear at the Court on the 27th day of March, A. D. 1862, to show cause why the same should not be granted.

AUDITOR'S NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given to all persons interested in the undersigned Auditor, appointed by the Court of Huntingdon County, to appear at the Court on the 27th day of March, A. D. 1862, to show cause why the same should not be granted.

AUDITOR'S NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given to all persons interested in the undersigned Auditor, appointed by the Court of Huntingdon County, to appear at the Court on the 27th day of March, A. D. 1862, to show cause why the same should not be granted.

AUDITOR'S NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given to all persons interested in the undersigned Auditor, appointed by the Court of Huntingdon County, to appear at the Court on the 27th day of March, A. D. 1862, to show cause why the same should not be granted.

AUDITOR'S NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given to all persons interested in the undersigned Auditor, appointed by the Court of Huntingdon County, to appear at the Court on the 27th day of March, A. D. 1862, to show cause why the same should not be granted.

AUDITOR'S NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given to all persons interested in the undersigned Auditor, appointed by the Court of Huntingdon County, to appear at the Court on the 27th day of March, A. D. 1862, to show cause why the same should not be granted.