

WAR NEWS.

FROM THE SOUTH.

Great Alarm at Norfolk—Col. Corcoran not to be Released—Barnside Reported to be Advancing—The German Turners—Proceedings of the Rebel Congress.

Fortress Monroe, March 7.—A flag of truce from Norfolk brought down the Commandant of the French steamer. He represents that great excitement exists in Norfolk. The hotels are swarming with officers, mostly from the Gulf States, the Virginia troops being all sent away. The people dread the destruction of the city in case of an attack.

A strong force is concentrating at Suffolk to check Gen. Barnside, who was reported to have occupied Winton in force and to be moving on Norfolk.

The reason given by the rebels for not returning Col. Corcoran is that maps and drawings have been found concealed on his person. No further communication has been received as to the release of the Federal prisoners at Richmond.

The Richmond papers of Friday contain no military news, except the arrest of Union men, principally Germans. The detectives broke into the room of the German Turners, and found two American flags with a printing on the wall of the Goddess of Liberty, with the words underneath "hats off." The printing was destroyed.

The House of Representatives, in session at Richmond, has adopted, by a vote of 71 to 11, a resolution directing the military commandant to destroy all the cotton and tobacco that is in danger of falling into the hands of the enemy.

A despatch from Atlanta, Georgia, says that the Federal troops have occupied Murfreesborough, Tennessee, and that Gen. A. Sydney Johnston has retreated to Decatur, Alabama.

Bishop Andrews has postponed indefinitely the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, which was to meet at New Orleans on the first of April.

FROM FORTRESS MONROE.

The Rebel Steamers Merrimack, Jamestown, and Yorktown—Attack on the Fleet—The United States Ship Sloop-of-war Cumberland—A Congress Captured.

WASHINGTON, March 9.—The Government has received information from Fortress Monroe, that yesterday the iron-clad steamer Merrimack and the gunboats Jamestown and Yorktown attacked our fleet and sunk the United States sloop-of-war Cumberland, and took the Congress. The United States steamer Minnesota was grounded when the Fortress Monroe boat left.

The Rebel Attack upon the United States Fleet—Details of the Disaster.

Fortress Monroe, March 8.—The dullness of Old Point was started at 10 o'clock to-day, by the announcement that a mysterious vessel, supposed to be the rebel steamer Merrimack, and looking like a submerged house with the roof only above water, was moving down from Norfolk by the channel in front of Sewell's Point. Signal guns were fired at the United States sloop-of-war Cumberland and the frigate Congress, to notify the Minnesota, St. Lawrence, and Roanoke, of the approaching danger, and all was excitement last night and early this morning when the Merrimack was attacked by the three rebel steamers, the Merrimack, Jamestown, and Yorktown. At a contest of five hours the Merrimack, Col. Geary's command, and the three iron-clad monitors, the Merrimack, Jamestown, and Yorktown, were sunk. The Merrimack, the largest of the monitors, was the only one which was not captured.

There was nothing protruding above the water but the flag-staff, flying the rebel flag, and a short smoke stack. She moved along slowly and turning into the channel leading to Newport News, steamed direct for the Cumberland and Congress, which were lying at the mouth of the James river. As soon as the Merrimack came within range of the Cumberland, the latter opened on her with her heavy guns, but the balls struck and caused no effect on her but her crew were a pop-gun. Her ports were all closed, and she moved on in silence with a full head of steam.

In the meantime, as the Merrimack was approaching the two frigates on the one side, the iron-clad steamers Yorktown and Jamestown came down the James river and engaged our frigates on the other side. The batteries at Newport News also opened on the Merrimack, striking her amidships, and literally laying open her side. She then drew off, fired a broadside into the disabled ship, and again dashed against her with her iron-clad prow, and knocking in her side, left her to sink, while she engaged the Congress which lay about a quarter of a mile distant.

The Congress had in the meantime kept up a sharp engagement with the Yorktown and Jamestown, and having no regular crew on board her, and seeing the hopelessness of resisting the iron-clad steamers, at once struck her colors. Her crew had been discharged several days since, and three companies of the Naval Brigade had been put on board temporarily, until she could be relieved by the St. Lawrence, which was to have gone up on Monday to take her position as one of the blockading vessels at the James river.

On the Congress striking her colors, the Jamestown approached and took on board all the officers as prisoners, but allowed her crew to escape in the boat. The vessel being then cleared, it was fired by the Merrimack, and her two iron-clad monitors opened with shell and shrapnel on the Newport News batteries.

The firing was briskly returned. Various reports have been received, principally from frightened sailors' clerks. Some of them reported that the garrison had been compelled to retreat from the batteries to the woods. Another report is that the two smaller rebel steamers had been compelled to retreat from the guns of the batteries. In the meantime the steam frigate Minnesota, having partly got up steam, was being towed up to the relief of the two frigates, but did not get up until too late to assist them. She was also followed by the frigate St. Lawrence, which was on its way from Norfolk. The small harbor steamers, it is, however, rumored that neither of these vessels had pilots on board them, and after a short engagement both seemed to be, in the opinion of the pilots, on the point of aground. The Minnesota, either intentionally or from necessity, engaged the three rebel steamers at about a mile's distance with only her two bow guns. The St. Lawrence also poured in shot, from all her guns she could bring to bear, and it was the impression of the most experienced naval officers on the point that both had been considerably damaged.

These statements must be borne in mind, are all based on what could be seen by the glass at a distance of nearly eight miles, and by a few panic-stricken "non-combatants" who were nearly the first men, and by a few panicky "non-combatants" who were nearly the first men, and by a few panicky "non-combatants" who were nearly the first men.

In the meantime darkness approached, though the moon shone out brightly, and nothing but the occasional flashing of guns could be seen. The Merrimack was also believed to be aground, and the only vessel which remained in the room of the German Turners, and found two American flags with a printing on the wall of the Goddess of Liberty, with the words underneath "hats off." The printing was destroyed.

The House of Representatives, in session at Richmond, has adopted, by a vote of 71 to 11, a resolution directing the military commandant to destroy all the cotton and tobacco that is in danger of falling into the hands of the enemy.

A despatch from Atlanta, Georgia, says that the Federal troops have occupied Murfreesborough, Tennessee, and that Gen. A. Sydney Johnston has retreated to Decatur, Alabama.

Loyal Action of the East Baltimore Conference of the M. E. Church.

The annual conference of the East Baltimore Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, met on the 5th inst. in Baltimore. The following preamble and resolutions, signed Aquila A. Reese, pastor of George D. Chenoweth, were read by the Secretary:

Resolved, That the last annual session of this body, a fearful rebellion has broken out in several of the Southern States, threatening to overthrow our Government, and to deprive us of our liberties. Since the last annual session of this body, a fearful rebellion has broken out in several of the Southern States, threatening to overthrow our Government, and to deprive us of our liberties. Since the last annual session of this body, a fearful rebellion has broken out in several of the Southern States, threatening to overthrow our Government, and to deprive us of our liberties.

Official Dispatches Concerning the Naval Battle at Fortress Monroe.

Washington, March 10.—Lieut. Wise arrived this forenoon, bringing dispatches from Fortress Monroe. But few particulars have been received, as his interview is not closed.

The following items are reliable: Captain Radford was engaged in a court martial, and not on the field. At 8 o'clock the Baltimore boat left, a fleet of steam tugs were being sent up to the relief of the Minnesota and St. Lawrence, and an endeavor was made to draw the Merrimack off from the bar on which they had grounded. The firing had been suspended, whether from mutual consent or necessity, could not be ascertained.

The rebel battery at Pig Point was also enabled to join in the combined attack on the Minnesota, and several guns were fired at her from Sewell's Point as she went up. None of them, however, struck her, but one or two passed over.

Iron Clad Steamer Monitor Attacked by the Three Rebel Steamers.

The Assaults Striking Off—The Merrimack in a Sinking Condition.

Washington, March 9, 7 o'clock, P. M.—The telegraph line to Fortress Monroe, last night and early this morning, was cut, and the Merrimack was attacked by the three rebel steamers, the Merrimack, Jamestown, and Yorktown. At a contest of five hours the Merrimack, Col. Geary's command, and the three iron-clad monitors, the Merrimack, Jamestown, and Yorktown, were sunk. The Merrimack, the largest of the monitors, was the only one which was not captured.

THE WAR IN VIRGINIA.

Leesburg Occupied by Col. Geary—The Rebels Ritrated—Ports Beauregard, Roanoke and Johnston in Possession of Geary.

Leesburg, March 8.—Col. Geary has taken Leesburg and driven Gen. Hill with his whole command from the town and surrounding forts. The stars and stripes now wave over all the hills.

The rebels fell back towards Middleburg last night. Col. Geary left Lovettsville with his command, and marched toward Wheatland and Waterford, taking prisoners at both places, and putting the scattered forces of the enemy to flight.

Shortly after sunrise this morning the rebel possession of Ft. Lee, on, was re-christened by the officers, Fort Geary. He then entered the camp with flags flying and bayonets fixed. The rebel possession of this point, or any effort will be made to give the names of the killed and wounded at the earliest possible moment.

Lieut. Wise, commanding the Potomac flotilla, in his official report to the Naval Department, confirms the rumor of the abandonment of the rebel batteries at Cockpit, Shipping and other points along the line of the Potomac, and also the burning of the steamer Page and other rebelcraft.

Operations of Commodore Dupont's Expedition on the Southern Coast—The Capture of Fernandina and Brunswick.

Baltimore, March 10.—The United States steamer Alabama, Capt. Lenox, arrived here this forenoon, bringing Capt. Davis, late flag officer of the South Atlantic squadron.

He brings despatches from Commodore Dupont to the Navy Department, announcing the capture of Fernandina and Brunswick, by the fleet under his command.

When Surgeon White went on board the Hazel Doll, on her arrival at Cairo, with the wounded men from Fort Donald, he found a man whose arm had been amputated and which needed bandaging. The boat was amid-ov but no material could be found that would bind the leg of a bird. The matter was about to be abandoned in despair when female ingenuity came to the rescue. A lady quietly disappeared into a state-room, and soon emerged with a young woman of culture and fortune, a distant relative, I understand, of General Pillow, and was soon engaged to marry her.

The young man told me that he was a native of Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, and had resided there until the autumn of 1853, when he went to Columbia, Tennessee, and there engaged in the practice of the law with considerable success. While in that State he became acquainted with and enamored of a young woman of culture and fortune, a distant relative, I understand, of General Pillow, and was soon engaged to marry her.

A BATTLE AT NEW MADRID, MO.

St. Louis, March 9.—A special dispatch to the Republican from Cairo, says that General Pope's forces have reached New Madrid, and that heavy cannoning has been heard in that direction.

The rebels are there in strong force, and our garrisons will soon move down to assist General Pope's attack on the rebel stronghold. The rebels have been endeavoring to drive the U. S. troops back by throwing shells among them from their batteries.

The total number of torpedoes found in the river and on its banks is about eight hundred.

Exciting news from New Madrid and its vicinity may be expected immediately.

FROM WASHINGTON.

THE INDIANS OF KANSAS AND NEBRASKA.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—The Commissioner of Indian Affairs, Mr. Dole, has returned from the West. While in Kansas and Nebraska, the Indian Chiefs called upon him and tendered the services of their warriors for military service, but these cannot now be accepted. Upwards of 5,000 loyal Indian recruits, including families from the Cherokee country, are in the lower part of Kansas.

In their retreat from the superior forces of the enemy, they threw away everything which impeded their progress. The panic among them at that time is represented as frightful. These Indians being in a destitute condition, Gen. Hunter supplied their immediate necessities. Commissioner Dole telegraphed to the Government authorities, and through his representations, Congress promptly passed an act for their relief.

THE NASHVILLE FOOT OFFICER.

The Post Office Department received a letter today from Nashville, dated the 3d inst., in which it is stated that on the special agent, Mr. Markland, taking possession of the Post Office in that city, he found that the rebel postmaster had stripped it of every article of property, blankets, mules, mail bags, trunks, boxes, keys, &c. The special agent had managed to get the mails from Nashville to Louisville.

The letter adds "the United States officers and troops have generally displayed the most heroic gallantry and valor in their behavior and gentlemanly deportment. Others are mad because the officers and men will not commit any act of violence or perpetrate an outrage of some kind. Be it said to the credit of all the officers, soldiers, civilians and camp followers, that the order in Nashville was not received. I have never known better order."

Incidents of the Fort Donald Fight.

The New York Tribune's Fort Donald correspondent gives the following incident, not published before, of that desperate fight:

A young man belonging to one of the Tennessee regiments—he held the rank of first lieutenant in his company—was very dangerously wounded in Saturday morning's battle, and was expected to live when I left Dover, where he lay in much pain and in more remorse.

The young man told me that he was a native of Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, and had resided there until the autumn of 1853, when he went to Columbia, Tennessee, and there engaged in the practice of the law with considerable success. While in that State he became acquainted with and enamored of a young woman of culture and fortune, a distant relative, I understand, of General Pillow, and was soon engaged to marry her.
