

The Globe. HUNTINGDON, PA. Tuesday Afternoon, June 10, 1862.

"I know of no mode in which a loyal citizen may so well demonstrate his devotion to his country as by sustaining the Flag, the Constitution and the Union, under all circumstances, and under every administration, regardless of party politics, against all assaults, at home and abroad."—STEPHEN A. DOUGLASS.

The Past, the Present, and Parties.

As this number of the Globe commences a new volume, and resumes our weekly issue, we deem it a proper time for a few words with the public, about our course since the rebellion commenced, and our feelings as to political parties and movements at the present and while that rebellion lasts.

The history of the country, since the Presidential election of 1860, is too vividly imprinted on the public mind to need recalling. Preceding that election, and until the April after it, treason was at work, so monstrous that its very iniquity caused incredulity. We could not believe—many of the millions of this land could not believe—that there existed depravity so deep, or ambition so reckless, as to attack this beneficent Government with intent to destroy it.

Is the Country yet in a condition to be distracted with the strife of political parties, and especially of the two parties that seem to be marshalling themselves for conflict? Traitors are yet in arms against us. Half a million of loyal men are sacrificing all the joys of peace and home, are enduring all the privations of war, and the soldiers life to subdue them.

The organization of the Democratic party in this State is controlled by those who were instrumental in its disruption, and who in accomplishing that result, co-operated with the men who have since added a second traitor to their party, by becoming traitors to their country.

The Louisville Journal says that if Jeff. Davis and his gang be not hung, our good mother earth will weep bitterly in disgust over to bring forth another crop of hemp.

Prices Advanced.—All the Cincinnati daily papers have advanced their prices one cent per copy per week, in view of the anti-slavery covering tax on paper, ink, income, &c., &c. We will be satisfied to let our patrons remain as they are, if all our patrons will only pay us more promptly.

U. S. Senator.—Gov. Wm. Sprague, but lately re-elected, has been elected U. S. Senator for six years, from the 4th of March next. He received 92 out of 193 votes.

we looked. Whether all powers were to be found literally written out in the Constitution, or whether they might be enlarged by implication, we knew were questions which had divided parties since their foundation, and would continue to divide them.

by the united action of its members in Congress, is urging with pertinacity the very party measures which have most excited the public mind, have not only divided but irritated the people.

of an arm raised against the old flag of the Union. When that flag shall again float in peace and triumph over an unbroken Union, it will be time enough to resume former party relations.

of an arm raised against the old flag of the Union. When that flag shall again float in peace and triumph over an unbroken Union, it will be time enough to resume former party relations.

of an arm raised against the old flag of the Union. When that flag shall again float in peace and triumph over an unbroken Union, it will be time enough to resume former party relations.

of an arm raised against the old flag of the Union. When that flag shall again float in peace and triumph over an unbroken Union, it will be time enough to resume former party relations.

of an arm raised against the old flag of the Union. When that flag shall again float in peace and triumph over an unbroken Union, it will be time enough to resume former party relations.

of an arm raised against the old flag of the Union. When that flag shall again float in peace and triumph over an unbroken Union, it will be time enough to resume former party relations.

of an arm raised against the old flag of the Union. When that flag shall again float in peace and triumph over an unbroken Union, it will be time enough to resume former party relations.

of an arm raised against the old flag of the Union. When that flag shall again float in peace and triumph over an unbroken Union, it will be time enough to resume former party relations.

of an arm raised against the old flag of the Union. When that flag shall again float in peace and triumph over an unbroken Union, it will be time enough to resume former party relations.

of an arm raised against the old flag of the Union. When that flag shall again float in peace and triumph over an unbroken Union, it will be time enough to resume former party relations.

of an arm raised against the old flag of the Union. When that flag shall again float in peace and triumph over an unbroken Union, it will be time enough to resume former party relations.

of an arm raised against the old flag of the Union. When that flag shall again float in peace and triumph over an unbroken Union, it will be time enough to resume former party relations.

of an arm raised against the old flag of the Union. When that flag shall again float in peace and triumph over an unbroken Union, it will be time enough to resume former party relations.

of an arm raised against the old flag of the Union. When that flag shall again float in peace and triumph over an unbroken Union, it will be time enough to resume former party relations.

of an arm raised against the old flag of the Union. When that flag shall again float in peace and triumph over an unbroken Union, it will be time enough to resume former party relations.

of an arm raised against the old flag of the Union. When that flag shall again float in peace and triumph over an unbroken Union, it will be time enough to resume former party relations.

of an arm raised against the old flag of the Union. When that flag shall again float in peace and triumph over an unbroken Union, it will be time enough to resume former party relations.

of an arm raised against the old flag of the Union. When that flag shall again float in peace and triumph over an unbroken Union, it will be time enough to resume former party relations.

of an arm raised against the old flag of the Union. When that flag shall again float in peace and triumph over an unbroken Union, it will be time enough to resume former party relations.

of an arm raised against the old flag of the Union. When that flag shall again float in peace and triumph over an unbroken Union, it will be time enough to resume former party relations.

of an arm raised against the old flag of the Union. When that flag shall again float in peace and triumph over an unbroken Union, it will be time enough to resume former party relations.

of an arm raised against the old flag of the Union. When that flag shall again float in peace and triumph over an unbroken Union, it will be time enough to resume former party relations.

of an arm raised against the old flag of the Union. When that flag shall again float in peace and triumph over an unbroken Union, it will be time enough to resume former party relations.

of an arm raised against the old flag of the Union. When that flag shall again float in peace and triumph over an unbroken Union, it will be time enough to resume former party relations.

of an arm raised against the old flag of the Union. When that flag shall again float in peace and triumph over an unbroken Union, it will be time enough to resume former party relations.

WAR NEWS.

Address of Gen. McClellan to his Troops. HEADQUARTERS OF GEN. MCCLELLAN'S ARMY, Tuesday Evening, June 8, 1862.

The following address was read to the army this evening at dress parade, and received with an outburst of vigorous cheering from every regiment: HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY OF THE POTOMAC, CAMP NEAR NEW BRIDGE, June 2, 1862.

Interesting from Tennessee. RETURN OF GENERAL FREMONT'S COMMAND.—Discontent in the Rebel Army.—Brilliant Dash made by Colonel Wynn's Cavalry.

Glorious News from General Halleck's Department. Gen. Pope in Hot Pursuit of Beauregard.—10,000 Prisoners and Deserters.—15,000 Stand of Arms Captured.—Confusion of the Rebel Army.—Beauregard's Retreat.—Halleck Cuts off his Line of Retreat.

Later from Corinth. Gen. Pope Still Pursuing.—Fifty Thousand Prisoners and Deserters.—Beauregard's Army Driven to the Gulf.

Later. IMPORTANT FROM THE MISSISSIPPI. SURRENDER OF MEMPHIS. Another Naval Victory.—Terrific Engagement with the Rebel Fleet.—Capture of Seven Rebel Vessels.—Our Forces in Full Possession of the City.—The Mississippi Open from St. Louis to New Orleans.

NEW MADRID, June 7.—The steamer Platte Valley has just arrived from Memphis. She reports that all is quiet there; the city surrendered to the U. S. Florida without resistance.

CAIRO, June 7.—The operator at New Madrid telegraphs that the steamer Platte Valley had passed there direct from Memphis, on route for Cairo. Our forces are in undisputed possession of the City of Memphis.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Messages received at the War Department, dated at New Madrid, June 6, state all is quiet in that vicinity.

From Gen. McClellan's Army. All Quiet in Front of Richmond. Washington, June 8.—Despatches received at the War Department state that all is quiet in front of Richmond, except occasional commanding at our forces employed in bridge operations, but which does not retard their progress.

From Gen. Mitchell's Army. Success of an Expedition under Gen. Negley's Command.—Rebels Defeated and Routed.—Capture of Baggage, Wagon, Ammunition, &c.—Still More Important Results Expected.

From Gen. Shields's Army. The Pursuit of Jackson.—His Army Reduced to Five Thousand.—Gen. Fremont's Army Following Them.—Capture of Wagons, Prisoners and Supplies.

Saved by a Bible. Among the wounded that arrived in Philadelphia on the 3d, was Capt. E. B. DILLON, of company K, Ninety-third Pennsylvania regiment (Col. McCarter's), with a slight wound in his breast.

MARRIED. In this place on the 3d inst., by Rev. Mr. BRADY, MR. DANIEL W. PAORON, of Massachusetts, and Miss NANCY E. BENEVOLE.

DIED. At the military hospital, Nashville, Tennessee, JAMES S. LEATON, in the 24th year of his age.

PHILADELPHIA MARKETS. Table with columns for various commodities and their prices.

HUNTINGDON MARKETS. CORRECTED WEEKLY. Table with columns for various commodities and their prices.

ADMINISTRATOR'S NOTICE. Notice regarding the administration of the estate of James H. DAVIS.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Messages received at the War Department, dated at New Madrid, June 6, state all is quiet in that vicinity.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Despatches have been received at the War Department from General Mitchell, dated at Huntsville, Ala., June 6th, stating that an expedition from his army, under command of General Negley, had driven the enemy commanded by General Adams, from Winchester through Jasper back to Chattanooga, and utterly defeated and routed them at that point.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—The following despatch was received this afternoon at the War Department: HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY OF THE POTOMAC, June 4, 1862.

General Pope, with 40,000 men, is thirty miles south of Corinth, pushing the enemy hard. He already reports 10,000 prisoners and deserters from the enemy, and 15,000 stand of arms captured.

General Halleck moved his headquarters to this place today, occupying the house previously occupied by Gen. Bragg. Gen. Thomas occupies the house formerly in the possession of Gen. Beauregard.

General Halleck moved his headquarters to this place today, occupying the house previously occupied by Gen. Bragg. Gen. Thomas occupies the house formerly in the possession of Gen. Beauregard.

General Halleck moved his headquarters to this place today, occupying the house previously occupied by Gen. Bragg. Gen. Thomas occupies the house formerly in the possession of Gen. Beauregard.

General Halleck moved his headquarters to this place today, occupying the house previously occupied by Gen. Bragg. Gen. Thomas occupies the house formerly in the possession of Gen. Beauregard.

General Halleck moved his headquarters to this place today, occupying the house previously occupied by Gen. Bragg. Gen. Thomas occupies the house formerly in the possession of Gen. Beauregard.