May 30, 1862. Mr. Editor:-The day after my last to the Globe, we received marching orders. We took up the line of narch in the morning at six o'clock, and marched some ten miles to a place called "the summit," on the Richmond and York River Railroad. That day's narching was a little hard on the boys, as it was the first real warm day's marching we had—and I do assure injoying good health, only one of Co. The young ladies, then with true southern chivalry," would vent their anger by giving the innocent cow a sound beating. It was the same way with the young gentlemen in feeding and taking care of the horses.

Georgo Decker, dried whortle- farm, owned by a violent Secessionist, ough he now claims to be for the Union, but he is that, simply because he is afraid openly to express his sympathy for the rebel cause. He was very much vexed when we came here. He had some fine sweet potatoes, on which some of the boys made a supper. But much to the chagrin of the boys, the Commanding General placed a guard on his potatoes, so the boys were obliged to leave. He often wonders how long the troops will stay yet. Being told a few days since, that we would leave next morning, he very saucily remarked that he was tired of company, now, and he did not care how soon the troops would leave, but he has not been relieved of the nuisance around him, as he called us when we first came here. This is the way these Southern scoundrels use the Union troops. Yet no sooner have our troops fruit, four towels, two pillows and outlaws, and are guarded as though they were the best of Union men, or a lump of gold. Now good Union men should be protected both in person and property to the utmost, but I do not think such rascals as these should be protected. Should they find a Union soldier by the wayside, away from his companions, they would just as soon cut his throat as not. Should such men be protected by those whom they are trying to destroy? We answer, never! Let them seek protection of those whom they are trying with all their power to sustain. There are many prisoners taken from the rebel ranks who are far more loyal than most of those who profess to be Union men. Gen. Porter's Division had a spirited fight on Tuesday, in which he totally routed the enemy and took a good many prisoners. We saw many of them; a flock of four hundred were taken past the camp yesterday. They were the most degraded part of humanity we have seen for some time No two were dressed alike, some were tall, muscular men, while others were small feeble looking; some had caps, and some bats, while a number of them had neither. They all appeared to be in good humor, however some few would not speak to our men. They say they would sooner be a prisoner in the hands of the Federals, than to be in
