Our Flag Forever.

I know of no mode in which a loyal citizen can so well demonstrate his devotion to his country as by sustaining the Union, under all circumstances, and under every Administration, regardless of party politics, against all attempts at force and fraud. - STEPHEN A. DOUGLASS.

Proclamation by Gov. Curtin.

HARRISBURG, July 21.-The following Proclamation has just been received: Pennsylvania, ss.

In the name of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, Andrew G. Curtin, Governor of the said Commonwealth: PROCLAMATION.

To sustain the Government in times of common peril, by all his energies, his means and his power, he is the first duty of every loyal citizen. The President of the United States has made a requisition on Pennsylvania, for twenty-one new regiments, and ten regiments already in the field must be recruited. Enlistments will be made for nine months in the new regiments, and for twelve months in the old. The existence of the present emergency is well understood. No patriot will pause to investigate its causes. We must look to the future. Every thing that is dear to us is at stake. Under these circumstances I appeal with confidence to the freemen of Pennsylvania. You cannot go to the treasury without your purses, your own liberties and those of the whole country. I call on the inhabitants of the counties, cities, boroughs and townships throughout our borders to meet and take active measures for the immediate furnishing of the quota of the State. Let those who cannot go themselves, contribute to provide bounties equal at least to those offered by adjoining States. This constitution prohibits me from drawing money from the treasury without authority of law, and I will not cast a doubt on the patriotism of our citizens by assuming the necessity of calling the legislature at this time. This is no time for legislative action, and the agitation of loans. Delay might be fatal. To put down this rebellion is the business of every man in Pennsylvania, and let every citizen on this occasion that they do not wait for the slow process of the legislation, and do not desire to throw on the treasury the burden of the war. Let those who are individually ready to bear themselves. The conduct of our men already in the field has shed illustrious lustre on the arms of our brethren. Fly to arms to support them and make victory speedy as well as certain.

I designate below the number of companies which are expected from the several counties in the State, trusting the support of her honor in this crisis, as it may be heretofore, and the loyalty, fidelity and valor of her freemen. Whilst the quota of the several counties is fixed equitably, so as to fill the requisition for twenty-one regiments, let not our loyal people of any county limit their exertions to the enlistment of the companies named. Our heroic sons of Pennsylvania have maintained every battle with their blood. Thousands have bravely died, defending the unity of the Republic and the sanctity of our flag, and other thousands have fallen sick and wounded, and their places filled. Precon of Pennsylvania! Friends of government of order, and of common nationality. One earnest struggle, and peace will again dawn upon us, as a happy, prosperous and united people. Given under my hand and the great seal of the State, at Harrisburg, this twenty-first day of July, in the year of our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-two, and of the Commonwealth the eighty-sixth.

A. G. CURTIN, By the Governor. ELIZABETH SHERMAN, Secretary of the Commonwealth.

THE NEWS.

There has been but little war news of interest for a week past. McClellan's army is quiet on the James river, recruiting in health and strength.

Gen. Pope's command, some forty or fifty thousand strong, is moving toward Richmond. He has issued orders to subside upon the country in which his operations may be carried on, and to punish more severely all who aid in any manner, the rebellion. The Granddada (late Memphis) Appeal of the 16th, reports that the Rebel ram and iron-clad gunboat Arkansas, ran down several of our war vessels at Vicksburg.

A battle recently took place in the Indian nation, Kansas, in which two 125 pounders, a large number of horses, 1500 head of cattle, 80 loaded mule teams, &c. We also captured 400 mounted Cherokee and Osage Indians, who had come into our camp with white flags.

Morgan's guerrilla band has created great excitement in Kentucky and Indiana. They have been doing much mischief. They crossed into Indiana and took Newburg—killing one of our men and taking 250 sick prisoners.

A free colored man, who was impressed into the rebel service in Virginia on the breaking out of the rebellion, and has been lately in the immediate employ of Gen. Longstreet, has reached Washington, having escaped from Richmond during the confusion which followed upon the late battles. He states that the rebel loss in killed, wounded and missing, in the seven-day battles, is admitted at Richmond to amount to thirty-two thousand. The Confederate army numbered in the neighborhood of two hundred and fifty thousand. The fact of the close conscription accounts sufficiently for their being able to gather so large a force. In fact, all the men liable to military duty are in the ranks, except such as got substitutes from Maryland, Virginia, and Kentucky, under the legal age. Numbers of the Confederate wounded brought into Richmond, were the merest boys. The Confederates are desperate in view of the fact that their present army cannot be replaced, having utterly exhausted the fighting material of the South.

The cavalry under Gen. Pope, made a forced march on the 19th, and a descent on the Virginia Central Railroad, about 35 miles from Richmond. They destroyed the track for several miles, together with the telegraph line, burned up the railroad depot, which contained 40,000 pounds of musket ammunition, 400 barrels of flour, and much other valuable property, and brought in a Captain, who was in charge as a prisoner.

The whole country was thrown into a great state of alarm. Gen. Twiggs died at Augusta, Georgia, on the 16th inst. His treason was the blackest of the whole war, and it consigns his name to eternal infamy. A Washington despatch on Saturday to the Associated Press, which had gone through the censorship and been approved by it, in reference to military affairs in Virginia, says that "measures are in the course of consummation to prevent all conflict of jurisdiction or jealousy whatever." From the source of formal manner in which this is announced, it might be supposed that the military authorities had a specific plan of operations "was new ideas that were about to be employed for the first time in the prosecution of the war against the rebels. Whether now or not, let us rejoice that the necessity for co-operation and a specific plan, is at last distinctly and authoritatively recognized.

Major General Halleck is to be the agent through whom a reform in our military administration is to be effected. It is understood at Washington that during the recent visit of the President to the army on the James river and asked General McClellan if he desired to resume the command of the whole army of the United States, and that the general preferred to retain his command of the forces now under him. It is stated, also, that the chief command has been offered to Major Gen. Pope and declined.

The Washington correspondence of the Press, under date of July 20th, says: Some important movements are on the tapis to give unity and force to the military plans of the Government for the speedy suppression of the rebellion. The city is full of rumors relative to the expected arrival of General Halleck. Some put him in the war office; some make him commander-in-chief of the army; some send him down to the James river and recall General McClellan. My information is a little more positive. I have authority for stating to you that General Halleck does not come here as commander-in-chief of the armies of the Union. He may be appointed Secretary of War, but it is believed in well informed circles that Mr. Stanton will retire to relieve the President of all embarrassment, and that Mr. Lincoln will make General Banks Secretary of War, with General Halleck as military adviser.

THE PEOPLE'S PARTY STATE CONVENTION.—We give today the important proceedings of the People's Party Convention which assembled in Harrisburg last week. We see nothing seriously objectionable in any of the resolutions, with the exception of one endorsing the radicalism of Wilmot. The nominees for Auditor General and Surveyor General, are men of ability and honesty, and are unconditionally pledged to the preservation of the Union. We expected to see more of a party feeling in the proceedings of the Convention, but we are gratified that the ruling passion of the party leaders had to give way to the more conservative feelings of the masses. If a few rotten politicians had kept out of the Convention, the character of the body would have been more respectable. We hope the time will come when the People will rise in their might and put down every man aspiring to be a leader in any party who cannot show an honest record.

People's State Convention. Agreeably to the published call of the State Central Committee, the delegates to the People's State Convention met in the Representative Chamber at Harrisburg on Thursday last, at 11 o'clock.

Thomas M. Marshall, of Allegheny county, was chosen temporary moderator. The credentials of the delegates were presented and they took their seats. The usual committees were appointed on permanent organization and resolutions.

In the afternoon the committees reported. Hon. John C. Knox, of Philadelphia, Attorney General during the administration of Gov. Packey, was selected as permanent President of the Convention. On taking the chair he addressed the convention as follows: "The sentiment of the nation will please to accept my thanks for their kind participation in selecting me to preside over their deliberations. I rejoice to be here today, and to be connected with the true and loyal men of Pennsylvania, regardless of former political associations, and recognizing at this eventful time as the only true friends of our country, devotion to the American Union, a fixed and unshakable determination to uphold and sustain the Government of the United States, and to resist to the death the enemies of that Government whenever and wherever found. [Applause.]

I rejoice especially to be here, because I can in this way evince my desire to strengthen the hands of that honest man and patriotic statesman, the President of the United States, and to strengthen the hands of those trustworthy counselors God-speed in their noble labors for the maintenance of our Government and the preservation of our Union. Let us all, therefore, join in the hearty and unanimous approval of the resolutions, which it is to me a source of great pleasure to be able to declare, in my judgment, the most patriotic and the most just, in this terrible crisis, which their whole duty, and are consequently entitled to our entire confidence and our most hearty support. I envy not that man who cannot look beyond the platform of his party, to the standard of his country. The question is not whether political parties shall administer the Government, or what men shall fill its offices, but it is whether there shall be offices to fill or a government to administer, and that is the question is settled, for now, I shall act with the men who are the most in earnest in their efforts to destroy this rebellion, and to restore the Union, and to punish the rebels, their aiders and abettors.

I repeat, gentlemen, that I have great confidence in Abraham Lincoln, and his chosen counselors, and I must be permitted to say, that especially do I confide in the clear head, sound mind and honest heart of the Secretary of War, Edwin M. Stanton, our own immediate representative in the Cabinet. I say this with a full knowledge that a late systematic attempt has been made to bring this officer into disrepute, and to cause his removal from the high and responsible position which he now so ably fills. Every disappointed man, whether for the opportunity of serving his country with a title prefixed to his name, or for furnishing the munitions of war, at large profits, visits his residence upon the steps of Mr. Stanton, and the friends of this officer cannot, of course, complain of the most careful scrutiny into his official conduct, and by no means less into his private life, where he has committed mistakes; yet, when it is seen that the most unscrupulous abuse is continually lavished upon him and his acts; that he is held responsible for consequences, to prevent which has been entirely beyond his power, and charged with disorders arising from movements, which he neither counseled, directed or retained of our opponents, it becomes necessary to look for the causes which have induced, and the motives which have prompted those attacks. "For myself, I believe he has thus been attacked."

1st. Because he is truly in earnest in his determination to put down this rebellion, and

2d. Because he performs his official duty without fear, favor or affection. Those of us who are personally acquainted with Mr. Stanton, know that he is possessed of a character for integrity, which even malice has never dared to impeach. He has undertaken to do, he does with all his might. I do not say that all his opponents or those who conspire to impeach the War Department, are either knaves or secessionists; but I do say, that the Northern sympathizers with this wicked rebellion, with great unanimity as set forth by Mr. Stanton, ought not to be informed circles that Mr. Stanton will retire to relieve the President of all embarrassment, and that Mr. Lincoln will make General Banks Secretary of War, with General Halleck as military adviser.

interests. Add to this the restiveness of the people in this crisis; those who are loyal to its constitution and every inch of its soil, and are ready to make every sacrifice for the integrity of the Union, and the maintenance of civil liberty within it, and those who openly or covertly endeavor to sever our country, or to yield to the insolent demands of its enemies; that, we fraternize with the former, and detest the latter; and that, forgetting all former party names and distinctions, we call upon our patriotic citizens to rally for one undivided country, one flag, one destiny.

Resolved, That the government of the United States and its people, with an occasional exception among the reckless inhabitants where this rebellion was fostered, have wisely and studiously avoided all interferences with, and usually enjoying, alike, non-interference with their own, and that such is the present attitude, as to be a policy of departure from this sound rule of conduct on the part of some of the nations of Europe, by an intervention in our present struggle, is as unjust as it is wrong; and that, as to the great principles for which we are contending; but we assure them, with solemnity, that we are not in any way disturbed or fear, and from a knowledge of a firm reliance upon the spirit and fortitude of twenty millions of freemen, that we are not in any way to be overcome by the force of arms, and that we will stand firm to our principles, and to those whom we represent, and to those whom we defend, until we have secured the permanent peace of the Republic.

Resolved, That the skill, bravery and valor exhibited by our army and navy have elicited our admiration and gratitude; that we behold in these qualities the assurances of sure and speedy success to our arms, and of our discomfiture to the rebels; that we urge the government to aid and strengthen them by all the means in its power, and to provide for the sick, wounded and disabled soldiers, and their families; to prosecute the war with increased vigor and energy, until the rebellion is utterly crushed, and the integrity of the Union, in its borders restored, and every rebel reduced to submission, or driven from the land; and that to accomplish these ends we pledge to our rulers, our faith, our fortunes and our lives.

Resolved, That the course of the United States, in this crisis, is eminently patriotic, and we hereby endorse him as a true and faithful representative of the loyal people of this State. The resolutions were read amidst great cheering and unanimously adopted. Nomination for Auditor General.—Hon. Thos. E. Cochran, the present Auditor General, was unanimously nominated for reelection. Nomination for Surveyor General.—Hon. Wm. S. Ross, of Luzerne county, a Democratic Union member of the last Legislature, was unanimously nominated for Surveyor General.

A State Central Committee was appointed by the delegates, the chairman of which, — of — county, was appointed by the President of the Convention.
