The buried friend, the present year Will meet us in our dreams, When in the holy hush of night The light of mem'ry streams Athwart the darkness that enshroud

Our poisoued spirits in, And make us long to quit this world Of darkness, and of sin. We miss him at the morning hour,

When hymns of praise and prayer Ascend to Him who maketh us The objects of his care. We miss the music of his voice. So soft, so sweet, so clear; And long to hail him in that land Undimned by sorrow's tear.

We miss him at the cheerful board : His smiles are no more spen; His little ones are with us still Like rays of light between This world of graves, and that bright

To which his soul has fled; Or like those flowers that bud and bloom Around the youthful dead. We miss him in the Sabbath School, Around God's altar, where With youthful hearts we e'er did meet, And found the Saviour there. We miss him in the class-room, With kind instruction given;

He told us ofr, to persevere,

And meet him up in Heaven.
