

LATEST NEWS. GLORIOUS NEWS! FROM THE RAPPAHANNOCK.

Brilliant Success of Gen. Hooker.

Fredericksburg Again Occupied.

Rebel Redoubts Taken with Ease.

PARTICULARS OF THE MOVEMENT.

The Enemy Forced to Fight on the ground of Gen. Hooker's Choosing.

The Railroads Between the Rebels and Richmond Cut.

Rebel Line of Retreat Broken.

Burning of Rebel Encampments.

HIGHLY IMPORTANT RUMORS.

New York, May 4.—The Tribune and Herald have issued extras containing the following news by mail from the Rappahannock up to Sunday morning.

The Tribune says at that time our left wing was in possession of Fredericksburg and of the first line of redoubts on the hill behind it, and was forcing its way to the second line.

The river was crossed and the redoubts were carried with great ease and with very slight loss of life.

The rebels had marched away in the direction of Chancellorsville to attack our right wing there posted, leaving at the post only ten thousand men, and subsequently not more than 5,000 to 7,000 men in their works, as was ascertained by a reconnaissance from Lowe's balloon.

A great portion of our Falmonth batteries were engaged on Sunday with the rebel batteries, firing across the river and city.

The firing both of musketry and cannonading on the right, in the direction of Chancellorsville, was very heavy.

The enemy had been forced to fight on the ground of Gen. Hooker's choosing. It was believed of both wings that Gen. Stoneman's expedition to cut the railroads between the rebels and Richmond had proved successful, thus cutting off the only path of retreat.

So confident was Gen. Hooker at Falmonth of success that in conformity with his orders a force had already commenced to rebuild a bridge over the Rappahannock. The troops are in the finest spirits and everything looks propitious.

The Herald has also an extra, giving news up to 11 o'clock on Sunday morning, which says that on Saturday evening there was a brilliant fire in the rear of Fredericksburg, which appeared to proceed from the burning of rebel encampments. There was another fire in the rear of Falmonth, from the burning of encampments below Stoneman's station.

Fredericksburg was occupied at about 2 o'clock on Sunday morning by our troops. The batteries on either side of the river commenced playing upon each other about 5 o'clock, and the roaring of cannon was loud and prolonged.

The New York Herald's extra contains the following: First Army Corps, May 3.—Losses in battery 1—First New York sustained the following in addition to those before recorded: Killed—Charles E. Carpenter.

Wounded—Sergeant Amos, John Goggin, and Daniel Stewart. The battery also lost eight horses. The fire of this battery told with such terrible effect upon the rebels, that it dismounted some of their guns and silenced their battery. There are excellent artillerists in the battery that punished the rebels severely, and it will be heard from again elsewhere.

It is not contradictory to state that the first division under Gen. Wadsworth, the only part of the first corps that crossed, was withdrawn from the south side of the Rappahannock during their artillery firing.

Capt. Sullivan, of Troy, chief of Brig. Gen. Phelps's staff, withdrew our pickets, and no man was left behind.

Among the rumors yesterday of operations on the right was one that we had captured 16 pieces of artillery from the rebels.

Another that the Irish Brigade had stormed and taken three rebel batteries.

Still another that General Hooker rode along the lines cheered by the brave soldiers, who admiring him.

Another that a shell struck within thirty feet of him, when he, was thus riding.

Another that our cavalry were tearing up railroad tracks in the rebel lines, destroying rebel property and crossing their country, creating consternation and dismay where they made their raids.

Another that our forces on the right drove the rebels on Friday, then fell back and moved batteries at intervals, which planned between the pressing and deluded rebels like grass before the scythe.

Another that we advanced more than one mile yesterday, compelling the rebels to fall back, and that we are still driving them with terrible slaughter to them, and comparatively small loss on our part.

When General Hooker took command of the army the men were out of spirits and out of potatoes. The latter was supplied to them in generous quantities, and now they are in most jubilant spirits, confident of success, and willing to endure any hardships and any perils to accomplish that desirable end and thus crush rebellion.

The weather is most excellent for military operations, and the details of one of the most brilliant military successes the world ever knew will reach you soon. Wait a little longer. The roads are everywhere good enough for mules and in most places good for wheels, but Gen. Hooker will not permit lumbering wagons to obstruct the advance of his reinforcements.

11 o'clock, A. M.—At this hour there is heavy cannonading on the right, and the quiet of the Sabbath in the forest must be disturbed up there.

FROM WASHINGTON. Heavy Fight at Warrenton Junction.

Defeat of Forrest's Black Horse Cavalry. A REBEL SPY KILLED. THE WHOLE FORCE ROUTED.

WASHINGTON, May 4th.—The following dispatch received this morning at General Heintzelman's headquarters, from General Staff:

FAIRFAX STATION, May 3.—A heavy fight occurred this morning near Warrenton Junction, between a portion of my forces under Colonel DeForest, and the Black Horse Cavalry under Mosely and other guerrilla forces.

My forces succeeded in routing the rebels after a heavy fight. The rebel loss was very heavy in killed and wounded. Tompleton, the rebel spy, was killed and several other officers are wounded, but not dangerously.

LATER.

May 4th.—The rebels who fled in the direction of Warrenton were pursued by Major Hammond, of the Fifth New York Cavalry, who has returned and reports our charge at Warrenton Junction as being so terrific as to have thoroughly routed and scattered them in every direction.

I had sent in twenty-three prisoners of Mosely's command, all of whom are wounded, some badly. Dick Moran is among the number. There are also three officers of Mosely's. The loss of the enemy was very heavy in killed, besides many wounded, who scattered and prevented being captured. Our loss was one killed and fourteen wounded. Major Steele of the 1st Va. Regt. is slightly wounded.

I have sent in this morning to the provost marshal 28 prisoners and 60 horses captured in this reconnaissance.

Operations on the Nansensmond.

SUFFOLK, Va., May 3, 1863.—This morning at nine o'clock General Peck sent a force of infantry, cavalry, and artillery across the Nansensmond river on a reconnaissance.

When two miles out, they charged upon and took the enemy's rifle pits and some prisoners. Our loss was small, and the enemy's much greater. The charge was made by the 13th New Hampshire and the Fifty-ninth New York.

Skirmishing has been kept up all day.

THE RECENT REBEL RAID.

WASHINGTON, May 3, 1863.—The reported destruction of the Cheat River and Fairmont bridges, on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, by the recent rebel raid, is untrue.

Mr. Edmunds, the passenger agent of that Company and Western roads, announces that the trains will commence running through from Baltimore to Wheeling to-morrow, the damages, which were slight, having been repaired.

The Raid into Western Virginia.

The Harrisburg Telegraph of the 4th says: "The news of the raid into Western Pennsylvania assumed rather formidable proportions on Saturday, if there is any reliance to be placed in the rumors we have from the West. It is stated that a force of 12,000 rebels were in Western Virginia, and that great consternation prevails among the people along the borders of Pennsylvania. Whatever may be the movements in the West, they are thoroughly understood by the Government, and we have every assurance from semi-official sources, that the War Department is fully prepared to meet any emergency that may arise. Troops are even now being concentrated to counteract this movement of the rebels—a movement entirely made to draw Gen. Hooker from his attack on Richmond, and attract his army to a point as far off as rebel anxiety may deem necessary for the safety of the rebel capital."

—The School Directors of this county met in convention in the Court House on Monday last, for the purpose of selecting a person of literary and scientific acquirements, as County Superintendent for the next three years, Mr. McDivitt's term having expired.

Mr. McDivitt was re-elected to fill that office, by a handsome majority.

The return of the nine-months' soldiers from this place whose term has about expired, is anxiously expected and patiently awaited.

We do not think that they can be home before the last of this month, as it will require a considerable length of time to give them certificates of discharge from the service, &c.

—Fire.—On last Saturday morning a fire broke out in Mr. Ammerman's stable at his mines on Broad Top. The building and a large quantity of feed were consumed; fortunately his mules were rescued. The stable was supposed to have been set on fire by a spark falling from a pipe, as men were seen in it a short time before with lighted pipes; it is thought to have been accidental.

—Messrs. A. S. & E. Roberts of Philadelphia, owners of a large body of land up Six Mile Run on Broad Top, are about commencing an expensive improvement on their property; they are preparing to sink a shaft and erect good improvements. They are heavy owners in the Anthracite region.

—Messrs. Cummings and Hartman of Philadelphia, also talk of sinking a shaft on the property worked by Harkitt, Bro. & Co. Would like to see the work commenced.

—Returned.—John Fulton, Esq., Senior Mining Engineer, on the Broad Top; he has been away on a visit of ten days to his friends in the northern part of the State. He is a gentleman who well understands his profession, and has won the esteem of many in the mining region.

—Enoch Lewis, Esq., Genl. Supt. Penna. Railroad, was in town on the 30th ult., attending to and looking after the interests of the Road here. He is an excellent business man, a clever gentleman, and as a Railroad Superintendent has no superior.

—Strike.—The mine drivers have struck for two dollars per day—so say reports. If this is so, all we can say is that mule-driving is a paying business.

—The Boatmen in our vicinity are busily engaged making preparations to go on a cruise down the Raging Canaw. Boating promises to be good the coming season.

—The Shilohsburg Female Seminary opened again on Monday, May 4th. This will be the sixteenth session of this institution.

The Millwood Academy, near Shades Gap, for ladies and gentlemen, opens to-day, May 6th, and will close the 12th Wednesday of September next.

—Robt. Walker, son of Wm. Walker of Alexandria, died at the hospital in Washington, on the 1st inst.

LOYAL LEAGUE MEETINGS.—A Union League was organized in Warriors-mark last week. We have been informed that upwards of a hundred loyal citizens gave in their names at the first meeting. In Union there is strength. Let the good work go on.

A League meeting was also held at Marklesburg on Saturday afternoon, and was well attended. Col. Wm. Dorris, Jr., addressed the meeting.

Meetings were also held in other parts of the county during the week. Old Huntington is awake,—she will be true to the Union—and poison to rebel sympathizers.

Our meeting in town on Saturday evening was not well attended, it having been generally understood during the day that the speaker selected for the evening would not be present.

METAL-TIPPED SHOES.—Shoes are an important item in the expense of clothing children, as every parent will understand. They invariably wear out frequently before the other parts are a quarter worn. Children's shoes with Metal tips never wear out at the toe, and it is safe to say that on an average one pair with them will more than out-wear three pairs without them.—We believe all the shoe dealers keep them.

OUR CORRESPONDENCE.

Letter from the West.

Monmouth, Warren County, Ill., April 25, 1863.

FRIEND LEWIS—

Your ever welcome paper came duly to hand last night, and I see by its columns that your Union men of Old Huntington are having rather an interesting time with you "Copperhead" faction, the "fire in the rear" men. Well, it is a matter of deep regret that men cannot allow themselves to rise above the "dirty pool of politics," and the mists and fogs and miasmas that surround it, into the bright sunshine of patriotism.

But alas, too many have been bound with party ties and party considerations, or, rather, prejudices, until they seemed to forget the ties of country altogether. I rejoice to see by your paper that you have refused the threats and intimidations of party friends and have taken the consequences of standing by your country in its hour of peril. Your course stands in noble contrast with hundreds in your position—men who felt the promptings of patri-
