When man has cultivated his intellect approached nearer to the object and end of his creation. But when the intellect is cultivated to its greatest caverted faculty, or sense, and the whole mind works in perfect harmony, then indeed will man fulfill his mission here

This idea is no chimera. No! It felt, it is used, and a cure is always of end that will be accomplished when man recognizes the true philosophy of the mind; when man "knows himself." Some say it is uscless to talk of perto its accomplishment. Let the masses once recognize its possibility; let attained. It will be struggled for as much then as eminence is now. If we were created for an object, that object is certainly attainable. The end enough, that it is within the scope of
