HUNTINGDON, PA. Wednesday morning, Mch. 16, 1864. LOCAL & PERSONAL.

The Public Schools.

The public schools of this place clo sed on Friday last, and will remain closed for six weeks. Saturday last the election was held for Teachers to act during the coming session of nine months, and the following are the names of those selected.

School No. 1 Mr. S. B. Chancy 2 Miss J. Anderson 3 Mr. J. R. Simpson 4 Miss Ellen Glazier 5 Miss Jennie Brown 6 Miss J. Drayton.

More Scidiers. We are pleased to see our place filled with the brave boys. We would like to name all those who have re-enlisted and returned, and we can say that they look well, better, perhaps, than when they left here, and appear to be cheerful and contented in the duties of the cause in which they are engaged. Success to them and the efforts they are making to re-establish the supremacy of our Government.

The spring time is rapidly advancing, and cold, dismal winter is as rapidly retiring. We can welcome warbling songstors, gentle winds, and balmy evenings, but we cannot welcome the pest by day—the fly, and that other unbearable tormentor by night corner in our affections.

The imprisoned soldiers of week be fore last have been released; having paid costs of the damages, they felt so jovial in perpetrating. They who dance must pay the fiddler. After being released they were guardedly escorted to the Provost Marshal, who sentethem diers send so large a portion of their back to their company.

1st of April.

This common moving day is fast approaching. At this place we do not expect much bustle, attendant on moving parties, but we can pity those who are compelled to "change their base," and also those possessed of a roving disposition, and unable to content themselves in one position.

The Farmers Hotel. This hotel, now occupied by Valentine Hoover, will be occupied by Abram Jacobs after the first of April.

Rumor Refuted.

The rumor circulated among our citizens that two soldier darkies from this place were hung by General Sherman for being implicated in an outrageous affair in his department, we are informed has proved untrue, letters having since been received from them.

Scarlet Fever. There are several children of this place afflicted with this disease, and r of cases; great precaution is taken to prevent the contagion from spreading.

Sunday last was a very changeable day in the state of the weather, sunother in rapid succession. Indeed, so battles should certainly have the privites show a large increase both in number of the states of the sta without umbrellas, were obliged to return in a drenching rain. Truly this is a world of changes.

91 let FLAX. FLAX.

HE HIGH PRICES RULING FOR Cotton Goods has compolled public attention to be more especially directed to the culture of Flax. It can be made by some attention, one of the most valuable products a armer can produce; an acre readily producing 50 to 60 oliars worth of fibre and seed. Oreet care should be aken by growers to have their Flax spread stry thin whon rolling; when watered sufficiently on one side, it should be turned, and subject to exposure until all the stalks got a gray color, and the lint readily separates from the wood by a gentle rub.

It should on a very dry day be tied in bundles, and is then ready for the mill. As a general thing too much esed is sown on an acre. Unless the ground is very rich one Bushel per acre is sufficient. If the ground is very rong one and one fourth bushel is ample.
