

The Globe.

HUNTINGDON, PA. Wednesday Morning, July 13, 1864. LOCAL & PERSONAL.

The Concerts. The concert given by Prof. Coyle's class on Thursday and Friday evening last, notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, and the excitement caused by the news of the raid, were well attended by our citizens.

It will be remembered this company was recruited three years ago by Capt. Hamilton, taken to Washington and placed in the 1st D. C. Vols. From this Regiment they were transferred to the 2nd Pa. Reserves and known as Co. F. But after the term of service as Co. F. had expired and known as Co. A, together with the veterans, new recruits and those whose term of service had not expired, were consolidated into two regiments, the 1st and 2nd Regiments, Penna. Vet. Vol. Reserves, and were assigned to duty in the 3rd Brigade, 3rd Division, 5th Corps. Co. A has now only four weeks to remain in service, until the 1st of August, when we hope its gallant members will receive from their friends at home all the honor they richly deserve.

We have received a communication, dated in the rifle pits before Petersburg, June 26, 1864, from the 1st Sergeant of this company, from which we extract the following list of casualties, that have occurred since May 5th, 1864: May 5th.—Sergt. James B. Head, shoulder bruised from concussion of his gun; Private George J. Hesel, captured.

May 16.—Privates Abraham L. Smith, killed; Marshall Houck, wounded in the arm; same amputated; Adam Gebrett, gunshot wound in the throat, died May 16th. Joseph C. Pleasant; gunshot wound in the foot.

May 12.—Lieut. Robt. J. Clark, wounded in the leg, died from effects of wound, June 4; Corp. David Cassidy, gunshot wound in the shoulder, slight flesh wound; Privates Alfred Cherry, killed; Thomas R. Sherman, gunshot wounds in legs, leg amputated and since died; William S. Walls, gunshot wound in hip, slight flesh wound; Austin Thompson, gunshot wound in the mouth, not dangerous.

May 19.—Privates B. J. Moore, killed, on skirmish; Isaac Cornelius, gunshot wound in the breast; serious. May 22.—Private William Snyder, gunshot wound in the forehead; serious.

May 25.—Private James Rutherford, gunshot wound in hand and side. June 19.—Sergeant William Ambrose, gunshot wound in the face, not considered dangerous; Bugler George J. Lettie, gunshot wound in the arm; arm since amputated.

June 21.—Corporal John Smith, gunshot wound in arm and side; not considered dangerous. June 24.—William B. Snyder, struck by a spent 12 pound solid shot; hip bone broken.

Coming. Circus bills and posters, with representations of men, horses, ponies and mules, performing almost incredible feats, now stick (though in a mutilated condition, having passed through the destructive ordeal of rain and wind, but more particularly through the hands of mischievous boys) on every fence, post and stable side, and meet the eye in every direction. These bills, as everybody knows, are indicative of a coming show, or circus, in which the lovers of sport, fun and fancy can revel to their heart's content. One-half the representations upon these posters are never witnessed in the ring. Yet the circus will be patronized by all who can make no better use of their time, and by the man who can afford to take a country newspaper. He will take his family to the "show." The circus is a great institution, and its arrival will attract many of our country cousins to town.

It is expected that Bishop Stevens of the Pro. Episcopal Church will hold services in St. John's Church in this place on Tuesday evening next, the 12th inst.

Omitted. On account of insufficient space in our columns this week, we are compelled to omit a memorial of Co. I 6th Penna. Reserves, which a member has been so kind to forward. This communication, together with others we have received during last week will appear in our next.

Blair County. The Union party of Blair county have nominated the following ticket: Sheriff—Joseph Robison. Probationer—Anthony S. Morrow. Treasurer—David Stiteler. Commissioner—Robert Waring. Director of Poor—Sam. Moore. Auditor—M. D. Thatcher. Coroner—Jacob Weldonall.

Cigars for Sale at Lewis' Book Store.

The Catholic church of this place is undergoing full and beautiful outside repair. The foundation for the new National Bank of Huntingdon has been completed, together with the vault. The structure will be safe as well as commodious. The steam saw mill of Wharton and Heffright is in full and successful operation. We last week saw a new "levy." The piece was made by connecting a top cent currency note, that had been torn, in the center, with a two cent postage stamp, also considerably mutilated. Thayer's & Noyes' Circus and Van Amburg's Menagerie will be here on Friday next, when we expect to see the latter more fully than we did when here before. Then the fun was too much at the women's expense, who with balmoral stockings, muddy shoes and dresses, ruined bonnets and down cast figure and countenance, were a show of themselves. Don't be offended, girls.—The depredations of green worms and caterpillars upon grape vines is becoming greater every day in this locality. Drowning in coal oil and burning are suggested as remedies, but this is about as difficult as picking them off the vines one by one and crushing them under the feet. Something that will destroy the man-agers more generally is wanted.

The Union party has put in nomination the following ticket: Alex. King, was unanimously nominated for President Judge. Frank Jordan was nominated for Congress by acclamation. D. B. Armstrong was nominated for the Legislature. A. H. Hull for County Commissioner. Asa Striekey for Director of Poor, E. J. Diehl for Auditor.

The "Democrats" have recommended F. M. Kimmel for Assistant Judge, and A. H. Coffroth for Congress, and B. F. Myers for the Legislature, and nominated Michael Werts for Commissioner, Hiram Davis for Director of the Poor, and David Evans for Auditor.
