Reports from Butler's department state that Hoke's division attacked our troops yesterday for the purpose of regaining the ground lost the day previous, but were repulsed every time with heavy loss.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—Unofficial reports from the Army of the Potomac up to yesterday morning represented the movment of Grant as progressing very favorably.

Kantz's cavalry has made a reconnoissance within a mile and a half of Richmond, and found the enemy's line very weak. The fortifications are numerous, but feebly garrisoned.
It is evident that Lee has been entirely misled by Warren's recent attack upon his right.

Deserters are coming into our lines very fast, and report that Lee's army, before Warren's attack, was moving to and fro, large bodies going northward, and few returning.

The evident design of Lee was, by this movement, to deceive Grant, and withdraw, without detection, his troops M. Speer and Wm. Dorrie, and Robt. northward. The opinion prevails Johnston and S. T. WASHINGTON, Oct. 3. To Mai. Gen. Dix. N. York : A dispatch from Maj. Gen. Sheridan, dated Harrisonburg, October 1 9.30 r. m., has been received by this denartment. It states that, "I have been to Staunton and Waynesboro with the cavalry and destroyed the iron bridge on the South river at Waynesboro, throwing it into the river; also the bridge over Christiana creek, and the railroad from Staunton to Waynesboro.'

The details of future operations are for obvious reasons omitted. The following dispatch is the latest received from Gen. Grant:

it to myself. I am not worthy of this reception. ("Yes you are," and cheers.) am no more worthy of this than you. We are all here in the same boat; you have been working in another. (Clicers.) Your victories are as dear to us in the front as the victories in the front are dear to you. The victories of the last Fall, I speak with a full knowledge, were hailed with as much joy and enthusiasm in the army as though they had been achieved by the army I belong to. The victory of Ohio we felt. and I hope we may feel more, and I do not doubt that next November we shall taste of one to which this rebellion has furnished no parallel. I need not tell you that I am rejoiced to find such an assemblage here to night, and it shows that it is all right with our cause and our country. (Cheers.) No missortune can be full us when our people are animated by the feeling which is evinced here to-night. If the war has been prolonged it has not been from our weakness, but from our consciousness of strength. We have not put forward all our energies and resources, although we have shown and and we have employed resources which amazed the world. But in the North, Monday of last week. The following the North has not yet made that ope great effort to crush this revolt at a single blow-it could do it, and can do it any day when it moves for that purpose. (Cheers.) The people in these loyal States, and I am proud to say it, the people have been in advance of the authorities in all of this rebellion, (Cheers.) and they will be until they reach the end, and the end is not remote. (Cheers) I am rejoiced to meet vou, and to meet vou under such auspices as I do to night. Tidings, glorious tidings reach us from all of the armies; the work goes bravely on. There are no Copperheads—(Great cheers.) there are no copperheads in the well, and they will vote well. (Cheers.) More devotion, more loyalty, never, never animated the hearts and the hands of men more brave.

I think you most kindly for the kindness with which you have received me to-night. I am unworthy of it. [No, no.] I hope in the humble ca-pacicy in which I have been placed I have never failed to do my duty, (Cheers, and "That's so,") and I don't intend to do so now. I wish you all good night. Washington City, as is well known by any person who has resided in it any length of time since the breaking out of the rebellion, is literally full of Secessionists; (the citizons I mean), not such as you call "Copperhends," in the North, but such as Openly, hope for these success of the rebellion, is literally full of Secessionists; (the citizons I mean), not such as you call "Copperhends," in the North, but such as Openly, hope for the success of the rebellion, is literally full of Secessionists; (the citizons I mean), not such as you call "Copperhends," in the North, but such as Openly, hope for these persons and they do not say you cannot whip them, reforming to as they call them, "the Confederates," I have of these persons and they do not say you cannot whip them, reforming to as they call them, "the Confederates," I have one of the success of the s and trying to demolish it by force of arms. Those very persons are among the most enthusiastic in their supports of the candidates of the Chicago Convention, McClollan & Pendleton, and who, in the same breath, will speak of the good qualities of their candidates and justify the traitors in bringing on this wicked rebellion. I ask are many of the honest voters of our county, who support those candidates, aware that they are, by that act, placing themselves on the same ground, or at least in the same ground, or at least in the same ground, or at least in the same ground, or other who, not only seek the overthrow of

WHAT EVERYBODY KNOWS, viz:
That Iron well galvanized will not runs;
That a simple mechine is better than a complicated one
That a wringer should be self-adjusting, durable, and efficient;

USerswa and Fastenings cause delay and trouble to regulate and keep in order;
That wood soaked in hot water will swell, shrink and sults: That wood bearings for the shaft to rim in will want That the Putnam Wringer, with or without cog wheels will not tear the olother;
That tog-wheel regulators are not essential;
That the Putnam Wringer has all the advantages, and not one of the disadvantages above named:
That all who have tested it, prononness it the best Wringer over made;
That it will wring a Thread or a Bed Quilt without alteration.

Thei it will wring a Thread or a Bed Quilt without alteration.

We might fill the paper with festimonials, but insert only a few to convince the skeptical, if such there bet and we say to all, test Putnam's Wringer. Test, it theroughly with any and all others, and if, not entirely easily factory, crim it.

New York, January, 1834.

We have tested Putnam's Clothes Wringer by 'practical working, and know that it will do. It is cheep; it is simple; it requires no room, whether at work or at rest; a child can operate it; it does its duty 'fhoroughly;' it saves time and it saves wear and tear. We carnestly advise all who have much washing to do, with all 'intelligent physics who have any, to buy this Wringer. It will pay for itself in a year at most. Hon. Horach Greeley.
