

LOCAL AND PERSONAL. We would advise all to lay in your winter supply of coal. This advice, however, is more readily given than followed, considering the high prices demanded for it.

By a card in another column it will be seen that our young friend Wm. W. Hildebrand of this place, is with Wilson, Anderson & Cetera, Philadelphia, in the dry-goods business.

Mammoth Cabbage. Mrs. Rachael B. Youm of Juniata township has our thanks for a mammoth head of cabbage. As half of our crop was stolen, presents are thankfully received.

Interesting Correspondence. Our readers will find interesting correspondence on the outside of to-day's issue which gives the whereabouts of some of our boys, and also what they have lately accomplished. It will please friends to know that the Huntingdon county boys of the 49th Regt. retain good health.

Thanksgiving Day. Thursday next is the day appointed by Government officials for general thanksgiving by the people. We trust our citizens will set apart and devote this day as all good citizens should. We have much to give thanks for.

Thanks. We are under obligations to Mr. J. S. Africa for a copy of the American Exchange & Review, which gave us an insight into the affairs of the Oil Region. Mr. A. is Secretary and Treasurer of ten companies connected with the oil business.

Backwash. Our readers will be gratified to learn that the buckwheat crop has been very abundant this year, and that the prospects for cakes are good, the only drawback being the high price of butter and "hog" gravy. Troubles do sometimes come singly.

Consent. The attendance at Court last week was rather slim, and the cases tried were those of no general interest. We omitted, on account of the stir of the election, giving the names of the jurors, as also the list of trials. Such omissions are not general, however, and our readers will bear with us.

Soldiers' Votes. We desire for the information of our readers to receive the official returns of the vote of all Huntingdon county soldiers, and would be pleased to receive the same from any of our army friends. Such items are of interest to local readers, as they are anxious to know where their army friends stand. Soldiers, let us hear from you.

Prevalent. Since the election is over and treason crushed, we find numerous profiles of Little Mac, the defeated candidate, flooding the country. Together with these we notice in our exchanges almost as many triumphant roosters and fast sailing Salt River boats. We are led to believe that McClellan is now made as prominent in the eyes of the people as he was when he first commanded the army of the Potomac.

The County Treasurer's Safe Blown Open. On Thursday night last, the safe in the County Treasurer's Office in an upper room in the Court House, was blown open with powder by some scamp or scamps unknown. For his or their trouble only about $18 were found—the Treasurer having deposited in the Bank during the day all large amounts of money he had received. The papers in the safe were considerably mixed up, but none were carried away.

Ninth Penna's Cavalry. Through the kindness of a Commissioner appointed to collect the votes in Sherman's army, and who has just returned, we are enabled to give the official vote of the 9th Pa. Cavalry; Lincoln received 403, and McClellan 146. The Huntingdon county boys in this regiment who voted gave Lincoln 24, and McClellan 8. This can be considered an evidence of the vote of the whole of Sherman's army.

"Cops" Mean. We were somewhat surprised and gratified to find the opposition party taking with a notable coolness their fate after the returns of the election camp in. They know that the people have spoken, but they can't see where their large popular majority has gone. We can say that it is one of the articles that will give them solace up Salt River. How have the mighty fallen, is a subject they can now consider with increased ardor.

Lang's Loss. Previous to the election, the barn of Mr. George Lang, of McConnelsville, with its contents, the whole valued at $800, was destroyed by fire, during the holding of a Union meeting, the act of a bogus Democratic incendiary. We propose that the amount of loss be made up by loyal citizens, and we will receive subscriptions by mail or otherwise, at our book store for said purpose.

Query? What has become of the one hundred thousand men equipped and "ready for the fray," in the North who were to march on Washington, make Mr. Lincoln flee for his life and who would take the north side of the Potomac, Lee the south side and compel Grant's army to capitulate, and also seat "Little Mac" in the presidential chair, in case Abe was re-elected. Can the "old citizen" give us a little light on the subject.

Generous, Very. The loyal (?) citizen who remarked that the blowing up of the County Treasurer's safe last Thursday night by burglars, was a d—d Abolition scheme to break up the county. Also, another, who was sorry that there was not more money in the safe, as the burglars might as well have it as the Abolitionists. The men who robbed the safe are as good as those who made the above remarks, and we would not be astonished if they were one and the same.

"Democratic" Papers Selling Out. We notice that a few of our exchanges of the "Democratic" stripe are preparing to "go under," and are advertising their offices for sale. We are truly sorry that "existing circumstances," as well as circumstances dreaded in the future, are compelling our brethren of the craft to resort to such extreme measures to help themselves. If they were merely intended for campaign papers the case would be altered, but being papers that have long lived and flourished, we cannot see why they should "give up the ship," and, perhaps, consider all as lost. Can they not bring themselves to believe that the Republic is safe and the Union still lives? or will they persist in thinking the government is going to destruction. We see a thousand times sooner see our contemporaries living and embracing the proper cause, than that they should go down in the full light of their defeat. Since their long cherished hopes have suffered discomfiture, they, no doubt, believe, so will their fortunes also.

A Dastardly Outrage and Robbery. The residents of Sinking Valley, in Blair county, were thrown into a considerable state of terror and excitement during the week before last by the accounts of a glaring outrage perpetrated there, the particulars of which we are enabled to present our readers. They are as follows: An individual, the description of whose appearance we could not learn, came in the morning to the residence of Mr. John Crawford, in the valley, and desired to purchase some stock; but being told by the housekeeper that Mr. C. was away, and that she could not comply with his request, the man took his departure, satisfied, no doubt, that he had gleaned so much information. In the afternoon about 3 o'clock, the same person renewed his visit, and it was believed, from the continual barking of dogs upon the premises, that he had loitered about the dwelling from the time of his first appearance. This time, with bold effrontery, he made known his object, and demanded of the housekeeper a purse belonging to Mr. Crawford. The woman, surprised at the impudence of the audacious rascal, and thinking that by her own unaided power she could not eject him from the house, had recourse to stratagem, and informed him she would go and get the purse, but at the same time intending to ring a bell upon the premises, and thereby alarm the neighbors, and obtain their assistance in capturing the villain. She thereupon started, but the wary rascal, suspecting treachery, immediately chased and caught her; she endeavored to get up to elude his grasp, and struggled vigorously to prevent him from tying her with a cord he had succeeded in obtaining. But all to no purpose; the inhuman scoundrel effectually tied her hands, and then cast her into a closet the door of which he closed and fastened upon her. He then went in search of the purse and other valuables in the rooms of the dwelling, having free scope and liberty to effect his nefarious intentions. He obtained the purse, which, fortunately, contained but an insignificant sum, and then struck her over the quarters, leaving the housekeeper still confined in the close closet. From this confinement she was released by Mr. Crawford's daughter, who had returned from school. So tightly had the villain bound her wrists, that the marks were visible several days after the event.

Another Robbery. During the same week and in the same Valley, the house of Mr. Smith Wilson was entered after night, and a trunk taken therefrom. The deprecator conveyed the same to an adjoining field, where he opened it and extracted the sum of $300 in specie, as also other valuables, to the amount of $2500. We have no room to comment upon these outrages, but we would caution the residents of the Valley, as also of all other places, to keep a strict and vigilant watch upon the actions of any suspicious individuals who might chance to come in their way. We have much to dread from rebel spies as well as robbers, who now prowl the country. Should the individual guilty of the above robberies be apprehended and arrested, we trust he will suffer punishment to the full extent of the law, and his example prove a significant warning to his brethren in crime.

Resigned. James Lewis, Esq., has resigned the Superintendency of the H. & B. T. Railroad, and has been succeeded by Oliver Ayers, Esq., formerly of the Wilmington & Baltimore Railroad. Mr. Lewis takes charge of the Tyrone & Clearfield and Tyrone & Look Hancock Railroads. We are sorry to lose Mr. Lewis, as he was a good citizen and a clever gentleman. We wish him success in his new field of labor.

The Weather. We were disappointed to find that the last rain had not yet come, to give place to its sterner companion, or rather follower—snow. We have received copious showers of rain, and were greeted on every corner and every path of our thoroughfares with soft and pulpy masses of mud. This is a proper time for our borough fathers to look at the wants of their charge by examining and having repaired some of the back street sidewalks.

Should we Illuminate? In many towns of our Commonwealth we notice that jubilees and illuminations take place in honor of the victory at the polls on election day. In this step many of our neighboring towns are also coming up to the work, and we are led to ask whether we too, should not do something in honor of the great victory. We ought certainly to equal or surpass our neighbors in rejoicing over such a great event. Let something, (if not an illumination,) like unto the Union procession, prior to the election be instituted at once.

This ready writer known in this and adjoining counties as the author of the Juniata Valley, and for several years as one of the editors of the Hollidaysburg Standard, is no more. We clip the following account of his death from the Harrisburg Telegraph, of Monday morning last: "An accident occurred at the depot, on Friday by which U. J. Jones, Esq., of this city, was instantly killed. The accommodation train from Baltimore is run into the city ahead of the engine, which is attached to the rear car. Last night, when the train reached the depot, the body of Mr. Jones was found between the cowcatcher, rolled up into an almost shapeless mass, terribly crushed, and almost beyond recognition. It is supposed that he was upon the track when the train came in, and that the entire train passed over him. The ash-box of the locomotive must have killed him, as it was impossible for it to pass over the body without crushing it. The body could not be removed until the cow-catcher was taken off the locomotive. The remains were placed in a room in the Pennsylvania Railroad depot, to await the arrival of the coroner to-day. Mr. Jones was well known in our city, and has been at various times connected with newspapers published here. He was a gentleman of considerable ability as a writer, and was the author of a number of books which obtained a large circulation. He leaves a family to mourn their loss, besides a very large circle of friends who will regret to hear of his untimely death."

Peterson's Magazine. We are in receipt of this popular Lady's Magazine, for December. It is a splendid number; with a superb title page for 1864. Notwithstanding the enormous increase in price in paper; and the rise in all printing materials, "Peterson" will still be furnished at $2 a year. No Magazine of similar merit approaches it in cheapness. Its stories and novelties are by the best writers. In 1865, Four Original Copyright Novelties will be given. Its Fashions are always the Latest and Prettiest. Every neighborhood ought to make up a club. It is the Magazine for the Times! Its terms to clubs are unapproachably liberal, viz: 2 copies for $12.00, or 14 copies for $20.00. To every person getting up a club, (at these rates,) the Publisher will send, as a premium, that superb engraving for framing, size 27 inches by 20 inches, "Washington parting from his Generals," or an extra copy of the Magazine for 1865. Address, post-paid; CHARLES J. PETERSON, 306 Chestnut street, Philadelphia.

DIED. In Juniata township, Nov. 14th, 1864, WILLIAM L. DEAN, son of William and Martha Dean, aged 22 years and 6 months. Farewell brother Will, farewell, Oh! it was hard to part with you; But God has called and will submit, Why should we mourn for one that's best? Dear brother Will thou art gone, We'll no more see that pleasant smile Which often made our hearts rejoice, But we'll try to meet you above.

In Powelton, Centre county, on the 16th instant, of croup, ANNIE KATE, daughter of George and Caroline Heaton, aged 2 years, 10 months and 20 days. Death has claimed our little child— Set his soul upon her brow; And his eyes that shone so brightly, Shine in heaven with Jesus now. Farewell our dear and loved one, That sweetest flower from God's crown, The angel called thee, Jesus welcomed: Farewell, we shall meet again. J. C. L.

Provost Marshal's Office, 17th District Penna. HOLLIDAYSBURG, Nov. 18, 1864. Notice is hereby given that from this day forward, the 13th section of the "enrollment act" will be strictly enforced; any person drafted wishing to put in a substitute must do so on or before the day fixed for his appearance. The privilege of putting in a substitute expires with that day, and if on hearing his claim for exemption he is held to be liable, he cannot escape personal service. A. M. LLOYD, Capt. and Provost Marshal, 17th District Pa.

FISHER'S COLUMN. THIS WAY! THIS WAY! A NEW ARRIVAL OF BOOTS & SHOES, HATS, etc. WHEN IT IS PROPOSED to inform the public that he has just received a new stock of BOOTS and SHOES, well as Hats, Hosiery, Shirts, Collars, Neckties, and all kinds of goods, all of which will be sold at the lowest cash prices, and that he is invited to call. Don't forget the old stand in the Diamond. Old customers and the public generally are invited to call. Huntingdon, Sept. 21, 1864.

FISHER & SONS HUNTINGDON, PA. STAPLE & FANCY DRY-GOODS, ETC., ETC. A HANDSOME STOCK OF GOODS, of all kinds, is now open for the inspection of the public, and we cordially invite all our Customers and the public generally, to call and be convinced that we are unequalled in the quality, taste, style, and price of our Goods. We request the public to bear in mind that we purchase principally from first hands in New York, pay Cash for all we buy, and cannot be rivalled in our facilities for getting for public use, a stock of General Merchandise.

WE ARE PREPARED TO PURCHASE ALL KINDS OF GRAIN, for which we will pay the highest cash price, and will have for sale at all times, FLOUR, FEED, &c.

PLASTER! PLASTER!! WE HAVE AN IMMENSE STOCK OF PLASTER, an ample supply for this and neighboring counties. Having a Mill expressly for grinding it, we can produce finer and more desirable stock than can usually be had.

FISH. FISH. FISH. We offer 500 BBLs. of SPLENDID ONONDAGA SALT, unequalled in quality and price. G. A. Salt in sacks is also kept constantly on hand.

WE ARE AT ALL TIMES PREPARED TO BUY SUMAC, will pay cash, or trade, as desired.

THE HIGH PRICES RULING FOR Cotton Goods has compelled public attention to be more especially directed to the culture of Flax. It can be made by some attention, one of the most valuable products a farmer can produce; an acre readily producing 50 to 60 Dollars worth of flax and seed. Great care should be taken by growers to have their flax spread very thin when rotting; winter watered sufficiently on one side, it should be turned, and subject to exposure until the stalks get a grey color, and the list readily separates from the wood by a gentle rub.

It should on a very dry day be tied in bundles, and in then ready for the mill. As a general thing the seed is never so dry as sufficient. Unless the ground is very strong one and one fourth bushel is sufficient. Dec 16, 1864.
