WHAT EVERYBODY KNOWS, viz:—
That I ron well galvanized will not rust;—
That a wringer should be self-adjusting, durable, and efficient: fficient:
That Thumb-Screws and Fastenings cause delay and rouble to regulate and keep in order;
That wood soaked in hot water will swell, shrink and will not tear the cluthes;
That cog-wheel regulators are not essential;
That the Putnan Wringer has all the advantages, and not one of the disadvantages above named;
That all who have tested it, pronounce it the best
Wringer ever made;
That it will wring a Thread or a Bed Quilt without alteration.

SCHOOL BOOKS, That it will wring a Thread or a Bed quitt without atteration.

We might fill the paper with testimonials, but insert only a few to convince the skeptical, if such there be; and we say to all, test Putnam's Wringer. Test it thoroughly with any and all others, and if not entirely satis factory, return it.

Concyaneer. New Edition, published by J. B. Lippincott of Co., Philadelphia.

This work contains 204 pages, and upwards of 500 Rules and, Examples, entirely and theroughly practical, "uch as atrise overly day in the common pursuits of Business." It has already passed through a number of editions in rapid succession, and is pronounced by all classes of business men to be the handlest book of reference, pertaining to calculations, that has ever been published.

Every example in the book is worked out in full and stated in a plain mannor, so that when a phrallel cate artses, these referring to the work will find no. difficulty in solving it; in a word, the general arrangement of the CALOULATOR is simple, that any one who knows how to add, subtract, multiply and divide; can easily edite any ofture result of any estimate required.

The chief aim of the author has been to eschew theory and philosophy in figured, aiming only at facts and simplicity, belleving that business men care little about appading time in discussing the philosophy of Tude, or the science of figures, deeming it spificient for their, purpose to be able at a moment, by reference, to arrive at the trive result. The CALOULATOR differs in this respect from all other Arithmetics of the day and kindred works—il tokey to practical business calculations—it is, in the, hands of the business man, what the key to mathematical works in the hands of the seacher in the school; reconstitution of the state of the and insures correctness.
