New York, January, 1804.

We have tested Puman's Clothes Wringer by practical working, and know that it will do. It is cheap; it is simple; it require no room, whether at work or at rest; a child can operate it; it does its duty throughly; it waves time and it saves wear and tear. We carnestly advise all who have much washing to do, with all intelligent persons who have any, to buy this Wringer. It will pay for itself in a year at most.

PRACTICAL CALCULATOR. PRACTICAL CALCULATOR.

Concejunoer. New Edition, published by J. B. Lippincott & Co., Philadelphia.

This work contains 204 pages, and upwards of 500 Kulesand Examples, entirely and thoroughly practical. rela asarise overy day in the common pursuits of Business. It has already passed through a number of editions in residesuccession, and is pronounced by all classes of businessmen to be the handlest book of reference, pertaining tocalculations, that has ever been published.

Every example in the book is worked out in full andstated in a plain manner, so that when a parallel caseartses, these referring to the work will find no difficulty insolving it; in a word, the general arrangement of thoCALCULATOR is simple, that any one who knows how toadd, subtract, multiply and divide, can easily solve any ordinary example that arises in business, or arrive at it otrue result of any estimate required:

The chief aim of the author has been to eschew theory, and philosophy in figures, aiming only at facts and simplicity, believing that business men care little about spending time in discussing; the philosophy of rules, or the science of figures, deeming it sufficient for their purpose to be able at a moment, by reference, to arrive at the trueresult. The CALCULATOR differs in this respect from all other Arithmetics of the day and kindred works—if is a key to practical business calculations—it is, in the hands of the business man, what the key to mathematical works in the lands of the teacher in the school room—it faella tates time and insures correctness.
