Headquarters Co. D. 205th Regt., P. V., 2d Brig., 3d Div., 9th Army Corps, March 27th, 1865.

DEAR GLOBE.-I am happy to inform your many readers, especially the relations and friends of Company D, 205th P. V., that on the 25th inst., we fought our first regular pitched battle, and a more complete and fruitful victhan was won on the 25th day of tillery, at 3 o'clock A. M. without much opposition. After waiting about twenty minutes to ascertain the exact position of the enemy, we were ordered to charge and retake the Fort. The command was no sooner given than it was obeyed, and we charged with a will that so utterly surprised the rebels, that on our first appearance over the crest of the hill the rebels commenced their retreat, but so utterly demoralized ing, laughing, and joyful faces that met our eyes as the rebels came running nto our lines convinces me that the chivalry of the Southern soldiers is 'played out."

Inhabitants of Huntingdon County, Decker of my company captured a a rebel flag, also a rebel sword and belt; Wm. Decker shot the rebel flagbearer through the head; after refu sing to surrendor the flag; Private Al fred Baker, also captured a sword.

The casualties of my Company are very light. Lieut. D. Geissinger was wounded in the head by a minnie ball after the re-occupation of the fort. He was looking over the works showing a man where to shoot when he was struck. He is recovering rapidly, and refuses to leave the company, could scarcely be persuaded to leave the fort and the blood running down his face in streams. I was afraid he would never recover, but fortune still "favors the brave." Private Jacob Garner was very slightly wounded in the head which was the extent of our injuries Our entire killed did not exceed forty while the rebel killed amounted to at least three hundred. Enclosed find General Orders No. 12 from our Division General, which please publish with this communication. The rebellion is, "In articulo mortio."

THE HIGH PRICES RULING FOR Cotton Goods has compelled public attention to be more especially directed to the culture of Flax. It can be made by some attention, one of the most valuable products farmer can produce; an acre readily producing 50 to 60 Dollars worth of fibre and seed. Great care should be aken by growers ... have their Plax spread very thin when rolling; when watered sufficiently on one side, it should be turned, and subject to exposure until all the stalks get a grey color, and the lint readily separates
