The May frost we had last week damaged or destroyed many vines and fruit trees.

Burglars infest Lewistown, but as yet their attempts at robbery have proved unsuccessful.

There was an adjourned meeting of Court held on Friday last for the granting of tavern licenses.

The Good Templars having changed their time of meeting to Tuesday, the order will meet this evening.

An ornamental shed graces the front of the new wholesale and retail grocery of Africa & Son.

David Etnier has been appointed Postmaster at Mount Union. He was the one chosen out of several contestants.

Improvement is the order of the day in the once slumbering borough, and the result of industry and enterprise is making itself manifest in every quarter.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue has directed that photographers hereafter must attach revenue stamps upon cartes de visite.

Ebensburg had a copious snow-storm last week. Our place also got a snap of old winter the same week in the way of a heavy hoar frost on Tuesday morning.

Measures have been enforced in neighboring towns requiring citizens to keep the street in front of their residences cleared, cleanly and in order.

Our authorities should enforce the same duty, and thus improve the appearance of our thoroughfares.

During the month of April 1,860 emigrants passed over the Pennsylvania Railroad. This is an increase of 103 over the same period last year.

The total number since the first of January, is 5,213, which is an increase of 200 over the same period last year.

Prof. Coyle informs us that he has thirty-seven scholars in piano music. This may be taken as the number of pianos that adorn this town, of a population of about 2,500.

We would be pleased to hear and record the progress of the other organizations of this order throughout the county.

The Broad Top coal operators have ceased shipping the product over the railroad in consequence of the high demands of freight carriage.

The present charges for transportation of coal on the H. & B. T. R. R. is as follows: In H. & B. T. Cars, 2000 lbs, $1.10; in B cars for Reading and points beyond, 93 cents; in ditto for points in Lebanon Valley R. R. $1.10; in Penna. and other cars for way trade, $1. Three cents per ton, additional, is charged on coal from the three lower Switch Backs, and five cents per ton on the two upper Switch Backs, and from the new road on Six Mile Run.

The U. S. tax of two and a half per cent is added to all freight bills. These charges connected with those on the Pennsylvania Central has produced the suspension of shipment.

Prof. H. Coyle last week purchased one of the celebrated Pianos, manufactured by Steck & Co., New York, for his own and the use of his vast number of scholars, but when the instrument reached here, and before it was unboxed, one of our Reverend and most respectable citizens, depending upon the judgment of the Professor in making good selections of musical instruments, bought the same and had it removed to his house.

Prof. Coyle has been a resident of this place for six years or more, during which time he has been highly successful in his profession but never more so than now, as thirty-seven pupils from town alone will clearly indicate.

Taken for Booth. The following paragraph we clip from the Chambersburg Repository. Of the truthfulness of the statement we are ready to vouch, having dropped into the "barber shop," which, by the way, is on Railroad street, and heard the description given of the supposed Booth, and many speculations as to where he was and what he would do.

Not desiring to create any unnecessary excitement, we forbore saying anything in relation to it; but now time reveals the circumstance, and the story speaks for itself. We understand, so high was the excitement occasioned by the excited barber that he immediately went into the country to search for the supposed assassin, and obtain the high reward offered for his capture.

To tell the truth, the manner in which the story was told by the barber at the time, would have caused the most incredulous to believe him, and we are not surprised to hear that men went in search of him.

Our townsman J. Allison Eyster, Esq., narrowly escaped arrest in Huntingdon last week on the suspicion that he was the veritable J. W. Booth, the murderer of the President.

He had gone there on a visit to his brother-in-law, Hon. John Scott, and went into a barber shop to get shaved. He ordered the barber to shave off his mustache, which was done, and after the operation was performed Mr. Eyster walked out to the house of his relative.

As soon as he left the shop, the barber declared that he was Booth; that he knew Booth well and had shaved him in the oil regions. Of course an intense excitement was aroused. The news spread through the town with lightning speed. That Booth had been in the place. The hotels were all examined, but no such person had stopped at any of them, and suspicion was confirmed by the fact that the suspected individual must be somewhere about the town.

Mr. Eyster was not out of the house during the evening, and therefore ignorant of the excitement he had created; and it was not until the next morning when he appeared on the street with Mr. Scott, that the blunder was discovered.

Now that Booth has been captured and killed, we presume that Mr. Eyster will feel safe in venturing from home again.

At the last meeting of Standing Stone Lodge, No. 85, I. O. of G. T., the following officers were installed to serve for the present term:

Castilian Garden. Col. E. C. Summers has again opened his summer resort under the most favorable auspices. There are many additions to the beauty of the Garden, and it is well adapted to the gratification of any pleasurable desire.

The following item is one of peculiar bearing and interest to the boys in our midst, and it would be well for their welfare if they would heed it: "A pretentious boy's character is soon revealed by his boisterous speech, empty-headed whistling, noisy foot-steps, and noisy conduct in general."

Mrs. Peightal, of Woodcock valley, while in Henry's store on Saturday last, engaged in looking at goods, came in contact with the movable hatchway, and immediately descended to the lower floor.

Her right arm dislocated and her left hand injured. She was carried to Denn's hotel where medical attendance was ordered, and so far recovered as to leave for her home the same day.

We understand that the hatchway alluded to is a dangerous one, but we believe since this occurrence proper steps will be taken by the firm to prevent future mishaps.

Lines on the death of John Fletcher. 'Tis difficult to find the words to pen, Or yet describe the horrors of that rebel den, Where many thousands of our soldiers lie, Who started to death, or found a common grave.

Mr. Benson M. Grobner was the recipient of a handsome photograph album as a birthday present by the members of the Amateur Glee Club of this place, on Monday evening a week last, the eve of his birthday.

The United States Mint has commenced the coinage of the recently authorized three cent piece. It is about the size of an English sixpence, the color of lead, and much of that dull appearance.
