PRACTICAL BUSINESS EDUCATION. an9-9m All classes of parsons require such an education. Those possessing means, used it in conducting their coundustness those without means need it in obtaining and creditably filling lucrative positions in the employ of others.

The course of justruction and practice is arranged so as to fully meet the diversified wents of every department of DOMESTIC AND FOREIGN TRADE, comprehended or embraced under the three general decions of industry: Agriculture, Manufacture and Con visions of industry: Agriculture, manuscatte and commerce.

Each student is instructed individually in both theory and practice of Book Keeping, according to the most approved and labor saving methods, Business Penmanship, Calcinations, and all the collateral branches of a complete course of business education; and upon passing a satisfactory examination is awarded, by authority of law, a diploma, under the corporate s-al of the college.

Students are received at any time. And it is believed that a practical experience of over twenty trans will be considered by the public an ample gourantice of the practical character of the course and efficiency of the instruction. asil.
