Andrew Johnson.—The manner in which the faithful (?) Democracy sustain Mr. Johnson is really amusing. They claim him as all their own.—Only a day or two ago, a loud-mouthed "Democrat" remarked to us that he thought Andy Johnson was doing the fair thing. That he was carrying out the principles of the Democracy to a T.

Now that the war is over, and we have come out of it successfully (no thanks to the "Democrats") with President Johnson always on the side of loyalty and a permanent union of all the States, these cursed treason sneaks are endeavoring, by their support, to kill Mr. Johnson; but up to the present writing he has shown his good sense by keeping aloof from their machinations. Even if he had the will, he has the experience of Gen. McClellan in living letters before him. It took them only about six months to sink McClellan so deep in political infamy, that he will never again rise, even to the surface. Mr. Johnson has no desire to be placed in the same boat with Little Mack. He is, and always will be, a friend of universal freedom—a thing the "Democrats" despise. We are terribly mistaken if he should be so blind, after the confidence reposed in him by the loyal masses, and to be led away from his pure and honest motives. His past life would then be a lie. The game of the "Democracy" will not work. Andrew Johnson is no friend to either an open or a secret enemy of his country.

LIBERTY TO ALL.—Secretary Seward has issued a document stating that the Amendment to the Constitution in relation to the abolishment of Slavery, has been ratified by the necessary number of States. The amendment has become a part of the Constitution of the United States. The American Nation is now truly a free one, and the taunts of many upon our inconsistency in this particular will cease upon a knowledge of this fact. The voice of liberty will be heard throughout all the land. The curse of slavery is forever removed, and, like the rebellion, has passed away; but we yet mourn the effects of the evil. It is a pleasing consciousness that while slavery is dead, the Nation survives the shock of the great revolution it was the means of producing; and now that the evil is past, the nation will live untrammelled by its corrupting and distracting elements. Long live the free Republic!

A REPORT FROM GEN. GRANT.—This hero has sent a report to President Johnson which gives some information as to what he observed in his recent tour of inspection through several of the Southern States. We make the following extracts from the same: "The following are the conclusions come to by me: I am satisfied that the mass of the thinking men of the South accept the present situation of affairs in good faith. The questions which have heretofore divided the sentiments of the people of the two sections—slavery and State rights, or the right of a State to secede from the Union—they regard as having been settled forever by the highest tribunal (army) that man can resort to. I did not meet any one, either those holding places under the Government, or citizens of the Southern States, who think it practicable to withdraw the military from the South at present.—The white and the black mutually require the protection of the General Government.

It is not the thinking portion who would use violence towards any class of troops sent among them by the General Government, but the ignorant in some places might; and the late slave seems to be imbued with the idea that the property of his late master should be right before him, at least should have no protection from the colored soldier. There is danger of collision being brought on by such causes.

In some instances, the freedman's mind does not seem to be disabused of the idea that the freedman has the right to live without care or provision for the future. The effect of the belief in the division of lands in idleness and accumulation in camps, towns and cities. In such cases I think it will tend to the extermination or great reduction of the colored race.
